HONOLULU (T. H.) Jan. 5.—Heavy Japanese reinforce[illegible] have been rushed to Irkutsk to aid the forces of Admiral [illegible] there, according to a cable from Tokio to the Nippu [illegible] a Japanese daily newspaper, here.

TOKIO, Jan. 5.—[Exclusive Cable.] Regarding London reports that a [illegible] has been reached among the Allies which gives Japan a [illegible] in Western Siberia the Japanese Foreign Office states that it has [illegible] from Ambassador Shidehara at Washington intimating such ne[illegible] are concluded. The Foreign Office has no substantiation of what [illegible] "London gossip." The Foreign Office states the Premier's state[illegible] given Frazier Hunt of the Chicago Tribune foreign staff may be re[illegible] as Japan's pronouncement regarding its designs toward Siberia.

TOKIO, Dec. 16.—[Correspondence of the Associated Press.] Following a police investigation of the activities of Russians in Japan, the [illegible] has ordered the deportation of Maj.-Gen. Potapov, who was [illegible] attache to the Russian Legation in Korea during the Russo-Japa[illegible] War, and Bantolev, formerly publisher of a newspaper at Vladivostok. The Japanese newspapers said that Gen. Potapov was known as a [illegible] opponent of the Omsk government, and Bantolev's newspaper [illegible] owing to its implacable opposition to the Kolchak regime. It is [illegible] that the deportations were ordered because both men were [illegible] of engaging in Bolshevik propaganda in Japan.

Potapov issued a statement [illegible] he possessed information [illegible] Bagsaf and Lebedeb, who [illegible] at Omsk as special [illegible] representing Gen. It is said that the proposed laws have been favored by the Treaty Revision Committee and that they will include the removal of the prohibition against foreign-owned steamers engaging in Japanese coastal trade. At the present time foreign steamers can carry neither freight nor passengers between Japanese ports, but it is now planned to extend this privilege to vessels of those countries which grant a similar right to Japanese ships.

MANY DIE IN EARTHQUAKE.

Mexican Temblor, Radiating from Orizaba Volcano, has Wide Path of Ruin.

The shock came during a performance at the theater at Orizaba, and panic-stricken people leaped from the balconies into the pit. No one was killed, but many were injured. Fifteen shocks were experienced at Cordoba, a city ten miles east of Orizaba, where eleven were distinctly felt. First reports received here stated that the tremor centered at Acambaro, a town near Teluca, about twenty-five miles southwest of Mexico City, but more recent advices stated the shocks were not severe there.

While telegrams last night from the State of Vera Cruz, where the earthquake was more severe, stated that scores had perished, accurate estimates of the casualties cannot be made as yet.

RECORDED IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The earthquake which rocked Mexico Saturday night and early Sunday morning was the most severe recorded by the seismograph at Chicago University in several months, C. A. Donnell, government meteorologist, reported today. Mr. Donnell computed the center of the disturbance at 1300 miles from Chicago.

LIGHT RAIN COVERS NORTH COUNTIES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—A light rain that fell during the night in Northern California was followed today by clear, cold weather. The rainfall did not reach into the San Joaquin Valley and averaged about a tenth of an inch throughout the Sacramento Valley. About ten inches of new snow is reported from the summit station in the Sierras. The State is still badly in arrears in regard to seasonal rainfall, the total amount to date being less than half of normal in most districts.

Last night's rainfall figures follow:

BILL WOULD ADMIT MEXICAN LABORERS.

HUDSPETH INTRODUCES CONCURRENT RESOLUTION IN FAVOR OF BORDER STATES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Mexican laborers for ranch and agricultural purposes would be admitted to the States of California, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona until January 1, 1921, under terms of a concurrent resolution today introduced by Representative Hudspeth of the El Paso district, after a conference with officials of the Department of Labor. Until the first of this year the Department of Labor as a war measure admitted Mexicans of the class mentioned, but did not feel that the rules could be relaxed for a longer term without the sanction of Congress.

Mr. Hudspeth explained that the border States are in need of laborers and that they cannot be obtained on this side of the border. The admissions, if granted, will be under the same or similar rules and regulations of the department which governed the admissions for war purposes.

SHIPPER WINS RIGHT FOR CASE REHEARING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—A rehearing of the action whereby he secured damages of but $12,000 from the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company for its failure to deliver an ocean-going carrier according to contract, whereas he had asked for $700,000, was granted Frank Helm, a San Francisco shipping man, by U. S. District Judge Van Fleet here today.

Helm held that in 1917 he had contracted to charter the company's steamer Floridion for the shipment of cargoes between San Francisco and the Far East, but the company not only refused to abide by the contract, but put the vessel on the same run which he had contemplated.

SURRENDER BY BIG BILL.

Haywood Bailed by Parlor Socialist.

Head of I.W.W. Charged with Violating New Syndicalism Law.

Soviet "Ambassador" Martens's Chief of Staff is Taken in Custody.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, general secretary of the I.W.W., released from Leavenworth penitentiary some time ago on bond, surrendered to State's Attorney Hoyne today to answer to a charge of violating the new State law against syndicalism.

Haywood and his lawyer were accompanied by William B. Lloyd, millionaire "parlor Socialist," who offered property valued at $40,000 for Haywood's bond. Bond was set at $10,000 and furnished by Lloyd.

Haywood had been sought since New Year's Eve, when Hoyne began a round-up of suspected radicals, twenty-four hours before the nation-wide Red raids started.

RESUME RAIDS IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The sweeping raids against Reds by Federal agents, which netted nearly 700 prisoners last Friday night, were resumed at 7:30 tonight, when ten large automobiles and two army transport wagons left the local headquarters of the Department of Justice to round up Communists and other sedition mongers who escaped the first dragnet. Chief Flynn announced later that the New York raids were part of another nation-wide sweep which he expected to bring important results as the raids on thirty-three cities conducted last Friday.

With the arrest on deportation warrant of Gregory Weinstein, "chief of staff of soviet Russia's "ambassador," L. C. A. K. Martens, the Department of Justice announced tonight. It was "hunting big game" in its effort to rid the country of the most dangerous alien anarchists plotting the overthrow of the government by violence.

FRIEND OF TROTZKY.

Rated as Trotzky's "best friend" here, and a co-worker with him on the Russian language radical paper, Novy Mir, Weinstein's position in the soviet ranked virtually cn a par with Martens, it was stated.

Victor Wilson, former manager of the Novy Mir, said to have been another co-worker with Trotzky, was swept into the dragnet late today and sent to Ellis Island in the wake of Weinstein. Neither of the two would talk.

Attempts to obtain release from Ellis Island of many of the radicals held there started today, attorneys applying for writs of habeas corpus.

GO AFTER "NOVY MIR."

The joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities in New York descended again today on the foreign language radical press, including the Novy Mir, Communist. Elders and Rabinik, to seize everything in the way of evidence overlooked in the raids Saturday night. In all instances the safes were opened and their contents taken for examination. At the Rabitnik office, committee agents had to drill their way into the safe.

NAVAL PRISON HEAD NAMED IN SCANDAL.

Commandant T. M. Osborne.

DEPRAVITY CHARGE AT PORTSMOUTH IS GRAVE

EMBEZZLEMENT, VISITS OF GIRLS AND INTIMACY WITH COMMANDANT ALLEGED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTSMOUTH (N. H.) Jan. 5.—Serious charges involving the conduct of affairs at the naval prison at the Portsmouth navy yard, in which both inmates and officials are accused, including Lieutenant-Commander Thomas Mott Osborne, the commandant, are the result of an investigation by Department of Justice officials.

The charges embrace allegations of depravity, use of stolen property and misappropriation of funds. Among other things it is alleged that a fund, which included Liberty Loan investments of prisoners totaling nearly $9000, was intrusted to a trusty, who, it is asserted, embezzled the money. The trusty, so it is alleged, was friendly to the commandant of the prison.

Trusties are said to have been allowed to have girl friends visit them on Sunday evenings and on certain occasions other entertainment is allowed. A short time ago a whisky still was found in a vacant room at the prison and it was said that the men who enjoyed the home brew were not punished.

CHAOS IS CAUSED BY MANY RESIGNATIONS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 5.—Chaos reigns in Santa Barbara's officialdom. This afternoon three new Councilmen, elected by the members, took their seats and voted to accept the resignation of City Manager Robert A. Craig. City Engineer Cook becomes temporary Manager by reason of having served as such last summer during the temporary absence of the Manager, but in order to take the higher position he must resign as engineer. The fire chief, city physician and one member of the board of health resigned, effective today, and their positions are unfilled, as are two positions on the Board of Education and on the park board.

WOMEN GET WELCOME.

Ask Equal Share in G.O.P. Rule.

Propose Ten Planks for Republican Platform at Chicago Conference.

Gen. Wood and Gov. Lowden Make Addresses to Delegates at Banquet.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Republican women from fourteen midwest States, conferring today on party plans and issues for the 1920 Presidential campaign, demanded equal representation with them en on the National Committee of the party and urged "a fair representation of women delegates from each State in the national convention.

Many of the women professed to see an immediate indorsement of their attitude in the speech of Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, at a banquet tonight.

"The Republican party offers the women everything we offer the men," he said. "Republican women come into the party not as women but as voters, entitled to participate and participating as other voters. They are not to be separated or segregated, but assimilated and amalgamated."

FOR DOUBLE MEMBERSHIP.

The women proposed that the coming national convention "take action to double the membership" of the National Committee, that "each State be represented by one man and one woman member." They urged that this become "the policy of the party in all party committees, both State and local."

The women adopted ten suggested planks for the Republican platform. These included recommendations for "direct citizenship for women, not citizenship through marriage," and laws making possible naturalization of married women.

The women also favored "national and State legislation for regulation and abolition of child labor." Another section asked States and nation to establish the eight-hour day and forty-four-hour week for women in industry, with statutory provision for a day of rest each week.

Permanent establishment of the women's bureau of the Department of Labor, a national employment service and equal opportunities for women through the civil service also were sponsored.

PLATFORM PLANKS.

Other planks were:

A new policy by the Federal Board of Vocational Education "to insure for women equal opportunities with men in trade and technical education."

Appointment of women mediators on all Federal labor boards to deal with industries employing women.

Compulsory education in all States for children between 6 and 16 years of age, with provision for "thorough education in citizenship of all our youth."

The women's stand on all these questions was reflected in short talks which several leaders made at tonight's banquet. The affair was given by the State Central Committee in honor of Chairman Hays and the chairman of the women's division of the National Committee, Mrs. John Glover South.

Among the speakers were Gov. Lowden of Illinois and Maj.-Gen. Wood.

There was a meeting today of the committee in charge of arrangements for the national convention. The two affairs attracted a big gathering of party leaders and the local campaign headquarters of Gov. Lowden, Gen. Wood and Senator Harding of Ohio hummed with activity. A dozen State committeemen who attended the convention arrangements session were guests of Fred W. Upham of Chicago, formerly treasurer of the National Committee, tonight.

HAYS TO DES MOINES.

Chairman Hays left after the banquet for Des Moines, where he will attend tomorrow a meeting of Iowa Republicans. Thence he goes to Denver, January 8 and 9, and San Francisco January 12 and 13, for further regional conferences.

Two unofficial visitors who attracted attention today were Frank L. Hitchcock, Postmaster-General in the Roosevelt Cabinet, and Frank B. Willis, formerly Governor of Ohio. The former said he was in Chicago "on business." Mr. Willis gave out a statement indorsing the candidacy of Senator Harding.

Chairman Will Hays announced during the day that a committee of sixty on policies and platform would be appointed next Monday in San Francisco. The committee will draft the platform to be submitted to the national convention here in June.

The Committee on Arrangements for the national convention elected Edward P. Thayer of Indianapolis as sergeant-at-arms for the June gathering. He was first assistant four years ago to the late Col. William F. Stone and also is sergeant-at-arms of the national committee.

PLAN FOR CONVENTION.

The committee voted formally to rent the Coliseum after Ernest Graham, architect, reported that 1020 more seats could be added to the big auditorium. These will make the seating capacity 13,187, as against 12,127 in 1916. The Chicago Convention Committee was authorized to lease the big hall, contract for the alterations and arrange for offices and committee rooms in the Coliseum annex. These latter are to be ready for occupancy thirty days before the convention meets.

The Arrangements Committee listened to a delegation from the Hotel

BULLETIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 5.—Dispatches received here this evening confirm earlier reports of numerous fatalities and damage to property over wide areas as a result of Saturday night's earthquake.

The bodies of twenty-five men and women were recovered Monday from the River Rio Grande at Riuconala, State of Vera Cruz, according to a message received here.

FIGHT ON CLASSICAL LANGUAGES IS BITTER.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA MOVEMENT IS MET WITH ANTAGONISM OF MODERNISTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—A movement started in Southern California to have Greek and Latin re-established and given a place of prominence in the language courses prescribed for high schools promises to meet with stubborn resistance from the State school authorities.

Teachers of Riverside county are back of the movement. In a communication received by Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, it is announced their organization of several hundred members has gone on record as favoring continued teaching of these ancient languages.

Among other things, it is claimed Latin is an aid in the study of English and a plea is made that the Board of Education should be prevailed upon to reinstate both Latin and Greek in the high school curriculum. In explanation of the matter, Wood states that as far as he knows there are only three high schools in California which are still teaching Greek. And these schools all are in the larger cities. The study of Latin, he said rapidly is being displaced by modern languages, such as French and Spanish.

While he refrained from passing judgment, Wood indicated he is well satisfied with present conditions and the action of high schools in drifting away from the ancient languages.

A. C. Olney, commissioner of secondary schools, is outspoken in his opposition to the plan of the Riverside teachers.

"I believe that the study of Greek and Latin is entirely unnecessary," said Olney. "In the study of modern languages, such as French and Spanish, the student learns something of benefit and advantage. Besides, he has the knowledge of knowing that his subject is alive."

A similar position is taken by E. R. Snyder, State commissioner of vocation and industrial education, who declares he is opposed to the teaching of any subject that offers no practical benefits to the student.

"What we want to do in the schools," he says, "is to go forward—not backward."

COL. HOUSE GOING HOME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Col. E. M. House, who has virtually recovered from the illness from which he was suffering when he returned from Paris after having served at the Peace Conference, will leave for his home in Austin, Tex., the latter part of this week for further rest. In a statement today he explained that his trip had no political significance.

WILSON TO KEEP GRIP.

Announces Jackson Day Message.

"Important Communication" Intended to Demonstrate His Leadership.

Not Believed to be Final Word on Vital Issue of Candidacy.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Announcement at the White House today that President Wilson will send an "important communication" to the Democratic leaders from all parts of the country assembled at the twin-Jackson Day dinners here next Thursday threw the Jeffersonians into a rare state of commotion.

The announcement upset the calculations of more than one group of Democrats maneuvering for advantage in the contest for the nomination for President. Among the leaders arriving tonight for the meeting of the Democratic National Committee the one big theme is speculation concerning what the President is going to say in his mysterious message and what was the purpose of making the announcement today.

Secretary Tumulty, who gave out the news after his morning talk with the President, already has denied that in whatever message he sends to the Jackson Day dinner the President will renounce any intention of seeking renomination for a third term. Few Democratic leaders believe that Mr. Wilson intends to announce his candidacy to succeed himself, but on this question Mr. Tumulty is silent.

MAY BE ON TREATY.

The general opinion among the politicians is that the President will devote the matter of his hostile reticidacy "up in the air" in his message to the Jackson Day dinner, while at the same time indicating conditions which might cause him to seek vindication in a re-election.

The opinion also is prevalent that a message which the President considers "important" doubtless will deal with the unravelled treaty of peace with Germany and its League of Nations covenant. It is surmised that Mr. Wilson, in whatever he has to say to the Jeffersonians, will deliver a smashing blow at the forces responsible for the failure of the peace treaty in the last session of

FORM BIG JAP LAND FIRM.

Investment Company, Capitalized at $100,000, to Own Hotels and Theaters.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—Articles of incorporation of the Lafayette Investment Company, a Japanese corporation of Stockton, capitalized at $100,000, today were filed with Secretary of State Jordan. It is the largest Japanese corporation that has been formed in many months.

According to the articles, the company is formed for the purpose of engaging in the stock-raising, hotel and theatrical business and also to buy and sell land.

The Harry Farm Company of Mountain View, Santa Clara county, a Japanese land-owning corporation, also filed articles of incorporation today. The company has a capital stock of $10,000.

GUARDIAN CASE UP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VISALIA, Jan. 5.—Decisions in the cases of five Japanese who obtained guardianship papers for their minor children were reserved here today by Superior Judges Wallace and Allen, sitting en banc. The Japanese are cited to show cause why their guardianships should not be terminated because of alleged negligence in submitting reports.

Dist.-Atty. Middlecoff asked that the guardianships be concluded on the ground that they conflict with California anti-alien laws, Albert H. Elliott of Oakland, counsel for the California Japanese Association, aided personal atorneys of the guardians, and opposed Middlecoff's participation in the case because he contended the State was not a party to the proceedings. His objection was overruled.

The State attorney contended the practice of Japanese obtaining guardianship for minor children and then purchasing land in their offspring's name, was illegal and a violation of the State law.

Judges Wallace and Allen announced they would hand down a joint opinion soon.

SEES JAPS AS PERIL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 5.—In a dictated statement published here today, U. S. Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, sees a grave menace to this nation in the rapid advance of Japan in a military way. Senator and Mrs. Reed are visiting relatives here.

"I have never been alarmed at the cry of the Japanese danger, but I say with all the solemnity of which I am capable that the League of Nations covenant, plus the conditions of the German peace treaty have placed Japan in a position which in a few years may enable her to menace our western coast, and actually to endanger our possessions in the Pacific," says the Senator's statement, which follows a brief review of conditions in the Orient as

ANOTHER DUBLIN MYSTERY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—"There was another mysterious affair in Phoenix Park shortly after midnight Sunday," says a Central News dispatch from Dublin. "A volley of shots was heard in the park. Then all was quiet for twenty-five minutes, when a fusillade started and lasted for several minutes. It apparently came from the direction of the magazine of the fort near the Viceregal Lodge.

"It also is stated that from then until dawn the park was scoured by armored cars with bright searchlights. No official explanation is given."

EXPENDITURES IN STATE INCREASED

First Half of Fiscal Year Shows Extravagance.

Bills Exceed Previous Period by $5,714,194.

Receipts Show Gain of but Two Million Dollars.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—State expenditures for the six months' period ending December 31, 1919, (first half of seventy-first fiscal year) were $31,895,814.92, according to a statement today by State Controller Chambers, and exceeded expenditures for the first half of the seventieth fiscal year by $5,714,194.82.

At the same ratio, total expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30 next will be in round numbers $63,000,000, Controller Chambers said. Grand total of expenditures for the seventieth fiscal year, which ended last June, amounted to $56,681,-432.48.

SUPPORT OF SCHOOLS.

In the last six months the State contributed to the support of elementary schools $4,648,072.50, and to high schools $572,466.60, according to this report. For support of the State university warrants were drawn amounting to $1,294,259.70.

Receipts for the first half of this fiscal year totaled $35,190,886.08, as against collections amounting to $33,159,761.66 for a like period of the previous fiscal year.

In expenditures for the first half of the present fiscal year are included $4,789,449.81, representing investments by funds in bonds, purchase of Liberty and highway bonds and interest payment of bonded indebtedness. Likewise are included State reclamation district warrants totaling $1,458,979.13 and warrants of this character purchased by the State and redeemable later in cash, $175,534.90; also payments to counties as their share of motor vehicle department's collections, $1,782,-481.70.

CHAMBERS EXPLAINS.

"Items of this sort are included in expenditures," Controller Chambers said, "because the money derived from these sources is included in the State's receipts. INQUIRY IN WAR MEDALS WIDENS.

Army as Well as Navy Awards to be Investigated.

House has Two Resolutions Calling for Real Data.

Daniels, Sims and Knight may Have to Testify.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Investigation of the awarding of medals by both the war and navy departments was asked in resolutions presented today in the House.

Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts introduced a resolution directing Secretary of War Baker to transmit to the House all information relating to the awarding of distinguished service medals both to army officers, enlisted men and civilians. Names of officers constituting boards which sat either abroad or in this country to make these recommendations are requested.

Representative Lufkin of Massachusetts presented his resolution calling upon Secretary of the Navy Daniels to furnish the House with complete information relative to the awarding of medals. Mr. Lufkin said he would urge the Committee of Naval Affairs, of which he is a member, at its next meeting to appoint a subcommittee to sit with the committee in an inquiry of the entire controversy.

SENATE HAS DATA.

Information similar to that sought under the Lufkin resolution already has been furnished the Senate committee. It calls for a complete list of officers and men recommended to receive distinguished service medals and navy crosses by admirals, captains and other commanding officers, together with the specific acts on which the recommendations were made, the complete report of the Knight board and the changes and substitutions made by Secretary Daniels.

"This resolution is introduced in no unfriendly spirit, nor with an idea of criticising or embarrassing the Secretary of the Navy," said Mr. Lufkin. "It simply calls for the facts in possession of the Navy Department incident to the awarding of these medals. The great publicity which newspapers have given to the controversy between the Secretary on the one hand and Admiral Sims and other naval officers on the other, as to the method of procedure followed in the selection of the officers and men entitled to these awards, has aroused great public interest. The public wants to know the facts in the matter. This is all my resolution calls for.

WILL GET FACTS.

"Moreover, the American Congress, which passed the laws creating these various awards, is also entitled to be completely advised as to the officers and men entitled to receive them and the specific acts performed in each instance. I believe that the information requested in this resolution, supplemented by an investigation by the two naval committees of Congress, will give to the country the facts desired.

"I shall urge the House Naval Committee at its first meeting this week to authorize the appointment of a subcommittee of its members to sit jointly with a like subcommittee from the Senate Naval Committee and go thoroughly into the whole medal question. I believe this joint committee should hear Secretary Daniels, Admiral Knight, Admiral Sims and other officers familiar with the proceedure followed in the awarding of these medals."

HAYS INVITES WOMEN TO FULL FELLOWSHIP.

SAYS REPUBLICANS OFFER RIGHT OF POLITICAL SELF-DETERMINATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Chairman Hays, in his speech at the Republican banquet tonight, said, in part:

"The only just rule for a political party is that the rights of participation in the management of the party's affairs must be and remain equally sacred and sacredly equal. The Republican women in the country constitute one-half of the party's membership. In many States this has long been so. In the Presidential campaign of 1920 it is my very earnest hope and well-founded judgment that it shall be so everywhere.

SELF-DETERMINATION.

"To women and men alike the party offers the right of a political self-determination, and this is the answer to the query, 'What does the party stand for?' Within the Republican party there is and must be full political self-determination. It is entirely up to the party membership to say what the party's purpose shall be, what its policies shall become. This fundamentally is what we offer the women—the chance to express themselves.

"Party programme must always be subject to amendment and change by the responsible living thought, expressed within the party by men and women alike. Through it all, however, must run the supreme motive, and in the Republican party that supreme motive is and always shall be the honest, patriotic, intelligent effort to promote and safeguard the best interests of the republic and its citizens.

TWO PARTIES NEEDED.

"There must be in this country two political parties and both must be strong and virile. I do not ask that all women become Republicans. To which party you belong is of less consequence than that you belong to some party, that you seek the truth, find it and then act, and act continually. I would rather a woman join our opponents than belong to no party.

"One of the first truths most important for this large group of new voters to realise is that their efforts for right things in government can be made effective only through organization. Then let individual membership in the party give that attention to the party's affairs, which is due the the instrument through which and only through which all individuals can apply their patriotism in actual participation in governmental affairs."

treasurer of Novy Mir, in contempt of the committee for refusing to answer questions. Dr. Misleg also was treasurer of the Russian Socialist Federation until his examination by the committee. This federation was engaged in spreading soviet propaganda through its 11,000 members throughout the country. Misleg admitted.

Proof the United States was included in the conspiracy of the Lenine-Trotsky regime to disrupt the currency of the world by flooding the Allied nations with counterfeit money, has been revealed in documents seized in the Red raids, according to Federal agents. The money is said to have been smuggled into the country by way of Mexico and many counterfeit $50 and $100 bills have been discovered. Counterfeit Liberty Bonds also are declared to have been manufactured.

WILL BE LONG FIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The government's campaign to rid the nation of more than 3000 aliens, members of the Communist and Communist Labor parties arrested in recent raids, promises to be a lengthy fight, Department of Justice officials declared tonight. With the radicals fortified by strong legal talent, and a "slush fund" to finance their opposition to deportation, and the immigration service inadequately supplied either with the men or means necessary to handle the situation, the help of Congress was considered necessary by officials.

Anthony Caminetti, commissioner-general of immigration, appealed to the House Appropriations Committee today for funds to allow expansion of his force to deal with the details of deportation proceedings. The commissioner asked for at least ten more lawyers.

Officials also explained that throughout the country the work of perfecting cases against the radicals held would be slow because of the small number of immigration inspectors. Added to this was the fact that the radicals have been instructed to make use of every form of delay known.

The problem of prison facilities engaged attention of officials of both the Department of Justice and immigration authorities, as Ellis Island, New York, is overcrowded.

NEED WESTERN CAMP.

Secretary Baker announced he had instructed Maj.-Gen. Bullard, commanding the department of the east, to provide a detention camp for use of the Department of Justice. It was understood this would be Camp Upton. Officials believed a second camp might also be necessary as a concentration point. This would be in the Middle West, it was stated.

Federal agents in the border districts were instructed to guard closely against attempts of the radicals to escape into Mexico. It was apparent officials had information that the Reds were in flight in many sections. Only three or four such attempts have been made since the raids started Friday.

More arrests are planned in Chicago, New York, Detroit and Boston, and several smaller eastern cities. Federal agents have trailed many persons said to be Red ringleaders and tonight the arrest of several of these was considered only a matter of hours.

Reports of more arrests dribbled into the department today.

Although nearly 5000 persons have been arrested the since the latest radical raid was started last Friday night, Department of Justice agents over the country today still were seeking members of the Communist and Communist Labor organizations who thus far had escaped the general dragnet.

Apparently, New York and Chicago were the chief centers of activity. Several hundred warrants were yet to be served in the metropolis.

Nearly 3000 of those arrested have been held for deportation proceedings and because of the congestion now at Ellis Island, all of them cannot be concentrated there.

Congress had before it today the request of Atty.-Gen. Palmer that it take prompt action on a bill proposed by him several months ago and designed to enable the government to deal with citizens found to be engaged in radical activities. There is no Federal law under which they can be dealt with.

Hundreds of citizens were taken in the raids Friday and Saturday and these must be turned over to the State authorities for trial.

PITTSBURGH LIST GROWS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—The number of alleged radicals being held here for deportation proceedings was increased to twenty-three today when Federal agents arrested two men at Braddock, near here. They are being held for further investigation.

PORTLAND, Jan. 5.—Evidence against forty citizens taken in the recent raids on alleged radicals here will be presented tomorrow to the county grand jury, according to announcement today by Walter H. Evans, District Attorney. All forty, according to Evans, are members of the Communist Labor party, whose literature proclaim it hostile to the Federal government.

VON BRINCKEN TO GO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Jan. 5.—Alex Fulton, inspector of immigration, has obtained a warrant for the rearrest and deportation of Wilhelm von Brincken when he is released from the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, it was announced today.

Von Brincken, who was convicted in San Francisco in 1917 under a charge of conspiracy, will be released Friday, it is expected, when a hearing on his pauper's oath is held. He took the oath a month ago to evade payment of a $10,000 fine, which was given in addition to two years in prison.

Mr. Fulton said today that Von Brincken will be taken to Seattle following his rearrest and will be detained there until a party of undesirable aliens is made up for deportation to Europe. Von Brincken, he said, will be sent back to Germany.

COMMUNIST SUSPECTS TO GET A HEARING.

IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENT MAY ORDER DEPORTATION OF LAWLESS RUSSIANS.

Hearing of the suspected Russian Communists arrested last Friday evening as the result of the nation-wide round-up ordered by the Washington authorities, with a view to ascertaining whether or not they are subjects for deportation under the immigration law, will begin today before A. E. Burnett, immigration inspector in charge. It is expected that some time will be occupied by the proceedings, as it takes on the character of a regular trial. The evidence taken is sent to Washington, and if the circumstances warrant, an order of deportation is made.

Of the nine men and women in the clutches of the law, the most are Russians, the remainder natives of Lithuania, a province of Russia. They are all members, it asserted, of what is known as the Communist party and the Communist Labor party, originally organized in Petrograd about five years ago. In possession of several defendants were found copies of proclamations, officials orders, etc., showing the alliance of the defendants with the parent organization, the Federal officials say.

The first case to be taken up this morning will be that of Benjamin Ling and his wife, Agnes Ling, and against them a mass of evidence has been prepared.

H. J. Ryckman has been retained as attorney for Fred Aspan, John Durin and his wife, Natalie D. Durin, and Richard Grundmann and wife. He stated yesterday that his clients are willing to return to Russia, their native land, if they are not wanted here, and even would make the trip at their own expense.

It is understood that as soon as the pending cases are disposed of that an additional number of arrests will be made, involving other undesirable aliens, who have become affiliated with the organizations pledged to the overthrow of orderly government.

Much of the documentary evidence to be used on the pending hearing will be sent from Washington by special agents of the Department of Justice.

AWARD BY INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION REVERSED.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS ESPEE LINEMAN KILLED IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Supreme Court today set aside awards by the California Industrial Commission against the Southern Pacific Company growing out of the death of William T. Butler, a lineman, at Oakland, Cal. It reversed a California Supreme Court opinion.

Reversal by the U. S. Supreme Court of the workmen's compensation claims of the family of Butler against the Southern Pacific Company means that thousands of workmen on the lines of that company have no accident redress through the State workmen's compensation law, but must appeal to the Federal courts, executives of the State Industrial Accident Commission held here today.

Butler was electrocuted on a company pole in Oakland in 1917. Compensation was allowed by the Industrial accident commission and upheld by the State Supreme Court. The company resisted, on the ground that Butler was working on a line supplying power to local trains which sometimes carried holdcrs of interstate transportation, and that Butler's appeal, therefore, should be to the Federal courts. The Supreme Court upheld this claim.

The decision means that all employees of local lines, which at times carry holders of interstate tickets are technically employed in interstate commerce and have no rights under the State compensation law.

TUCSON TEACHERS IN SCHEME TO UNIONIZE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 3.—Unionizing of the teaching force of the Tucson public schools is a subject that is receiving much attention from the educators. The city is operated on a closed-shop basis within the trades and the union leaders see no reason why the same idea should not be extended to teachers.

The plan is backed to a degree by School Superintendent Nims and several of his principals, but President Von Kleinsmid of the university says:

"Were a teachers' union the only way, or even the best way, to accomplish what should be brought about in order that the teaching profession may come into its own, we could have only words of commendation for the movement, but where the dangers to the profession loom so large as they do in unionizing, a movement to unionize is likely not only to delay for a long time the coming of the results sought, but, in attempting to hold a present advantage, may lose a greater reward that must come within a short time through other methods."

New express rates have been given between Tucson and Casa Grande, reducing the rates to those heretofore enjoyed only by Phoenix, which has a transfer at Maricopa to mainline trains, while the haul from Tucson is direct.

A strange poison weed has appeared on the cattle range around Patagonia, believed stimulated by the unusually heavy fall rains. It is asserted that it is not a southwestern variety of loco weed. Application has been made to the Department of Agriculture for a plant expert to identify the weed.

DECLARE WAR ON DOGS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Jan. 3.—Death is the portion these days for every dog with a distemper, for rabies has been prevalent to a large degree among the dogs of Globe and Miami. One canine raider ran amuck down Broad street in Globe, biting three persons before it could be slain. The brain, sent to El Paso, was found to have unmistakable signs of rabies, so Dolph Batts, a local merchant, has gone to El Paso for the Pasteur treatment, a journey also taken by a colored porter. A third person bitten will rely upon treatment here.

Clarence Duncan of Miami, bitten several weeks ago, has returned from El Paso, apparently well.

LINED UP WITH MOTHER CHURCH

New York Christian Scientists Take Firm Stand.

Plan Strategy in Battle with Publishing Society.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Action has been taken by the trustees of the First Church of Christ Scientist of New York City for the appointment of a committee of three to determine what action shall be taken in support of the mother church in Boston in its controversy with the trustees of the publishing society.

At a meeting Friday night delegates from twenty-four of the churches in this locality resolved to stand by the mother church. The committee to be named, it is believed, will be composed of two men and one woman, and their procedure will be suggested by the court action that is to come in the next few days in this fight, which has brought about a vital situation in the church.

Within the next week the master, appointed to review the dispute, will make his recommendation to the judge, who named him and then the question will be settled as to whether the injunction against the church trustees is to be made permanent.

SITUATION ACUTE.

Should the injunction be made permanent the situation will be even more acute. The trustees, who are a self-perpetuating body, will be enabled to conduct the publishing society without any instructions or suggestions from the board of directors of the mother church.

The resolutions adopted Friday night state that "many members of the mother church have lost confidence in the present trustees of the publication society" which, in the event of a permanent injunction, apparently would indicate that the trustees who are in charge of all the literature on Christian Science would pursue their own course, while the board of directors would have no say at all in the matter.

Moreover, the injunction restrains the directors from publishing Christian Science material, and in the event of the injunction becoming permanent, the anomalous situation would be created of an organization conducting the affairs of the church proper and an independent body issuing all the literature of the church.

Should the injunction be dissolved, it is apparent from conversations with persons representing the directors that the latter would immediately reconstruct the entire organization of the publishing society, thus having the board of directors of the mother church directing all church effort.

BACK MOTHER CHURCH.

It was said at the meeting on Friday night that fully 90 per cent of the members of the Christian Science churches are solidly back of the board of directors and, if a viva voce vote indicates anything, the chorus of ayes was like a thunderstorm compared with the weak noes from the dissenters. Most of the members, it is contended, believe that the directors in whom is vested the task of conducting the church should control all the literature which deals with Christian Science teachings.

The publishing society does a business of $4,000,000 a year.

"Any doubt as to the attitude of the Christian Scientists of New York City, relative to the injunction brought by the trustees of the Christian Science publishing society on March 25 last, against the board of directors of the mother church was completely dispelled at the mass meeting held in the First Church of Christ Scientist Friday evening," said Albert F. Gilmore of the Christian Science Committee on Publication yesterday. This committee speaks for the directors and general church work.

LABORITE'S ELECTION RAISES BRITISH FEAR.

LONDON COMMENT CONSIDERS YORKSHIRE RESULT BLOW TO COALITION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Great Britain's coalition government suffered the worst blow as yet dealt it in the election of Tom Myers, Laborite, over Sir John Simon, Liberal, in the parliamentary bye-election in the Spen Valley district of Yorkshire, according to newspapers opposing the Cabinet. Even the Daily News, although it supports official Liberals like Sir John Simon, urges that Liberal candidates be eliminated in contests where Laborite success seems probable, adding:

"The principal task of the electors is to get rid of the coalition."

Significance is seen in the Spen Valley result by all newspapers here, which point to many indications of growing Laborite strength. Conservative and coalition journals, while recognizing remarkable progress by the labor forces, profess to see a current against the present government rather than in the direction of a general election. A note of alarm, however, is not lacking in British editorial comments.

WESTERNERS SEEKING NEW ENGLAND FARMS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—New England farms, now comparatively low in price, are attracting the sons of the men who sold them a egeneration ago to acquire cheaper lands in the West, the farm loan board declared today in its annual report.

"These New England lands need lime and manure," said the report, "but, given these, they will produce more corn to the acre than Iowa, and all their produce—grain, truck and dairy—is within a few miles of great markets, generally over stone roads."

Southern farmers were said to lead those of other sections of the country in building improvements during the year.

EXPENDITURES IN STATE INCREASED

First Half of Fiscal Year Shows Extravagance.

Bills Exceed Previous Period by $5,714,194.

Receipts Show Gain of but Two Million Dollars.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—State expenditures for the six months' period ending December 31, 1919, (first half of seventy-first fiscal year) were $21,805,814.92, according to a statement today by State Controller Chambers, and exceeded expenditures for the first half of the seventieth fiscal year by $5,714,194.82.

At the same ratio, total expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30 next will be in round numbers $53,000,000, Controller Chambers said. Grand total of expenditures for the seventieth fiscal year, which ended last June, amounted to $50,681,-423.48.

SUPPORT OF SCHOOLS.

In the last six months the State contributed to the support of elementary schools $4,688,072.50, and to high schools $572,466.60, according to this report. For support of the State university warrants were drawn amounting to $1,894,259.70.

Receipts for the first half of this fiscal year totaled $26,190,854.98, as against collections amounting to $23,189,701.56 for a like period of the previous fiscal year.

In expenditures for the first half of the present fiscal year are included $6,789,449.31, representing investments by funds in bonds, purchases of Liberty and highway bonds and interest payment of bonded indebtedness. Likewise are included State reclamation district warrants totaling $1,458,879.13 and warrants of this character purchased by the State and redeemable later in cash, $178,534.30; also payments to counties as their share of motor vehicle department's collections, $1,782,-481.10.

CHAMBERS EXPLAINS.

"Items of this sort are included in expenditures," Controller Chambers said, "because the money derived from these sources is included in the State's receipts. Therefore, to balance accounts they must be recorded. But an explanation always should be made in order to give a more intelligent idea of the real cost of the State government."

Names of officers constituting boards which sat either abroad or in this country to make these recommendations are requested.

Representative Lufkin of Massachusetts presented his resolution calling upon Secretary of the Navy Daniels to furnish the House with complete information relative to the awarding of medals. Mr. Lufkin said he would urge the Committee of Naval Affairs, of which he is a member, at its next meeting to appoint a subcommittee to sit with the committee in an inquiry of the entire controversy.

SENATE HAS DATA.

Information similar to that sought under the Lufkin resolution already has been furnished the Senate committee. It calls for a complete list of officers and men recommended to receive distinguished service medals and navy crosses by admirals, captains and other commanding officers, together with the specific acts on which the recommendations were made, the complete report of the Knight board and the changes and substitutions made by Secretary Daniels.

"This resolution is introduced in no unfriendly spirit, nor with an idea of criticising or embarrassing the Secretary of the Navy," said Mr. Lufkin. "It simply calls for the facts in possession of the Navy Department incident to the awarding of these medals. The great publicity which newspapers have given to the controversy between the Secretary on the one hand and Admiral Sims and other naval officers on the other, as to the method of procedure followed in the selection of the officers and men entitled to these awards, has aroused great public interest. The public wants to know the facts in the matter. This is all my resolution calls for.

WILL GET FACTS.

"Moreover, the American Congress, which passed the laws creating these various awards, is also entitled to be completely advised as to the officers and men entitled to receive them and the specific acts performed in each instance. I believe that the information requested in this resolution, supplemented by an investigation by the two naval committees of Congress, will give to the country the facts desired.

"I shall urge the House Naval Committee at its first meeting this week to authorize the appointment of a subcommittee of its members to sit jointly with a like subcommittee from the Senate Naval Committee and go thoroughly into the whole medal question. I believe this joint committee should hear Secretary Daniels, Admiral Knight, Admiral Sims and other officers familiar with the proceedure followed in the awarding of these medals."

HAYS INVITES WOMEN TO FULL FELLOWSHIP.

SAYS REPUBLICANS OFFER RIGHT OF POLITICAL SELF-DETERMINATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Chairman Hays in his speech at the Republican banquet tonight, said, in part:

"The only just rule for a political party is that the rights of participation in the management of the party's affairs must be and remain equally sacred and sacredly equal. The Republican women in the country constitute one-half of the party's membership. In many States this has long been so. In the Presidential campaign of 1920 it is my very earnest hope and well-founded judgment that it shall be so everywhere.

SELF-DETERMINATION.

"To women and men alike the party offers the right of a political self-determination, and this is the answer to the query, 'What does the party stand for?' Within the Republican party there is and must be full political self-determination. It is entirely up to the party membership to say what the party's purpose shall be, what its policies shall become. This fundamentally is what we offer the women—the chance to express themselves.

"Party programme must always be subject to amendment and change by the responsible living thought, expressed within the party by men and women alike. Through it all, however, must run the supreme motive, and in the Republican party that supreme motive is and always shall be the honest, patriotic, intelligent effort to promote and safeguard the best interests of the republic and its citizens.

TWO PARTIES NEEDED.

"There must be in this country two political parties and both must be strong and virile. I do not ask that all women become Republicans. To which party you belong is of less consequence than that you belong to some party, that you seek the truth, find it and then act, and act continually. I would rather a woman join our opponents than belong to no party.

"One of the first truths most important for this large group of new voters to realize is that their efforts for right things in government can be made effective only through organization. Then let individual membership in the party give that attention to the party's affairs, which is due the the instrument through which and only through which all individuals can apply their patriotism in actual participation in governmental affairs."

treasurer of Novy Mir, in contempt of the committee for refusing to answer questions. Dr. Misleg also was treasurer of the Russian Socialist Federation until his examination by the committee. This federation was engaged in spreading soviet propaganda through its 11,000 members throughout the country. Misleg admitted.

Proof the United States was included in the conspiracy of the Lenine-Trotsky regime to disrupt the currency of the world by flooding the Allied nations with counterfeit money, has been revealed in documents seized in the Red raids, according to Federal agents. The money is said to have been smuggled into the country by way of Mexico and many counterfeit $50 and $100 bills have been discovered. Counterfeit Liberty Bonds also are declared to have been manufactured.

WILL BE LONG FIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The government's campaign to rid the nation of more than 3000 aliens, members of the Communist and Communist Labor parties arrested in recent raids, promises to be a lengthy fight, Department of Justice officials declared tonight. With the radicals fortified by strong legal talent, and a "slush fund" to finance their opposition to deportation, and the immigration service inadequately supplied either with men or means necessary to handle the situation, the help of Congress was considered necessary by officials.

Anthony Caminetti, commissioner-general of immigration, appealed to the House Appropriations Committee today for funds to allow expansion of his force to deal with the details of deportation proceedings. The commissioner asked for at least ten more lawyers.

Officials also explained that throughout the country the work of perfecting cases against the radicals held would be slow because of the small number of immigration inspectors. Added to this was the fact that the radicals have been instructed to make use of every form of delay known.

The problem of prison facilities engaged attention of officials of both the Department of Justice and immigration authorities, as Ellis Island, New York, is overcrowded.

NEED WESTERN CAMP.

Secretary Baker announced he had instructed Maj.-Gen. Bullard, commanding the department of the east, to provide a detention camp for use of the Department of Justice. It was understood this would be Camp Upton. Officials believed a second camp might also be necessary as a concentration point. This would be in the Middle West, it was stated.

Federal agents in the border districts were instructed to guard closely against attempts of the radicals to escape into Mexico. It was apparent officials had information that the Reds were in flight in many sections. Only three or four such attempts have been made since the raids started Friday.

More arrests are planned in Chicago, New York, Detroit and Boston, and several smaller eastern cities. Federal agents have trailed many persons said to be Red ringleaders and tonight the arrest of several of these was considered only a matter of hours.

Reports of more arrests dribbled into the department today.

Although nearly 5000 persons have been arrested the since the latest radical raid was started last Friday night, Department of Justice agents over the country today still were seeking members of the Communist and Communist Labor organizations who thus far had escaped the general dragnet.

Apparently, New York and Chicago were the chief centers of activity. Several hundred warrants were yet to be served in the metropolis.

Nearly 3000 of those arrested have been held for deportation proceedings and because of the congestion now at Ellis Island, all of them cannot be concentrated there.

Congress had before it today the request of Atty.-Gen. Palmer that it take prompt action on a bill proposed by him several months ago and designed to enable the government to deal with citizens found to be engaged in radical activities. There is no Federal law under which they can be dealt with.

Hundreds of citizens were taken in the raids Friday and Saturday and these must be turned over to the State authorities for trial.

PITTSBURGH LIST GROWS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—The number of alleged radicals being held here for deportation proceedings was increased to twenty-three today when Federal agents arrested two men at Braddock, near here. They are being held for further investigation.

PORTLAND, Jan. 5.—Evidence against forty citizens taken in the recent raids on alleged radicals here will be presented tomorrow to the county grand jury, according to announcement today by Walter H. Evans, District Attorney. All forty, according to Evans, are members of the Communist Labor party, whose literature proclaim it hostile to the Federal government.

VON BRINCKEN TO GO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Jan. 5.—Alex Fulton, inspector of immigration, has obtained a warrant for the rearrest and deportation of Wilhelm von Brincken when he is released from the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, it was announced today.

Von Brincken, who was convicted in San Francisco in 1917 under a charge of conspiracy, will be released Friday, it is expected, when a hearing on his pauper's oath is held. He took the oath a month ago to evade payment of a $10,000 fine, which was given in addition to two years in prison.

Mr. Fulton said today that Von Brincken will be taken to Seattle following his rearrest and will be detained there until a party of undesirable aliens is made up for deportation to Europe. Von Brincken, he said, will be sent back to Germany.

COMMUNIST SUSPECTS TO GET A HEARING.

IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENT MAY ORDER DEPORTATION OF LAWLESS RUSSIANS.

Hearing of the suspected Russian Communists arrested last Friday evening as the result of the nation-wide round-up ordered by the Washington authorities, with a view to ascertaining whether or not they are subjects for deportation under the immigration law, will begin today before A. E. Burnett, immigration inspector in charge. It is expected that some time will be occupied by the proceedings, as it takes on the character of a regular trial. The evidence taken is sent to Washington, and if the circumstances warrant, an order of deportation is made.

Of the nine men and women in the clutches of the law, the most are Aussians, the remainder natives of Lithuania, a province of Russia. They are all members, it asserted, of what is known as the Communist party and the Communist Labor party, originally organized in Petrograd about five years ago. In possession of several defendants were found copies of proclamations, official orders, etc., showing the alliance of the defendants with the parent organization, the Federal officials say.

The first case to be taken up this morning will be that of Benjamin Ling and his wife, Agnes Ling, and against them a mass of evidence has been prepared.

H. J. Ryckman has been retained as attorney for Fred Aspan, John Durin and his wife, Natalie D. Durin, and Richard Grundmann and wife. He stated yesterday that his clients are willing to return to Russia, their native land, if they are not wanted here, and even would make the trip at their own expense.

It is understood that as soon as the pending cases are disposed of that an additional number of arrests will be made, involving other undesirable aliens, who have become affiliated with the organizations pledged to the overthrow of orderly government.

Much of the documentary evidence to be used on the pending hearing will be sent from Washington by special agents of the Department of Justice.

AWARD BY INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION REVERSED.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS ESPEE LINEMAN KILLED IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Supreme Court today set aside awards by the California Industrial Commission against the Southern Pacific Company growing out of the death of William T. Butler, lineman, at Oakland, Cal. It reversed a California Supreme Court opinion.

Reversal by the U. S. Supreme Court of the workmen's compensation claims of the family of Butler against the Southern Pacific Company means that thousands of workmen on the lines of that company have no accident redress through the State workmen's compensation law, but must appeal to the Federal courts, executives of the State Industrial Accident Commission held here today.

Butler was electrocuted on a company pole in Oakland in 1917. Compensation was allowed by the Industrial accident commission and upheld by the State Supreme Court. The company resisted, on the ground that Butler was working on a line supplying power to local trains which sometimes carried holders of interstate transportation, and that Butler's appeal, therefore, should be to the Federal courts. The Supreme Court upheld this claim.

The decision means that all employees of local lines, which at times carry holders of interstate tickets are technically employed in interstate commerce and have no rights under the State compensation law.

TUCSON TEACHERS IN SCHEME TO UNIONIZE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 3.—Unionizing of the teaching force of the Tucson public schools is a subject that is receiving much attention from the educators. The city is operated on a closed-shop basis within the trades and the union leaders see no reason why the same idea should not be extended to teachers.

The plan is backed to a degree by School Superintendent Nims and several of his principals, but President Von Kleinsmid of the university says:

"Were a teachers' union the only way, or even the best way, to accomplish what should be brought about in order that the teaching profession may come into its own, we could have only words of commendation for the movement, but where the dangers to the profession loom so large as they do in unionizing, a movement to unionize is likely not only to delay for a long time the coming of the results sought, but, in attempting to hold a present advantage, may lose a greater reward that must come within a short time through other methods."

New express rates have been given between Tucson and Casa Grande, reducing the rates to those heretofore enjoyed only by Phoenix, which has a transfer at Maricopa to mainline trains, while the haul from Tucson is direct.

A strange poison weed has appeared on the cattle range around Patagonia, believed stimulated by the unusually heavy fall rains. It is asserted that it is not a southwestern variety of loco weed. Application has been made to the Department of Agriculture for a plant expert to identify the weed.

DECLARE WAR ON DOGS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Jan. 3.—Death is the portion these days for every dog with a distemper, for rabies has been prevalent to a large degree among the dogs of Globe and Miami. One canine raider ran amuck down Broad street in Globe, biting three persons before it could be slain. The brain, sent to El Paso, was found to have unmistakable signs of rabies, so Dolph Battz, a local merchant, has gone to El Paso for the Pasteur treatment, a journey also taken by a colored porter. A third person bitten will rely upon treatment here.

Clarence Duncan of Miami, bitten several weeks ago, has returned from El Paso, apparently well.

LINED UP WITH MOTHER CHURCH

New York Christian Scientists Take Firm Stand.

Plan Strategy in Battle with Publishing Society.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Action has been taken by the trustees of the First Church of Christ Scientist of New York City for the appointment of a committee of three to determine what action shall be taken in support of the mother church in Boston in its controversy with the trustees of the publishing society.

At a meeting Friday night delegates from twenty-four of the churches in this locality resolved to stand by the mother church. The committee to be named, it is believed, will be composed of two men and one woman, and their procedure will be suggested by the court action that is to come in the next few days in this fight, which has brought about a vital situation in the church.

Within the next week the master, appointed to review the dispute, will make his recommendation to the judge, who named him and then the question will be settled as to whether the injunction against the church trustees is to be made permanent.

SITUATION ACUTE.

Should the injunction be made permanent the situation will be even more acute. The trustees, who are a self-perpetuating body, will be enabled to conduct the publishing society without any instructions or suggestions from the board of directors of the mother church.

The resolutions adopted Friday night state that "many members of the mother church have lost confidence in the present trustees of the publication society," which, in the event of a permanent injunction, apparently would indicate that the trustees who are in charge of all the literature on Christian Science would pursue their own course, while the board of directors would have no say at all in the matter.

Moreover, the injunction restrains the directors from publishing Christian Science material, and in the event of the injunction becoming permanent, the anomalous situation would be created of an organization conducting the affairs of the church proper and an independent body issuing all the literature of the church.

Should the injunction be dissolved, it is apparent from conversations with persons representing the directors that the latter would immediately reconstruct the entire organization of the publishing society, thus having the board of directors of the mother church directing all church effort.

BACK MOTHER CHURCH.

It was said at the meeting on Friday night that fully 90 per cent of the members of the Christian Science churches are solidly back of the board of directors and, if a viva voce vote indicates anything, the chorus of ayes was like a thunderstorm compared with the weak noes from the dissenters. Most of the members, it is contended, believe that the directors in whom is vested the task of conducting the church should control all the literature which deals with Christian Science teachings.

The publishing society does a business of $4,000,000 a year.

"Any doubt as to the attitude of the Christian Scientists of New York City, relative to the injunction brought by the trustees of the Christian Science publishing society on March 25 last, against the board of directors of the mother church was completely dispelled at the mass meeting held in the First Church of Christ Scientist Friday evening," said Albert F. Gilmore of the Christian Science Committee on Publication yesterday. This committee speaks for the directors and general church work.

LABORITE'S ELECTION RAISES BRITISH FEAR.

LONDON COMMENT CONSIDERS YORKSHIRE RESULT BLOW TO COALITION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Great Britain's coalition government suffered the worst blow as yet dealt it in the election of Tom Myers, Laborite, over Sir John Simon, Liberal, in the parliamentary bye-election in the Spen Valley district of Yorkshire, according to newspapers opposing the Cabinet. Even the Daily News, although it supports official Liberals like Sir John Simon, urges that Liberal candidates be eliminated in contests where Laborite success seems probable, adding:

"The principal task of the electors is to get rid of the coalition."

Significance is seen in the Spen Valley result by all newspapers here, which point to many indications of growing Laborite strength. Conservative and coalition journals, while recognizing remarkable progress by the labor forces, profess to see a current against the present government rather than in the direction of a general election. A note of alarm, however, is not lacking in British editorial comments.

WESTERNERS SEEKING NEW ENGLAND FARMS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—New England farms, now comparatively low inp rice, are attracting the sons of the men who sold them a generation ago to acquire cheaper lands in the West, the farm loan board declared today in its annual report.

"These New England lands need lime and manure," said the report, "but, given these, they will produce more corn to the acre than Iowa, and all their produce—grain, truck and dairy—is within a few miles of great markets, generally over stone roads."

Southern farmers were said to lead those of other sections of the country in building improvements during the year.

CONGRESS BACK AT WORK AGAIN

Tackles Tremendous Amount of New Legislation.

Many Taken up Perfunctorily in the Senate.

Fight to Support Berger's Claim for House Seat.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Congress went to work immediately today on resuming after its fortnight recess.

In routine formality, both Senate and House began disposition of bills on their calendars and within an hour or so both bodies resumed their normal appearance of scant attendance during speech-making. Miscellaneous bills only were considered, and a few of the less important passed.

The Senate late in the day started debate on the waterpower development bill, consideration of which promised to continue into next week. The Sterling sedition bill went over until tomorrow.

There was only perfunctory discussion of the peace treaty in the Senate. Senator King, Democrat, Utah, presented formally his set of compromise reservations and many Senators were engaged in private conferences on the treaty situation, but nothing tangible resulted.

TO KEEP BERGER OUT.

Victor Berger, the Wisconsin Socialist, re-elected after being refused a seat by the House, did not arrive today, but tomorrow, or immediately upon his presentation of his re-election credentials, House leaders planned to refuse again to grant him a seat.

Representative Mann of Illinois, former Republican leader, surprised House members by announcing he would support Berger's claim.

Chairman Ballinger, Massachusetts, of the Elections Committee, which recommended Berger's ejection as a member of the special session, was ready with a resolution which would deny Berger his seat on the ground that he has been "guilty of giving aid and comfort to the enemy." The resolution was drawn today after a meeting of the steering committee, but will be withheld until Berger presents his credentials.

Many committees of both Senate and House got into action today and prepared to grind out the endless procession of bills and resolutions which are expected to hold Congress here for the next nine or ten months.

INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS.

Besides the treaties with Germany and with Austria, international problems to be considered during the session include the proposed alliance with France, the Panama Canal settlement with Colombia, treaties with Poland, and, possibly, Turkey, and numerous measures dealing with the war-changed conditions of American commercial and financial relations abroad.

Important domestic legislation awaiting action includes the railroad reorganization bill and the oil, coal, gas and phosphate land-leasing bill, both of which are in conference; army reorganization, shipping legislation, control of undesirable aliens and scores of other subjects.

Many investigations also have been arranged for by both the Senate and House. Among them will be inquiries into war expenditures, the Mexican situation, Bolshevist activities, coal situation, Federal Trade Commission and the Ford-Newberry election.

TAKE UP NAVY CASE.

With the reconvening of Congress today the chairmen of the Senate and House Naval committees conferred on the question of a joint investigation of the whole subject of naval decorations, around which has centered a sharp controversy in the Navy Department.

When the first awards were announced some weeks ago Chairman Page of the Senate committee asked Secretary Daniels for a report, which has been forwarded. The Secretary supplemented this with a letter, published today, in which the theory of the awards was explained.

Mr. Daniels dwelt at length on the reasons for awarding Distinguished Service Medals to the commanders of ten of the eleven American warships and transports sunk by submarines and mines during the war. He declared that "when we shall have been forgotten the distinguished and honorable service of able and devoted officers ashore, the splendid courage of the men who met the shock of the submarine stiletto and unafraid—will remain as a living glory and an honorable incentive to future naval heros."

TO RENEW FIGHT FOR 2.75 PER CENT. BEER.

NEW JERSEY BREWER INSISTS DECISION ONLY AFFECTS WARTIME STATUS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Another fight for 2.75 per cent. beer will be made before the U. S. Supreme Court, according to Emory Buckner, who was associated with Elihu Root as counsel for Jacob Ruppert, against whom the U. S. Supreme Court decided today.

Mr. Root's firm is counsel for Christian Feigenspan a New Jersey brewing corporation, which is seeking to restrain enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment in New Jersey. The bill complaint in the case says that 2.75 is not intoxicating and that "such fact has been definitely determined and demonstrated by experience."

"The question whether 2.75 beer can be sold after the Eighteenth Amendment is effective, must be decided in the future," said Mr. Buckner. "Today's decision affects its status only under wartime prohibition. Today's decision relates only to the war powers of Congress. When the amendment is effective questions will be raised not only as to the validity of its passage, but also whether or not nonintoxicating beer can be sold under it."

Mr. Buckner saw a ray of hope in the fact that the court was divided on today's decision, but was not encouraged by that portion of the majority decision saying that Congress had power to fix a standard of alcoholic content for the purposes of effective enforcement.

William H. Hirst, attorney for the New York State Brewers' Association, asserted that the decision "relates only to that part of the Volstead Bill which deals with wartime prohibition and has no necessary bearing on the Eighteenth Amendment." "No case is before the Supreme Court upon which a decision was to have been handed down today that involves either the validity of the amendment itself or raises any question of the power of Congress under the amendment," said Mr. Hirst.

WON'T AFFECT CALIFORNIA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The sustaining of the prohibition enforcement act by the U. S. Supreme Court will have little effect in this revenue district, which includes Northern California and Nevada, according to Justus S. Wardell, collector of internal revenue.

"The brewers had cut themselves down to beverages containing less than one-half of one per cent. alcohol pending receipt of this decision," Wardell said. "Therefore, it does not mean any extension of the police powers of the department here."

ACTION IN ST. LOUIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—Application for a writ of supersedeas to overrule the temporary injunction granted by Federal Judge Pollack, November 1, last, was filed in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here today by the District Attorney's office. The injunction permitted the manufacture and sale of beer in the eastern half of Missouri. A hearing is expected tomorrow.

Federal officials have been collecting evidence against those who advantaged themselves of Judge Pollock's order, but it was said no disposition will be made of it until advised by Atty.-Gen. Palmer.

Officials of the thirteen breweries where beer was being manufactured under the injunction said about 3000 persons would be thrown out of work as a result of today's action of the Supreme Court.

MILWAUKEE PLANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 5.—Coincident with the ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court today declaring constitutional parts of the Volstead Prohibition Enforcement Act dealing with a definition of what constitutes intoxicating liquor under war-time prohibition, Wisconsin brewing interests announced that they would contest the legality of the same bill's definition of intoxicating liquor under prohibition by constitutional amendment.

The validity of the Volstead Act insofar as it concerns war-time phohibition will not be questioned, however.

COLLEGE DRYS IN CONVENTION

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DES MOINES, Jan. 5.—For the purpose of further organizing students in the universities and colleges of the United States for service among students and universities of foreign countries in the "world movement against alcohol," the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association held its biennial convention and oratorical contest here today. A resolution presented called for raising $1,000,000 for the work.

WILSON TO KEEP GRIP ON PARTY.

the Senate, aiming his shafts not only at the Republicans holding out for material reservations to the League of Nations covenant, but at those Democratic Senators who have weakened in their support of the President and manifested a readiness to accept reservations.

WILL MARK TIME.

So strong was the belief among Democrats at the capital that the President would speak his mind on the treaty in his Jackson Day message that indications for a compromise on reservations were halted, not to be resumed until after the dinner. The Democratic leaders who for several days have been verging toward a surrender to the Lodge reservationists will mark time until the attitude of their party chief becomes known.

It is not doubted that the purpose of the announcement at the White House was to warn the Democratic insurgents of what is impending. The warning was not sufficient, so far as Democratic Senators are concerned.

It remains to be seen whether the warning carries weight with William J. Bryan, who is credited with encouraging the insurgent Democratic movement in the direction of compromise on the treaty in defiance of the White House.

SURPRISE FOR BRYAN.

Mr. Bryan is coming to Washington to take a commanding part in the Jackson Day dinner, the Nebraskan proceeding on the assumption that Mr. Wilson will not be a candidate for a third term under any circumstances. He will come into collision with Administration plans if the President in his message should keep the way open for renomination.

So long as the President hopes to defeat the covenant reservations it is assumed that he will not take himself definitely out of the running, for otherwise he would lose his hold on wavering Democratic Senators. He also may think that a threat to run again on the issue of unqualified ratification of the covenant would frighten the Republicans into surrender in order to keep him and the League question out of the campaign. The Republicans, however, aver they would count victory certain if Mr. Wilson should run again on a platform of the League without reservations.

McADOO NOT IN RACE.

William Gibbs McAdoo will not enter the Dgnocratic primary for the Presidential nomination. He is not even in a receptive mood and will shun the party mantle if he sees it falling his way.

Though the position of the former secretary of the Treasury and Director-General of Railroads has been causing much speculation in Democratic ranks and much concern to the Democratic aspirants, it was learned today that he had definitely determined to stay out of politics. Mr. McAdoo is the only Democratic possibility who will not attend or be well represented at the Jackson day dinner, where the barrier in the Democracy candidacy race will be sprung. This fact has been one of the chief sources of conversation and speculation in political circles for weeks. Backers of various and sundry candidates have worried considerably about it, fearing some coup brought about comparatively late in the game.

NO FORMAL STATEMENT.

Mr. McAdoo made his decision several weeks ago, however, and he might allay their fears if he would, but he is one of the keenest and most interested spectators and will do nothing that would take spice from the game. Consequently he will make no formal announcement. He is now in the South, and unless he undergoes a remarkable and unbelievable change of heart, he will not listen to any call, no matter how loud or insistent.

The former secretary of the treasury is not out of politics for good. He plans to be democracy's Theodore Roosevelt and has his eye on 1924, the time perhaps he will step out, but not now.

For the present, Mr. McAdoo having left public service to make money, is busily engaged making it and proposes to stay on the job. In four years perhaps he can provide for his family and his future to a sufficient extent to again take the plunge. At least that is the way he feels about it.

EYES ON FORTUNE.

It may appear that the recent trend of events and more particularly the recent elections in the country have had a considerable influence on Mr. McAdoo's decision, but it is said, such is not the case. The former Secretary expresses an earnest belief that the next year will be a Democratic one, but he feels that much of the work he has done in the past year to build his private fortune will be lost if he enters politics at this time.

So far as the other aspirants are concerned the old-time Wilson manager is and proposes to stand aloof. He has not announced his decision because he doesn't want to be besieged with appeals for support and is not ready to declare himself for any of those who have entered the field. He proposes to be a spectator only as long as he can be.

PLEDGED TO WOOD.

Representative Fuller, Republican, Massachusetts, announced his candidacy today for delegate at large to the Republican National Convention, pledged to support Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood. Speaker Gillett of Massachusetts, announced his candidacy several weeks ago.

BRITISH BARK ARRIVES FROM WIND-BLOWN TRIP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Arrival here today of the British bark Manurewa put an end to the diet of sage, rice and peas on which Capt. R. C. Holmes, his wife and 3-year-old daughter and the fourteen members of the crew had subsisted most of the time since leaving the Tonga Islands, October 11. The Manurewa was within 100 miles of San Francisco a month ago, but was blown nearly to Unimak Pass, at the edge of Bering Sea, by heavy gales.

Storms started two days after the bark left Nesufua, and heavy seas swept overboard most of the provisions. The crew were forced to work at the pumps to keep the vessel afloat.

A couple of sea goonies, shot by one of the crew and boiled for many hours to soften the flesh to edible condition were the only variation from the vegetable diet.

DECISION ENDS LAST WET HOPE.

Beer of 2.75 Type is Held Intoxicating and Illegal.

Supreme Court Upholds Volstead Act Validity.

One Justice Dissents and is Backed by Lesser Lights.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—By a margin of one vote the Supreme Court today upheld the right of Congress to define intoxicating liquor, so far as applied to war-time prohibition.

In a five-to-four opinion rendered by Associate Justice Brandeis, the court sustained the constitutionality of provisions in the Volstead Prohibition Enforcement Act prohibiting manufacture and sale of beverages containing ½ of 1 per cent. or more of alcohol. Associate Justices Day, Vandeventer, McReynolds and Clark dissented.

Validity of the Federal prohibition constitutional amendment and of portions of the Volstead Act affecting its enforcement was not involved in the proceedings, but the opinion was regarded as so sweeping as to leave little hope among "wet" adherents. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, hailed it as a "sweeping victory" and in a statement tonight said the only prohibition question left open now is whether the Eighteenth Amendment is of a nature that can be considered as a Federal amendment and whether it was properly adopted.

In rendering the opinion, the court sustained Federal court decrees dismissing injunction proceedings to enjoin Federal authorities from preventing Jacob Ruppert, a New York brewer, from manufacturing beer containing in excess of ½ of 1 per cent. alcohol, but which he alleged was nonintoxicating.

A RAY OF HOPE.

The "wets," however, received a brief ray of hope when shortly afterward Associate Justice Day, in a unanimous opinion, sustained the dismissal of indictments brought under the war-time Prohibition Act against the Standard Brewery of Baltimore and the American Brewing Company of New Orleans for manufacturing 2.75 beer before the Volstead Act was passed. In sustaining this action the court held that Congress has the right to determine what are intoxicating beverages, but in view of the fact that the Volstead Act had not yet been passed, manufacture of low alcoholic beer was permissible under the war-time prohibition act providing it was not intoxicating.

Following rendition of today's opinion, Asst. Atty.-Gen. Frierson, who has been in charge of the prohibition cases in the Supreme court, announced the Department of Justice was ready to begin prosecution of all persons who have sold beer since the passage last October 28, of the Volstead act. The names of all persons violating the act have been obtained by the department, and prosecutions, he said, would begin at once.

OPINION IS SWEEPING.

The opinion of Justice Brandeis, who also rendered the December 15 decision upholding the constitutionality of the War-time Prohibition Act, was sweeping, setting forth that "implied war power over intoxicating liquors extends to enactment of laws, which will not merely prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors, but will effectually prevent their sale."

"Whether it be for purposes of national defense," the justice said, "or for the purpose of regulating commerce among the several States or for the purpose of establishing postoffices and post roads, Congress has the power 'to make all laws necessary and proper for carrying into execution' the duty so reposed in the Federal government."

Justice Brandeis also decreed that the war powers of Congress possess virtually the same authority as those held by the States under their police powers, adding "if, in its opinion, the particular emergency demands immediate discontinuance of the traffic Congress must have the power to require such discontinuance."

McREYNOLDS DISSENTS.

A dissenting opinion concurred in by the other three associate Judges was rendered by Justice McReynolds, who took exception to the majority's views regarding the scope of the war powers. The minority declared the Constitution should be interpreted so that no part should "suffer emasculation by any strained or unnatural construction" by which the public's rights might be jeopardized.

RHODE ISLAND ACTION.

Briefs were filed today by the government and New Jersey authorities in connection with the court's order to show cause why original proceedings involving the validity of the right and provisions of the Volstead Act affecting its enforcement should not be brought by the State of Rhode Island, and on behalf of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of New Jersey. A brief in support of the New Jersey case was also presented and arguments were made by E. V. Abbot for the plaintiffs and by Solicitor-General King and Atty.-Gen. Thomas F. McCran of New Jersey in opposition. Arguments in the Rhode Island cases were postponed until Monday.

Solicitor-General King in his brief in the Rhode Island case denied the Supreme Court has juriadiction in the case and asked for dismissal of the application. He also alleged that the questions involved were political.

"All questions," the brief said, "as to what a constitution or a constitutional amendment means are, of course, justiciable, but the question as to what constitution shall be adopted, or in what respects an existing constitution shall be altered, are governmental and political. The ultimate forum provided by the constitution for their determination consists of the legislatures of the various States, the action of three-fourths of them being binding on all. The State of Rhode Island had the right to make its fight against the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment by bringing to bear such influence as it could upon the legislatures of its sister States."

"The decision is a sweeping victory for prohibition," said Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America. "In principle, it settles most of the justifiable questions that may arise under the permanent prohibition code. The dissenting opinion makes clear that the objections stated therein do not apply to prohibition under the Eighteenth Amendment."

WE'RE NOT HURT BY THE "DRY" DECISION.

REASON IS THAT NO WAR BEER HAS BEEN MADE HERE IN A LONG TIME.

The decision of the U. S. Supreme Court declaring it illegal to sell what is known as 2.75 per cent., or war beer under the Volstead law providing for the enforcement of wartime prohibition, will have no effect locally, for the reason that there has been no beer of that strength made in Los Angeles since October 28, 1919, Federal officials declared yesterday.

All the "suds" now handed out over the counter is ½ of 1 per cent., and that just the right proportion may be maintained in its manufacture, an agent of the government is stationed in each brew house.

There will be an end of carrying drinks into cafes and other establishments after the coming of national prohibition, and it will no longer be legal for an individual to take a bottle out of his private stock and dispense it at a public house, where the bright lights are, and where pleasure is supposed to rule the hour.

This will have a very discouraging effect on establishments that have been running full tilt, in spite of the war-time prohibition law, claiming that all the stuff drank on the premises was brought to the place by customers. It will also be a body blow on many of the downtown cafes, where the same excuse for drinking liquids with a kick has been offered.

The only drinking allowable under the prohibition law will be in one's own home, where those who partake of the cup that not only cheers, but inebriates will be limited to the immediate family and invited guests.

The government will lose in taxes alone about $1,000,000 with the coming of national prohibition in the local internal revenue district, there being in the opinion of Chief Deputy White, 160,000 gallons of whisky and alcohol in the bonded warehouses. Some of this may be taken out of bond later on, the alcohol and whisky to be used for non-beverage purposes, on which the tax will be $2.20 and $6.40 a gallon, respectively. But that will be a slow process.

PIPE LINE DECISION IS IN CALIFORNIA'S FAVOR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Supreme Court today sustained findings of the California State Railroad Commission holding the Producers' Transportation Company to be a common carrier and subject to its rate-making authority. The company, which transports oil from the San Joaquin Valley oil field, claimed the commission had no jurisdiction over it because its lines were used only privately.

VIENNA SUFFERS HARDSHIP RULE.

Once Haughtiest Capital is in Abject Misery.

Even the Rich Cannot Keep from Cold's Ravages.

But Theaters Draw Crowds of Half-Fed Patrons.

BY RAYMOND SWING.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VIENNA, Jan. 5.—In the courtyard of the Austrian Foreign Office intones the rasping hum of a buzz-saw and foresters swing their axes to furnish wood to heat the rooms where five summers ago the ultimatum to Serbia, which began the great war, was composed. But the limited supply of wood is insufficient. Officials sit in frigid quarters incased in blankets and apologize to their visitors, while they drink tea kept hot over spirit lamps.

In the palace of Schoenbrunn food now is prepared for 13,000 children in the kitchens where once delicacies were concocted for the aged Emperor of Austria, and in the kitchen that once was Archduke Franz Ferdinand's many white frocked women are cooking meals for thousands of children succored by the American relief administration. In one wing of the stately royal residence in the center of Vienna food is stored, while in another wing physicians are examining hundreds of school children daily.

DECIDED CHANGE.

Vienna indeed has changed. The ancient monarchy has fallen and with it disappeared the substance of the life, which characterized the Vienna of old. It has been replaced by a democracy, or it would be better to say, by a leveling of all classes save a small coterie of the very wealthy through the irresistible force of privation. To speak of democracy is to use a word hard for the Viennese to comprehend; their whole attention is concentrated on two of the grimmest words in human speech, hunger and cold. Any government would be blessed which furnished bread and coal; any ministry condemned which fails in this.

The question of maintaining life is the one sole obsession of practically every adult. "How can I live tomorrow?" is the problem facing everyone. No answer is possible, for the government, yes, even money has failed. To be cold from the time he arises until he retires is the lot of every resident, no matter how imposing may be the facade of his apartment-house. To be undernourished is the lot of all save foreigners and the wealthy; to be undernourished and hungry besides is the lot of four-fifths of the population of more than 2,000,000.

THEATERS STILL FILLED.

Closely examined, Vienna presents few remarkable tokens of its misery. It is true that traffic hardly exists, and at the night the people hurry silently along dimly lighted streets, but the sixteen theaters here are full every evening; at 5 o'clock the cafés are crowded and the noted restaurants still set cherished dishes before their patrons.

It is true that cigarettes cost 2 crowns (normally 40 cents) each, a full meal 70 to 150 crowns, a good seat at the opera 70 crowns, so a cursory glance gives no idea of the true conditions. The cafes are cold, but toward evening the crowds of patrons warm them; the streets are dark but darkness is no hardship; money still buys food, but through it all there runs a morbid tone, there is no laughter, no resounding voices. Men and women carry on by habit, they get through the gestures they always have gone through.

My host, a notably successful professional man, showed me his coal supply for two weeks, it was a half bushel of coke. We sat in our overcoats in the smallest room in the house. Later I visited a home in the workers district, where I found the family abed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. There was no coal.

NO MONEY FOR SOAP.

A widow and her children were lying on a matress on the floor—the bed had been sold long since. She lighted a tiny night lamp and broke into tears when she saw a stranger because she had no money to buy soap to keep the children clean. These little children do not know the taste of milk or the appearance of an egg.

In other homes I found the family huddled in one room to keep warm. Some homes were heated with small sticks of wood brought from the forests in the outskirts of the city, some even had coal which the fathers, railroad workers, had brought home in their pockets. Meals always were scanty; always there was cabbage, that vegetable, which in all Eastern Europe city dwellers detest. Cabbage was fed to the occupants of a famous asylum in Vienna when the supply of meat and eggs gave out, with the result that 2478 more died in ten months this year than in the whole of 1913.

OFFER NEW PLAN FOR CONTROL OF PACKERS.

SENATORS PROPOSE REGISTRATION RATHER THAN LICENSING, WITH REGULATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A new plan for government regulation of the meat industry, including packers, stock yards and live-stock commission merchants, was presented today by Senators Kenyon, Republican, Iowa, and Kendrick, Democrat, Wyoming, to the Senate Agriculture Committee. The substitute measure would provide government "registration" instead of licensing, but with broad Federal regulation through proposed Federal live-stock commission, composed of three members appointed by the President, instead of a single official.

Another feature of the substitute would provide a law for the settlement recently effected between the Department of Justice and the packers, divorcing the latter from all business, except meat packing.

The committee decided to reopen is hearings, inviting Atty.-Gen. Palmer to appear next Wednesday to tell officially of the settlement with the packers. On Thursday the committee will hear representatives of the packers and on Friday representatives of the Federal Trade Commission.

CONFIRM GUILT OF RUSSELLITE.

Appeals Court Holds Hamm as Enemy to America.

Sale of "Finished Mystery" Obstructed Recruiting.

Gordnier, Alleged Evader of Draft, Wins Case.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Judgment was affirmed here today by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal in the case of Edward Hamm, convicted in the Federal court in Los Angeles of obstructing recruiting during the war by the sale of "The Finished Mystery," a book held to be radical in tendency and opposed to the form of government in this country. The Circuit Court of Appeal held that Hamm was properly convicted by selling a copy of the book and that there was no ground for reversing the decision of the lower court.

The Federal Appellate Court reversed today the lower court's judgment in the case of Thomas Gordnier, another Los Angeles action, in which Gordnier was convicted of failure to register for the selective draft under the call for men up to 45 years of age. It was held that the government did not definitely settle the question as to whether Gordnier was under or over age limit.

TOOL COMPANY LOSES.

Judgment against the Union Tool Company of Los Angeles and its president, Edward Double, for the infringement of a patent on an under-reamer held by Elihu C. Wilson, was upheld by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal here today, but was modified to the extent that a $2500 fine or jail sentence imposed on Double was eliminated. The fine was the result of contempt proceedings brought by the court.

CITY OF OAKLAND WINS.

Claims of the city of Oakland against the Standard American Dredging Company were upheld today when the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal affirmed the judgment of the lower court in an action arising from the grammatical construction put upon certain clauses of a dredging contract. The contract was for dredging a certain section of the channel in Oakland Harbor.

JELLICOE AT CAPITAL AS GUEST OF NATION.

BRITISH ADMIRAL FIRST INSPECTS GREAT GUN FACTORY AT NAVY YARD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Viscount Jellicoe of Scapa, First Sea Lord of the British Admiralty, who arrived here yesterday from New York, began a round of official visits today as the guest of the nation. Immediately after breakfast he called on Secretary Daniels and later expressed grateful appreciation of the cordial reception given him in the United States.

Lord Jellicoe was asked what he now regarded as the outstanding result from a naval standpoint of the battle of Jutland. The admiral hesitated a moment and said:

"Scapa Flow."

From the Navy Department, Viscount Jellicoe was taken to the great naval gun factory at the navy yard here. He was accompanied by Rear-Admiral Niblack and other high naval officials. After the visit Viscount Jellicoe and the party were entertained at luncheon by Rear-Admiral Grant, commandant of the yard.

In the afternoon the distinguished guest visited the Senate and House of Representatives and later had tea with Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and dinner with the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels. The dinner was followed by a reception.

48 of the first 50
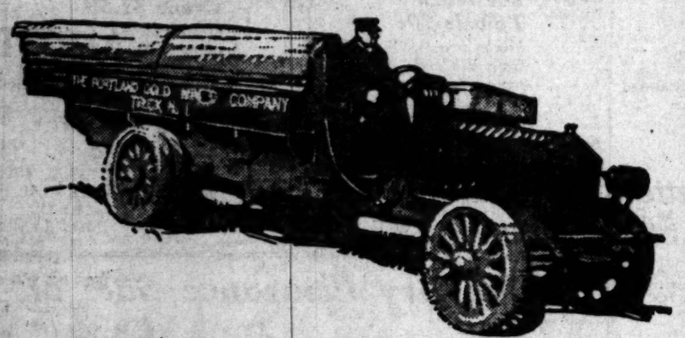
trucks are still running after 8 years

This is one of the reasons why Pierce-Arrows are so seldom in the second-hand market—and are snapped up at good prices when offered for resale.



No. 26 is operated by the Portland Gold Mining Company of Colorado Springs. For 8 years, despite the grades and severe winters, No. 26 has averaged working 335 days a year, hauling ore from the mine at Victor, Colo., to shipping platforms, 2 miles distant. This short haul work has aggregated only 50,000 miles, though the low gear operation on the grades is equivalent to many times that mileage. Its severe work has worn out two bodies.

Pay enough to buy a durable truck. Eventually its first cost is divided by the actual number of days the truck runs. A short-lived truck is a liability.

WHY PIERCE-ARROW?

1. Delivers more work in a given time.
2. Loses less time on the job and off the job.
3. Costs less to operate and less to maintain.
4. Lasts longer, depreciates less and commands a higher resale price at all times.

TAFT GIVES COOLIDGE PRAISE.

Reviewing Candidates for Presidential Nomination He Says "Law and Order" Governor is Man Who Acts Wisely and Courageously

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Besides Gen. Wood, Gov. Lowden and Senator Harding in the race for the Republican nomination at Chicago, some six other names should be considered. There are three candidates who are avowed opponents of treaty and League ratification and who would make their campaign on that issue. These are Senator Johnson of California, Senator Poindexter of Washington and Senator Borah of Idaho. It should be said in fairness to the latter that he has declared in favor of Mr. Johnson but he is suggested so often as a candidate himself that he must be mentioned.

Other candidates there are, but the only ones who call for serious notice are Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts and President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, New York. Gov. Coolidge was born in Vermont, and is what they describe in that State as "a safe man." He is a lawyer who has devoted much time to the State. He was a most useful legislator and has made an admirable Governor of Massachusetts. He is a man of few words, but of wise, courageous action.

ALWAYS COURAGEOUS.

In considering whether he should include a particular sentence in an address, he was heard to say as he ran his pen through it, "I don't remember to have been hurt by anything I didn't say." He has in his brevity a singularly trenchant and epigrammatic way of putting things. His courage and effectiveness in meeting the issue presented by the police strike in Boston and its deplorable sequel, and his reply to Mr. Gompers touched a chord to which the whole country responded. He became at once the protagonist of the cause of the supremacy of law and order, and in the threatening situation he has become a national figure. Massachusetts is evidently proud of him and will present him for the nomination.

BUTLER A WHEELHORSE.

Nicholas Murray Butler, for years and now the head of our great university in point of numbers, is one of the educational leaders of the country. At the same time he has been a wheelhorse of the Republican party, and has had much to do with shaping its policies in national conventions which he has attended for a quarter of a century. He was the party's candidate for Vice-President in 1912 in place of Mr. Sherman, who died during the campaign. He is a broad man of affairs, not a reactionary, but a conservative man of progress. He has had much to do with guiding the course pursued in making the millions left by Mr. Carnegie useful to the world. He is an able publicist and orator and has formulated successfully the proper position of the party on many issues. The example of taking Mr. Wilson as a candidate makes a precedent which the friends and admirers of Mr. Butler propose should be followed.

POINDEXTER'S ASSETS.

Senator Poindexter has had long and varied legislative experience in the national House and Senate. He has taken a pronounced attitude against the tyranny of I.W.W.-ism and labor unionism and makes that his chief slogan. He is also greatly opposed to the treaty, and insists that it is un-American and unconstitutional for us to enter the League. Without being invidious, one may fairly say that his chances for the Republican nomination are not proportioned to his activities in seeking it. It may be that Washington State has declared for him, but where the rest of his strength is to come from is not yet apparent.

JOHNSON A RADICAL.

Senator Johnson will have the California delegation behind him. That has already been agreed upon by all the factions in the Republican party of that State. With his radical proclivities, Senator Johnson will certainly secure delegates from the States in which the former Roosevelt supporters have radical tendencies. It is a question how responsible the coming Republican convention will hold Mr. Johnson for the defeat of the party candidate, Mr. Hughes, in 1916. But in such cases politicians are forgetful and forgiving. The Senator has a very strong following in his own State, due to his fight against the Southern Pacific Railroad grip, his acceptable administration of the State government, his strong personality and his power of enthusiasm-creating speech. He is in public estimate accorded the power to throw California for or against his party ticket. This will give him a certain strength in the convention not so much for his own candidacy as against that of others.

ALIENATED FROM PARTY.

But the Republicans of the State have shown very great dissent from his attitude in respect to the League. He is very popular with all avowed and intense opponents of the League, as was shown by his speaking trip "trailing" the President. The effective strength this would give him in a Republican convention with the treaty and League ratified is more doubtful. However, should Senator Lodge and his colleagues of the Foreign Relations Committee succeed in forcing the anti-League issue upon the Republican party in 1920, Senator Johnson's prospect for the nomination would be greatly enhanced.

The only other name for possible consideration is that of one who is not a candidate, but is the peer of any of those who are candidates in his qualifications for the office. That is Charles E. Hughes. At the call of the party he sacrificed his place on the bench, which he was most reluctant to leave. In the minds of many of his friends, the query arises why, now that party victory is reasonably certain, he should not be summoned to leadership and a just party reward as a loyal Republican of wide vision, great abilities and experience.

From the list named above one would be bold indeed who ventured a prophecy as to whom of them he will be. In the outset it looked as if Gen. Wood would have but little competition, and this circumstance in itself helped his cause.

WOOD LEAD WEAKENS.

But now his lead, though substantial, is not so clear. Indeed, if one can judge from the declarations of party leaders, many State delegations are likely to be chosen without instructions and to enter the convention unpledged to any candidate. The probable result will be that none will have a majority on the first ballot, and it will be left to the deliberations of the party in convention assembled to select from this list who shall be most representative of the party's policies and most likely to secure the largest vote for its ticket.

AS TO PLATFORM.

Protest against the partisan conduct of the war and of the partisan making of peace, against extravagance and unnecessarily heavy taxation, against the ruthless exercise of one-man power in passing on important national policies and carrying them out, will form a certainly important part of the platform. The slogan of the supremacy of law and order will be a battle cry. The determination to suppress I.W.W.-ism and Bolshevism will be manifest. Protest against the despotic use by labor of its combinations to freeze or starve the country into abject submission to exorbitant demands will be urged. The planks of the platform most difficult to draw will be those outlining the reconstructive measures which are needed to lead the nation back to the normal contentment of peace, and to which the party shall pledge itself. The temper of the convention is likely to be conservative and not radical this year.

BILL WOULD PROHIBIT PRINT PAPER EXPORTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Exportation of print paper would be prohibited for one year under a bill introduced today by Representative Ferris, Democrat, Oklahoma.

Representative Christopher, Republican, South Dakota, introduced a bill authorizing for one year or longer control of the entire print paper supply through the Federal Trade Commission, and allocation to publishers. All contracts for paper would be "abrogated and suspended" during the operation of the act.

—will you "get ahead"?

IF WE THINK we can't get ahead financially, we never will—that's sure. Nobody ever did anything that he really thought he couldn't do—

But we all can get ahead, if the will is aroused in that direction—and if we persistently hold to it, despite the "pulls" to spend on every hand—

First, get the confidence that we can get ahead, if we will. Then will to do it, and translate this into acts. "Acts" include not doing things, as well as doing things. Every day will bring opportunities for exercise, both ways—

Exercise means practice, and "practice makes perfect." The point is this: if one genuinely sets out to save—and "stays with it"—he is certain to arrive. The proof rests in the many thrifty people who actually are travelling that road.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tell How to Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture.

Joicey Williams, the well-known actress, who was recently playing at the Imperial Theater in St. Louis, made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and one-fourth ounce of glycerine."

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—[Advertisement.

GAVE FRIEND A BIG SURPRISE

Caller Was Astonished at the Improvement.

Gains Ten Pounds and is in Perfect Health Now.

Mrs. Page Enthusiastically Praises Tanlac.

"Giving a statement to be published is a new experience for me," said Mrs. Joseph F. Page, residing at 115 Trolley Way, Venice, California, in an interview, recently, "but Tanlac has done so much for me that I want to tell everybody about it.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," she continued, "I was one of the sickest persons you ever saw to be on my feet at all. A few months ago I was taken with an attack of acute indigestion and words can't describe the suffering I have been through since that time. I sometimes wonder that I am here to tell about it and I doubt if I would be if I had not taken Tanlac. This attack came on me suddenly one night with a pain through my stomach and back that couldn't have hurt worse if I had been pierced with a knife. My stomach was left in such a bad condition that I could not take any nourishment at all without just suffering agony. They made an X-ray picture of my stomach and put me on the strictest diet, but I got no better. Then I was sent to a hospital for treatment and at the end of two weeks I was still no better. So they brought me home one of the worst discouraged and down-hearted persons you ever saw. I had lost twenty-eight pounds in nine weeks and was so weak and nervous I could hardly get one foot before the other, much less do any of my work. I was living principally on hot milk and just felt that I could go no further without some relief.

"They wanted to operate on me and, if my husband had not insisted that I try Tanlac first, the operation would have been my next resort, for it seemed that everything else, that could be, had been done for me. My husband read a testimonial to me that described my case almost exactly, so he brought me a bottle of Tanlac. Well, after I had been taking this medicine for about ten days a friend, who had not seen me in several days, came in and said, 'Why, I never saw such an improvement in a person in so short a time,' and wanted to know what I had taken to make me look so much stronger and better. Then I was encouraged to keep on with Tanlac and I could feel myself getting better every day. I soon started to eat and did not have the slightest pain or discomfort afterwards. I am on my sixth bottle now and am not only feeling perfectly well, but I have already gained ten pounds in weight. I can do my housework and care for the children with as much ease as I ever could, for I am feeling just fine in every way. So I have the best of reasons for praising Tanlac and my only regret is that I did not take it sooner."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by The Owl Drug Co.—[Advertisement

SET JAN. 10 FOR FORMAL PEACE.

Allies Cut German Reparation to 275,000 Tons.

Note Fixing Amount of Indemnity is Decided On.

Ambassador Would Define "Associated Powers."

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The Supreme Council has tentatively set January 10 for the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles. The council's basis for a settlement on the Scapa Flow sinkings was handed over to Baron von Lersner today and it was announced that an agreement had been reached with the German delegation.

The Scapa Flow reparations agreement was reached upon the Allies accepting a diminution of 125,000 tons from the 400,000 tons of naval material originally demanded from Germany. The Germans argued the impossibility of surrendering the tonnage originally demanded and also pointed out errors in the inventory of the Allies.

The Allies were conciliatory and fixed 275,000 tons as final. To this the German delegates agreed.

The Supreme Council this morning finally decided on the wording of the note to the German delegation confirming the verbal statement regarding the indemnity for the Scapa Flow sinkings, made by Baron von Lersner to Secretary Dutasta of the Peace Conference.

The signing of the protocol and the exchange of ratifications of the peace treaty now depend, it is stated, upon the answer of the Berlin government to the German delegates here on questions concerning the arrangements for the plebiscites provided for by the treaty.

The question of commercial relations between Turkey and the Central Powers after the exchange of ratifications of the Treaty of Versailles was discussed by the council at the morning session and it was decided that the status created by the armistice should continue until peace was signed with Turkey. The armistice terms prohibit such relations.

ALLIES OR ASSOCIATES.

Hugh C. Wallace, the American Ambassador, was reported yesterday to have asked the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference to change the formula referring to the powers participating in the council from the "Allied and associated powers" to the "Allied powers." This report was not strictly correct, it was learned today.

Ambassador Wallace, it is stated, has not asked for the abandonment of "Allied and associated powers," but merely requested that, when questions arose which involved the United States, this formula, including the United States, be not used in documents until he had time to get a decision from Washington on such questions.

"This," says the Echo de Paris, "marks the determination of the United States not to participate officially in decisions to be reached in Paris. Washington, while declining the responsibilities of the Supreme Council, continues to be represented at its sessions. How can Mr. Wallace's role be defined? He is not a plenipotentiary. Witness or observer is the accepted term."

Pleasure at the presence of an American representative who will keep Washington informed as to events until the United States delegates resume their places on the council is expressed by the newspaper, which says:

"Nothing can be definitely concluded without President Wilson's assent beforehand. So the council is supreme only in name. Supremacy belongs to Mr. Wilson, who inhabits, not the White House, but Mt. Olympus.

"It is inevitable that a dilemma will arise. The United States will be obliged to take responsibilities corresponding to her action, or she will renounce this role. It is hoped this absurd situation may be arranged by speedy ratification of the treaty according to the programme of Senator Lodge, followed by return of America to her rightful place in the settlement of European affairs."

JANE ADDAMS'S PROTEGE MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING.

PRETTY GRADUATE OF EXCLUSIVE SCHOOLS DISAPPEARS FROM HULL HOUSE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Miss Jeanne Anna De Kay, aged 20, and attractive, has disappeared from Hull House in a mystifying manner, and Jane Addams in whose care she was left, is asking the public to assist in finding her.

Miss De Kay had recently arrived from Switzerland. She is an American, but has spent the last eight years in Switzerland and in English schools. She has just been graduated from Heathfield Ascot School near London, and was the youngest girl ever graduated there. Her brother, John De Kay, Jr., of New York, brought her here, as she intended to become a nurse or engage in some philanthropic work. He returned to New York after leaving his sister in the care of Miss Addams, but is now back here assisting in the search.

On the evening of December 30 she went to her room and that was the last any one around Hull House saw of her. All of her jewelry, money and belongings were found in the room the next morning.

Apparently she had sat upon the bed, but had not slept in it. She was thinly dressed, had no money, and knows no one in Chicago, and no one has been found in the Hull House district who has seen her since.

KANSAS LEGISLATORS CONSIDER LABOR LAWS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Jan. 5.—Industrial legislation, including the creation of a court of industrial relations, is the principal business before a special session of the Kansas Legislature convened here today.

The bill proposing the industrial relations court confers wide powers upon the body and has been condemned by union labor leaders as an anti-strike legislation.

$2.50 a line by the month (30 days.)
For all classifications except those listed below: Strictly "Situation Wanted" advertisements, 10c a line daily and Sunday. Minimum charge 20c. 9c a line 3 or more consecutive times. Advertisements for the subheadings, "Carpentering, Painting, Paperhanging," "Drawmaking and Seamstresses," and "Nurses" are not classed as Situation Wanted advertising and will be charged for at the general classified rates of 12c a line daily and 17c Sunday. 11c daily and 16c Sunday, 3 to 29 consecutive times, $3.30 per line, 30 consecutive times.
10c a line daily and 20c a line Sunday for advertisements under the headings of "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," "Stocks and Bonds," "Street Improvement Bonds," "Money to Loan—Salary and Chattels," "Money to Loan—Diamonds and Jewelry," "Physicians," "Medical Treatments," and "Baths and Massage." Minimum charge 32 cents daily, 40 cents Sunday; $4.50 a line by the month (30 days.)
Minimum charge applies to each single and consecutive insertion. Count five average words for the first line, and five average words for each additional line in advertisements not indented, lined up, or capitalized.
The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time. The incorrect insertion of advertising will be rectified only by the cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered. Adjustment for errors will be made in accordance with published rules and regulation. No adjustments for errors will be made for advertising items not affected by an error or for errors which may occur in other items in the same advertisement. The Times will not be responsible for errors of any kind in telephoned advertisements. The right is reserved to classify all advertisements under appropriate headings, and to reject objectionable advertising.
"WANT AD" SUPREMACY.
The Times regularly prints practically all of the "Want Ads" published in all of the other Los Angeles newspapers in addition to thousands of exclusive ads not printed in any other newspaper.
In all classifications—Help Wanted, Situations Wanted, To Let, Automobiles, Real Estate, Business Chances—TIMES LEADERSHIP IS UNQUESTIONED.
By using THE TIMES ALONE classified advertisers can cover Los Angeles and Southern California at one cost.

FILIPINO BREAKS UP FAN TAN GAME.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Jan. 5.—Three Chinamen and a Filipino were arrested here last night on gambling charges, when the Filipino accused the Chinese of cheating, grabbed several hundred dollars on a fan-tah table and fled from the restaurant in which the game was going on.

Charlie Hong, 60; Sam Toy, 60; Ham Gung, 56, and A. Mack, 22, were those arrested. Gung was charged with running the game and was released on $500 cash bail, the others being placed under $100 bail for trial before Judge Hugh J. Crawford tomorrow morning. Police were attracted to the scene when the three Chinese gave chase to the Filipino.

UNKNOWN MAN DIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 5.—W. C. Foss, the aged man who was found in an unconscious condition by police officers near White Park Friday night, died at the County Hospital from his injuries without any further light being shed on the cause of his death. The police believe Foss was run over by an automobile, for the reason that one of his legs was broken. Foss recovered consciousness sufficiently to inform Officer Bunch that he had a sister living about 150 miles from Salt Lake City. The body probably will be interred in this city.

KILLS MAD BULL.

Boy at Laguna Beach Shoots Just in Time.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Jan. 5.—When a 2-year-old bull went mad at Laguna Beach yesterday many residence of the community had to seek safety in their homes, being chased there by the charging animal.

Ed ecte, owner of the bull, attacked it with a pitchfork, and for several minutes a fierce battle raged, but the man was unable to reach a vital point.

The bull then charged Harry Foote, who was going to his father's aid with a shotgun. The young man shot the onrushing animal, which fell dead within a few feet of him. A charge of buckshot between the eyes ended the battle.

FIND BURGLAR LEFT NO FINGER PRINTS

No trace of the daring burglar who was surprised at work in the home of Mrs. Guy Cochran, at 234 Loma drive, early yesterday morning could be found by detectives who, yesterday searched the residence for finger prints. The burglar, who escaped with about $1000 in jewelry and money, when discovered by Mrs. Cochran, leaped from a window and escaped.

LONG BEACH OFFICER GETS NICE PROMOTION.

REPORTS SHOW CITY HOUSING 80,000 PERSONS—WOMEN WANT JAIL FIXED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Jan. 5.—Detective Ben W. McLendon of the Long Beach police department was today appointed assistant Chief of Police by Chief R. A. Newell. The new assistant Chief will head the department in the absence of Chief Newell and when the latter is off duty at all times he will assist in conducting the department. McLendon has been a member of the local police department since 1912.

MANY AT LONG BEACH.

According to an estimate made today by M. E. Paddock, census supervisor of the city of Long Beach, this city at present is housing 80,000 persons. Mr. Paddock bases his estimate on the reports of enumerators thus far.

WANT JAIL FIXED.

Asking that the rats be run out of the City Jail, the roof be repaired to keep out the rain, and requesting immediate sanitary improvement to the municipal bastile, a committee of club women today called upon W. M. Peek, Commissioner of Public Safety.

SHERIFF SHORN BY SUPERVISORS.

Control of Motorcycle Men Taken from Him.

Thousands of His Specials Lose Their Badges.

Cline Defiant, Says will go to Mat with Board.

It was a bad day for Sheriff Cline yesterday. In one fell swoop the supervisors assumed control of the motorcycle squad which patrols the county roads in search of speeders, took out of his hands the issuance of badges for deputy sheriffs, further, the County Counsel is preparing to file a complaint against the Sheriff for the collection of more than $4000 in fees for feeding Federal prisoners gathered in during the war and classified as immigrants. It is charged that the Sheriff retained this amount.

The rush of untoward events which outlined when Capt. Fred Cannon, retired from the civil service list and appointed captain of the motorcycle squad, reported to Supervisor Woodman that Sheriff Cline had reduced the squad to the ranks. It was also reported to Supervisor Bean by a member of the motorcycle squad that of seventeen persons arrested for speeding, only four had appeared in court.

SHOW DISPLEASURE.

The Supervisors showed displeasure at what they considered the flagrant neglect or refusal of the Sheriff to furnish them with a copy of the names of the speeders arrested, according to an order of the board. It was also conveyed to the Supervisors that Capt. Cannon was prepared to carry out the instructions of the Supervisors to the letter.

The Supervisors by ordinance took charge of the motorcycle squad and appointed Mr. Cannon as captain of the squad. This removed G. L. Cline, who had been appointed deputy by Sheriff Cline to succeed Capt. Cannon.

The alleged promiscuous issuance of deputy badges by the Sheriff has at one time been a bone of contention. It was declared that $643 worth of deputy badges have been issued, although legally the county can issue only 100. New badges of a special design will be issued by the county purchasing agent when they will be issued by Supervisor Scherron on application approved by the Supervisors. Only 100 badges will be recognized, which means that the $643 specials carrying the badges issued by Sheriff Cline must turn them in.

SHERIFF SHORN BY SUPERVISORS.

Squad of Motorcycle Men Taken from Him.

Thousands of His Specials Lose Their Badges.

Defiant, Says will go to Jail with Board.

It was a bad day for Sheriff Cline when, in one fell swoop the supervisors assumed control of the motorcycle squad which patrols the highways in search of speeders and took out of his hands the issuance of badges for deputy sheriffs. Also, the County Counsel is preparing to file a complaint against the sheriff for the collection of more than $1000 in fees for feeding Federal prisoners gathered in during the recent drive and classified as immigrants. It was also learned that the Sheriff retained the services of a number of untoward events which caused Capt. Fred Cannon, who was removed from the civil service list and appointed captain of the motorcycle squad, reported to Supervisor Woodman that Sheriff Cline had reduced the number of motorcycle officers from 30 to 4. It was also reported to Supervisor Bean by a member of the motorcycle squad that the badges of these persons arrested for speeding, only four had appeared to be returned.

SHOW DISPLEASURE.

The Supervisors showed displeasure at what they considered the deliberate neglect or refusal of the Sheriff to furnish them with a copy of the names of the speeders arrested, according to an order of the board, delivered to the Sheriff by Capt. Cannon. It was also decided to carry out the instructions of the Supervisors to the letter.

The action of the Supervisors by ordinance took away from the Sheriff the control of the motorcycle squad and placed Mr. Cannon as captain of the squad. This removed Deputy Sheriff Ledbetter, who had been appointed by Sheriff Cline to succeed Cannon.

The promiscuous issuance of badges by the Sheriff has also been a bone of contention. It was declared that $643 worth of badges have been issued, although legally the board can have only 100. New badges, of a special design will be issued by the county purchasing agent, and they will be issued by the Supervisors on application approved by the Supervisors. SEND CENSUS CARDS BY AIR.

Don't Overlook Anybody, is Supervisor's Plea to All Family Heads.

They are in such a hurry to take the census that airplanes are being employed. A machine will leave for Pomona today with supplies for the enumerators working in that district. Cards and blanks will be sent and will reach Pomona in a few minutes.

Philip F. Dodson, census supervisor in this district, urges that the member of the family who gives the information to the enumerator, should remember each one in the household. He suggests that a family census be taken while all are home at night and that this be turned over to the government worker.

moves by the Supervisors to politics and to a fear on their part that he would oppose them in the next campaign. Said he:

"It is a case of some of the board working behind closed doors. They did not consult me as to the best interests of the people. It will probably be decided in the courts whether the Supervisors have the right to appoint deputy sheriffs. I am not going to let the Supervisors run these men they propose to name as motorcycle officers as deputy sheriffs, nor as deputy constables.

"I have no serious objection to letting the board have supervision of the motorcycle squad, and would have been glad to co-operate if the Supervisors had consulted me.

"W. F. Cannon was demoted as head of the squad for cause, for acting merely as a figure-head, instead of riding the county roads as I told him. The Supervisors have no authority to make any change of men in my office, except in arranging their salaries. I shall recognize Ledbetter as head of the squad.

"The Supervisors may change the design of badges for regular deputies, but they have no authority over special deputies' badges.

"The only time any one arrested does not appear in court is in a case of inadvertence in allowing a light to go out, or a doctor on a hurry call.

"I am not required to turn money received for Federal prisoners over to the county. I have won out twice in court on that point."

TAKEN FOR BURGLARY.

Charged with burglary committed at Pomona Sunday, Charles Bennett was arrested at Venice by Deputy Sheriffs Lips and Anderson and other officers and was lodged in the County Jail yesterday.

ANTI-HANISH FIVE VANISH.

Chief Witnesses Against the "Prophet" Can't be Found.

Officers Seek Children with Warrants, but in Vain.

Beeler Re-Arrested Charged with Faking Evidence.

The five children who have been summoned to appear as the principal witnesses in the prosecution of Otoman Zar-Adusht Hanish, self-styled "Master" of the Mazdaznan cult of "sun worshipers" and "Prince of Adusht," suddenly dropped from sight yesterday and all efforts by the State to locate them were fruitless.

The children, against whom Hanish is charged with having committed unprintable acts and for which he was recently indicted by the grand jury on five counts, are Bodo Tahbel, Angelica Sandberg, Audrey Austin Ellis and Sofia Tilton.

With warrants, authorizing the arrest of the children and their detention by the Juvenile Bureau, State Officer J. M. O'Connell and Inspector Carter of the State Board of Medical Examiners and an investigator from Dist.-Atty. Woolwine's office, first visited the Lincoln High School, where Audrey Ellis Austin was supposed to be attending school. Not finding her the officers visited the Austin home at 141 North Avenue 27, where the residence was locked and all window blinds lowered.

A visit was next made to a wholesale millinery shop at Seventh and Broadway, where Audrey Austin was employed. She had not been seen there since Saturday.

At the Hollywood High School, which Bodo Tahbel attended, State Officer O'Connell was informed the Tahbel boy had not attended school yesterday, the first day he had missed since entering it. The Tahbel home at 933 Wilcox street was also tightly locked, and mail in the mailbox indicated the family had been absent for at least two days.

Likewise, the homes of Linda Gault, at 606 North Manhattan ave. nue, and Angelica Sandberg, at 616 North St. Andrews place, were locked and nobody at home.

Hanish is to be arraigned on five charges today in Judge Willis's court. Though the five children cannot yet be located it is quite probable that Hanish will appear, even though he has not been seen since his release from the County Jail several days ago. If he does not appear his bond of $20,000, advanced by Henry Nackenhorst, a San Diego shoemaker, and Mrs. Roxy Lina Iverson, also of San Diego, will be forefeited.

Gilman Beeler, leader of the local "Temple of the Sun," which was raided last Saturday night, and upon whom Hanish conferred the rare honor of "Doctor of Mazdaznan," was rearrested yesterday morning, on a felony warrant charging him with preparing false evidence and his bail was fixed at $2500 by Justice Hinshaw. A previous bail of $1500 was exonerated and a petition for a writ of habeus corpus was dismissed following Beeler's second arrest. Beeler gave bail and his hearing was set for January 13, the same date as the hearing for Arthur F. Gault, president of the Mazdaznan cult, who was the third member of the "sun worshipers" to be arrested by State Officer O'Connell under the direction of Deputy District Attorney Clark.

IGNORES WIFE'S PLEA TO RETURN TO HOME?

SHE SHOWS LETTER SHE WROTE BUT JUDGE DELAYS HIS DIVORCE DECISION.

Harry L. Joannes, a coffee dealer, apparently turned a deaf ear to the pleading letter sent him by his wife, Maude Wellington Joannes, who wanted him to return to her. Their quarrels were trivial, she told Judge Taft in divorce proceedings yesterday. Before he decides the case, Judge Taft wants Mr. Joannes in court.

"My heart goes out to you over these many miles," wrote Mrs. Joannes. "I feel heart-broken over your letter. I cannot believe that you don't want to live in the same house with me. I did my best and you held me at arm's length when all I wanted was a few smiles and to feel that you cared a little. Money does not amount to anything when one is not happy inside. Love means more. Without love other things are valueless. I don't want your money, if you don't love me any more. Why can't we make up our minds to be happy as we can? Please come home."

SAYS JAPANESE SEEK CONQUEST.

Senator Phelan Sounds Alarm at Big Meeting Here.

Declares American Liberty is Seriously Menaced.

Calls Problem Task for Whole Nation to Grapple With.

Branding the Japanese as an acquisitive, land-hungry people, who are insidiously encroaching upon our American independence, and pointing out that 260,000 of them are already enjoying the protection of the United States flag, Senator James D. Phelan last night delivered a scathing arraignment of the "little brown man" before an audience of more than 5000 people in Trinity Auditorium.

Speaking before members of the Los Angeles Anti-Asiatic Association, Mr. Phelan declared the Japanese are carrying out a world conquest plan as well defined as that which was being carried out by the Kaiser's subjects when this country took a hand in the world war.

"They are now in control of the berry, potato and rice industries of this State," said the Senator. "They dominate our agriculture, and sit at a telephone dictating prices to which we are forced to bow. We are not only ready, and willing, but we are able now to protect this nation against the oncoming of a mighty and undesirable horde which would destroy its American character, but if we wait a few years it will be too late."

The speaker produced figures which show that 110,000 Japanese already inhabit Hawaii, while there are 100,000 in California and 50,000 in other States. He pointed to the tremendous rate at which they reproduce themselves, and asserted that in ninety years at the present pace, there will be more Japanese than white people in California.

CALLS IT "SOP."

Discussing the picture-bride system of populating this country with native-born Japanese children the Senator spoke of having seen scores of Japanese picture brides come in on one boat recently. He said the Japanese Association of this State has taken action against the picture-bride system. "And," he declared, with considerable emphasis, "this was done, I feel sure, as a sop, to detract our attention from the real issue—that of Japanese people buying and leasing land in this State. I am told that George Shima, president of the Japanese Association, recently bought 13,000 acres of land in Oregon. They control the Hood River apple industry and are now gliding over into Nevada and Colorado to get a foothold. They impose upon white labor an impossible competition."

Getting back to Los Angeles, Senator Phelan called attention to recent birth statistics given out by County Health Officer Pomeroy, and stated that while whites increase here at the rate of sixteen births per 1000 each year, Japanese increase at the rate of sixty-nine per 1000. Eighty-five per cent. of all the garden truck grown in this county is produced by Japanese, he says, and there is no middleman to take out a profit. The money, he asserts, eventually finds its way back to Japan, taking just that much from our own national wealth. He severely criticised two local steam railroads for employing Japanese machinists to the exclusion of whites. Even soldiers were turned away, he said, but he admitted that it is human nature to get labor wherever it is cheapest.

DEFENDS LEAGUE.

Senator Phelan took sharp issue with the opponents of the League of Nations. "We are losing ground by hesitation," he exclaimed. "We should either be in the League or out of it. If it is a failure we can easily abandon it. In it with Japan we will be in a position to hold her in line and will have the other powers back of us. Outside the League we will be doomed to armed isolation, and may as well get ready to train all our young men for military service, and build up a monstrous war chest, because we will have to be in a position to protect ourselves against not one, but many powers. Our taxes will increase instead of decreasing."

Now that Congress is on the eve of passing a new immigration law, Senator Phelan expresses the opinion that it should remedy the Asiatic menace by constitutional amendment. But he pointed out last night that the situation could be handled by act of Congress or by the abrogation of the present treaty, either of which is a possibility well within a nation's rights, he asserts.

The Senator said he fervently believes that the Japanese will some day control a major portion of Asia in spite of anything other nations can do. He spoke of introducing into Congress a bill to provide for EVIL STAR OVER VESSEL.

Foreman Unloading Burned Cargo of the Crown of Galicia Killed.

William Roser, foreman employed by the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company, was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon when he fell thirty feet through an open hatchway in the hold of the British freighter Crown of Galicia while superintending the work of getting out the cargo damaged by fire in the freighter's hold.

He tripped on a board and fell head first into the shaft breaking his neck. He was 42 years old and lived with his mother at 644 Thirteenth street, San Pedro.

The hold of the freighter was filled with water-soaked cargo after the fire which raged for four days while the vessel was speeding here had been put out. Work was begun yesterday to clear the hold.

General cargo consisting of pianos high-grade furniture, a large quantity of liquor consigned to Victoria, B. C., and other merchandise were damaged to the extent of over $100,000 fire and water.

Balfour, Guthrie & Co., local agents for the Crown of Galicia, announced that they will not handle the consignment of 200 tons of Imperial Valley compressed cotton in 500-pound bales, which is awaiting shipment to Liverpool on the steamship. The cotton will probably be shipped on the Crown of Castile or the Crown of Toledo, both of the same line, which are en route here from the British Isles.

Temple of Pictures and Office Building for Broadway.

Ackerman & Harris Structure to House New Loew Theater Here.

GREAT THEATER TO RISE AT SEVENTH, BROADWAY.

City's Most Valuable Corner Leased for Over Twelve Millions as Site of Palatial Film Playhouse.

Following several weeks of negotiation, Arthur Letts, Los Angeles merchant, yesterday closed a lease for ninety-nine years on his property at the southwest corner of Broadway and Seventh street for a total of $12,500,000, the largest sum ever involved in a lease of Los Angeles property.

The lessees are Ackerman & Harris, who, in anticipation of a successful termination of their negotiations for this immensely valuable property, have already had plans prepared for a combined theater and office building, the cost of which will exceed $1,500,000 and will be one of the finest structures of its kind in America. The new theater, construction on which will start within ninety days, will be operated by Marcus Loew of New York, who is now in control of 250 picture theaters in the United States and Canada. This circuit is owned by Loew's, Inc., a $100,000,000 corporation backed by J. P. Morgan & Co. The purchase by Mr. Loew of the Metro film interests was told in The Times yesterday.

This epochal deal began nearly three months ago, when Mr. Letts received an offer through A. C. Blumenthal & Co. of New York, representing Ackerman & Harris. The first offer is understood to have been on a basis of a yearly ground rent of $100,000. The terms as finally agreed upon in the contracts signed late yesterday, however, fixed the annual rental at $125,000, with an addition of $50,000 in taxes to be paid also by the lessees. Mr. Letts was represented in the negotiations by the Wright-Callender-Andrews Company, the leases being signed by the principals in the offices of the brokers, both Irving Ackerman and Sam Harris being present.

MOST VALUABLE CORNER.

The property covered by the lease, regarded as the pivot of the present downtown business district, has a frontage of 170 feet on Broadway by a like frontage on Seventh street. It is considered the most valuable corner in Los Angeles.

According to Messrs. Ackerman & Harris, who are now erecting a large theater building in San Francisco, to be operated under the same circuit, the one to be erected here will be a twelve-story, Class A structure, containing 425 offices in addition to the theater auditorium and ground-floor stores. It will have 200 feet of store frontage, a roof garden and restaurant, and the auditorium will seat 3000. There will also be a second-floor arcade. In order to enhance the appearance of the building and allow for more spacious approaches, the structure will be set back five feet from the building line on both Broadway and Seventh street.

COSTLY PLAYHOUSE.

It will have entrances on Broadway and Seventh. While the theater itself will be designed primarily for motion pictures, the stage will be constructed with a view to accommodating larger dramatic performances. It is estimated that the building alone will cost $1,500,000, with an additional $100,000 for furnishings. There will also be a costly pipe organ.

The plans were prepared by Reid Bros. and Weeks & Day, San Francisco architects, in conjunction with Thomas Lamb, a New York architect who has supervised all of the theaters built for the Loew circuit. Coincident with the signing of the lease for the property, a contract was made with the Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles to supply the steel for the structure, costing about $500,000. All the materials and labor, according to Messrs. Ackerman and Harris, will be supplied in the local field.

Mr. Harris said yesterday that the theater would be conducted in accordance with the highest standards and that the best pictures obtainable would be shown.

BURGLAR ATTACKS WOMAN.

Neighbors pursued a burglar who attacked Mrs. J. B. Statler in her home at 204 West Thirty-second street, yesterday evening, for twenty blocks through the city streets. At Fourteenth street and Grand avenue, the bandit gained on his pursuers, and disappeared from sight, taking with him about $500 worth of jewelry which he had secured in the Statler residence before Mrs. Statler returned.

The burglar was discovered by Mrs. Statler when she returned from a shopping trip downtown early yesterday evening. No sooner had she opened the front door of her house, when the bandit, clad in her husband's overcoat confronted her. He sought to flee past her, but Mrs. Statler grappled with him. In the wild melee that followed, Mrs. Statler pulled the burglar's hair several times with telling effect, but he finally managed to throw her to the floor. They rolled on the floor until the bandit managed to get a hand free, then he struck Mrs. Statler a vicious blow, stunning her. He wriggled loose from Mr. Statler's overcoat and fled from the house. Mrs. Statler ran to the door, still clutching her husband's overcoat, and screamed. Neighbors, whose names are not known to the police, took up the chase. The burglar ran swiftly north on Grand avenue, but the pack of neighbors kept in view of their quarry for twenty blocks. Then they lost sight of him.

An inventory of the residence, hastily made by Mrs. Statler, revealed that the thief had secured most of her jewelry and was about to leave, when she returned home and surprised him.

HELLMAN IS WINNER OF PICKFORD DOLLS.

Irving H. Hellman, vice-president of the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, was the winner in the drawing yesterday for the four Mary Pickford dolls and the autographed photo of the film favorite that was auctioned off for the benefit of the Actors' Fund of America. More than $1000 was realized by the auction. Miss Pickford also announced that he doll she used in the making of "Pollyanna" will be donated by her to some worthy charity to be put up at auction.

GIRL SUES TWO MEN.

Asks Damages for Alleged Beating During Automobile Ride.

During a ride in an automobile with two men, one of whom is said to be wealthy, Julia Theal, in a suit filed yesterday against Charles Leverett and Guy Coombs, says she was assaulted, beaten and hurled from the automobile and also robbed of $25.

The alleged assault occurred near Sawtelle at 2 a.m., last Tuesday. She said she was forced to walk into Sawtelle. She asks $20,000 damages.

FIRE BUREAU REPORTS.

The report of the Fire Prevention Bureau, sent to the City Council yesterday, showed that during the past week 6686 buildings were inspected and 175 violations of city ordinances were discovered and corrected. Five fires of unknown origin were investigated, and in four cases the causes were determined.

MRS. LESSER TO TESTIFY AGAIN.

Bereft Mother will Help to Attack New's Defense.

To Say He Seemed Sane When He Courted Slain Girl.

State Begins Rebuttal; Case to Jury in Few Days.

Mrs. Alice Lesser, mother of Freda Lesser, the girl whom Harry S. New, on trial before a jury in Judge Craig's court, is charged with having murdered, will be recalled to the stand this morning, it is expected, to testify that New, when he visited the Lesser home and courted Freda, acted sanely and rationally. When she testified early in the trial, Mrs. Lesser, who is a cripple and walks with the aid of crutches, was in a half-hysterical condition most of the time, and was finally led from the courtroom sobbing.

The mother of the dead girl is one of a number of rebuttal witnesses called by the prosecution to meet the testimony offered by the defense to prove that Harry New was insane when he shot his sweetheart. The defense finished at 2:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon, its last witness being Dr. Edward H. Williams, the well-known alienist, who is a member of the Los Angeles County Lunacy Commission.

Following the testimony of Dr. Williams, the District Attorney placed a number of witnesses on the stand to tell, as statements of fact, the appearance of Harry New when they were acquainted with him.

MORE ALIENISTS.

These lay witnesses will finish their testimony this morning, it is believed, and then will come the prosecution insanity experts—Dr. Charles Allen, Dr. D. H. Calder and Dr. Louis Weber—who, it is expected, will agree with the defense alienists that New is a moron, or is feeble-minded, so far as the quality of his intellect is concerned, but will deny that he was insane when he killed Freda Lesser or that he is insane now.

Before the experts of the prosecution take the stand, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine will read to them a hypothetical question, which will be a resume of the testimony from the prosecution standpoint, and then each of the alienists will be asked if in his opinion, New when he killed Freda Lesser was insane or irrational, and if he was able to realize the consequences of his act. To this question the defense alienists answered, "Yes." The prosecution experts will answer, "No," and then will begin their cross-examination by Attorney Le Compte Davis, chief counsel for the defense. This examination, it is expected, will occupy the remainder of today's session. There may be some brief sur-rebuttal testimony for the defense, so that argument is not expected to begin before Thursday. This will take at least two days. The general prediction yesterday was that

The People and Their Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

The Need of Society.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A young woman said boastingly the other day:

"My husband and I are all in all to each other. We neither need nor desire any other company. Our home is our little world in which we live, shut away from all the balance of the universe. When we were first married we used to be invited to dinners and parties and to join clubs and go on little excursions, but we always refused, so now people let us alone to enjoy our solitude of two in peace."

"About the next thing I hear from you will be that you've gone to spend six months in Reno," commented a worldly-wise man, "or else that your husband has eloped with his stenographer. You are taking the short cut to the divorce court, because no married couple can stand such overdoses of each other's society. It is beyond the endurance of even the most heroic. Domesticity has to be diluted down with nine parts of other people and other interests to get it to the point where the human system can assimilate it. Otherwise it is fatal.

"Believe me, my dear, no woman ever makes a greater mistake than when she isolates her husband from all companionship except her own, and barricades the door against the outside world. She may think that that is the way to keep him, and to prevent his interest straying to other subjects than herself.

"In reality, it is the surest way to lose him, because no peroxided siren or black-eyed vamp that her imagination can possibly conjure up is one-half so dangerous as her husband getting fed up with her. Boredom is the most deadly and the most common ailment that afflicts family life. Once let a man get to the place where it makes him tired to even think of coming home at night, and where he visualizes the evening as one long yawn, and everything is over except interring the dead body of love with private funeral services.

"And this casualty is bound to occur, sooner or later, in every home where a man and woman try to live to themselves. They tell each other everything they know, and then are reduced to threshing over old straw for conversation. They know each other's opinion in advance on every conceivable subject. Their life becomes dull and dreary. It is a stagnant pool, with no outlet or inlet, and eventually they are reduced to quarreling just to start something, just to break up the everlasting placid monotony of the dead fond in which they live.

"It is not possible for two people to be all in all to each other. We are built on a wider plan than that. We require all sorts of people, with all sorts of ideas, and schemes, and plans, and with all sorts of experiences and backgrounds, to keep us interested, and wide awake and alert, and any man and woman who is voluntarily shut themselves away from their fellow-creatures do so at their peril.

"For one thing, nothing is more narrow than for people to live just to themselves. It fosters self-conceit, and crankiness, and makes them opinionated, and have an undue sense of their own importance. If you will notice you will see that people who live much alone always get queer, and develop "ways," and are hard to get along with. And they are always dull and tiresome, too.

"It is association with other people that rubs off our angles, and polishes our wit, and makes us mentally supple trying to keep up our end of the conversation. There isn't anybody in the world so wise that he hasn't got something to learn from others. You can get more useful information on any subject by talking five minutes with the man or woman who has specialized in that line than you could by studying the subject a year in books.

"Moreover, there is something in human contact that is an inspiration. It brings out things in us that we did not know were there ourselves, and many a person owes the idea that has won him fame and fortune to some intangible suggestion that was given him by another.

"And think of the selfishness of people living to themselves, of locking their doors and saying they will have nothing to do with the joys and sorrows of others, no interest in their hopes, no disappointment in their failures! Why, they have cut themselves off from half of the joy of living.

"Nor should any young couple, who think they are giving a living picture of domestic bliss by segregating themselves in their own home, forget this, that when they shut their own door against the world they are also shutting out opportunity. Kissing goes by favor in this unjust world, where plain merit is not always rewarded in reality as it is in fairy stories. Men get their chances through personal liking far oftener than they do through their own ability.

"When we get sick we send for Dr. Pills, because we have got acquainted with him in a club and found him a good fellow. We go to a certain dentist because his wife is our Red Cross president, and we give Bobbie Jones a situation in our business because his mother and father give excellent dinners. And we leave the couple who never go anywhere, and whom nobody knows, to work out their salvation the best they can.

"Which is inevitable, for, after all," said the worldly wise woman, "the hermit crab is not the highest type of creation, and I don't see why we should emulate it."

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: How much did President Wilson weigh before his illness, and how many pounds did he lose?

K. T. E.

Answer: After he returned from his last trip to Europe, President Wilson weighed 179 pounds. Dr. Grayson, his physician, says that he has lost weight during his illness, but he could not say how much as the President has not been weighed since he left his sick bed. Dr. Grayson says that he is rapidly regaining his normal weight.

Q.: What has become of Billy Sunday, the evangelist? M. C. H.

A.: When Billy Sunday was on the eve of embarking for France last July, he was suddenly stricken with illness and moved to his home on Long Island for an operation. While the operation was successful, he has not yet been able to resume his religious work.

Q.: How does the United States rank as a hog-producing country, and which raises the most hogs?

S. O. M.

A.: The Department of Agriculture says that the United States is the greatest hog-producing country in the world. Forty per cent. of the world's supply of hogs is raised here. On January 1, 1919, there were 75,-581,000 head of hogs in this country. Iowa is the greatest hog-producing State.

Q.: What is the average age of a U. S. Senator? V. A. E.

A.: The Congressional directory shows the ages of members of the Senate to be as follows: Thirty-five to forty years, two Senators; forty to fifty, seventeen; fifty to sixty, thirty-six; sixty to seventy, twenty-four; seventy to eighty, eight. Several Senators did not give their ages in the directory.

Q.: Who is handling German diplomatic affairs in their country, and what country is acting in that capacity for the United States in Germany? C. A. G.

A.: Switzerland has charge of German diplomatic affairs in this country, and the United States conducts its business with Germany through the Spanish Ambassador at Berlin.

Q.: How much did the Panama Canal cost? F. G. B.

A.: The estimated cost of construction is $375,000,000. These figures do not include $23,000,000 for fortifications and $50,000,000 for canal rights.

Q.: What is the name of the star seen nearest to the moon in the morning, and what distance is it from the earth? M. F. J.

A.: Venus is the star which appears close to the moon in the morning. It looks much brighter and larger than the ordinary star. It is approximately 46,000,000 miles from the earth.

Q.: What language do the people of Belgium speak? L. C. P.

A.: The inhabitants of Belgium speak two languages. About half of the people speak only Flemish, which is a low German intermixed with French. The other half speak French, which is the language of the court. A small percentage of the population speak the German language.

Q.: How should I acknowledge the announcement of the birth of a child to a very close friend of mine? B. F. S.

A.: Upon the receipt of the announcement of a birth, it is customary to write a note of congratulation to the mother. This may be accompanied by flowers or a gift for the baby.

Q.: Are secret service men appointed under civil service? H. B.

A.: These positions are filled by special examinations, and do not come under civil service. A man should be physically sound, and not over forty years of age. Several years' experience in criminal investigation is necessary to be qualified for this position. There is a waiting list of several thousand for these places.

GASOLINE ALLEY—A DETAIL OVERLOOKED

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES"

For Big Business.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read a letter in the San Francisco Chronicle, by a man who claimed to have gone into a clothing store, and was offered a suit at $85; said he wanted one at $60, and was finally offered the first suit at the latter price, to which he answered "nothing doing," as he should have done. If the story is true, that was a plain case of attempted robbery, of the most cowardly type, and "within the law."

The only time I ever asked for a lower priced article in Los Angeles was about two weeks ago, on Broadway, between First and Fifth streets. It was at a semi-fashionable haberdashery; I wanted cuff buttons, was offered a pair at 75 cents; said I just wanted something cheap to hold my shirtsleeves together, and was offered the same pair at 50 cents.

What I am driving at is that cities have a habit of harboring such crooks because they are "business men," and add considerably to the appearance of our trade literature numerically. There are small traders who are honest, and worthy of consideration, but who are usually not very competent in service. In general it may be suggested that a city would be more favorably known for the small number and large and varied assortments and operations of its business houses; for such establishments cannot be bothered with juggling prices; their service has to be impartial, even if somewhat impersonal. Also big business is able to lay itself out architecturally, and put up impressive and consistently lined blocks of streets. Little business is largely responsible for much of the architectural monstrosities—such as one-story fronts elbowing equally absurd skyscrapers, that are typical of this business-obsessed nation.

So, unless you know your small merchant to be trustworthy, avoid him, and give him a chance to go to real work at something where he won't be a superfluity.

Little business is commercial anarchy anyway. A. RUBE.

A Serious Leap Year.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A very interesting news item in the Sunday's Times which stated that some very prominent women of England are strongly advocating leap year as a serious matter and not as a joke, makes a man's freedom an uncertainty, as such propaganda may prove very effective as a universal adoption. The male birds, especially the wealthy ones, will have to be on their guard, for leap year as a serious matter will give the luxury-seekers and alimony seekers an exceptional opportunity for displaying their talents in the subtle art of fascination, which seems very hard to resist in many cases. The item stated that equality of sex is fastly becoming a reality; that women are occupying men's positions and earning men's salaries, etc.; hence the ladies see no reason why women should not have all the privileges of men.

We are not very familiar with conditions in England, but we do know that the gentle sex is not de- gospel truth.—[The Animal's

SETS FIRE LIMITS IN HOLLYWOOD DISTRICT.

In accordance with requests of the Hollywood Board of Trade and the Fire Commission, the City Council yesterday adopted an ordinance extending the fire limits in the Hollywood district.

The district as now outlined includes the following streets: Hollywood boulevard, from La Brea avenue to Vermont avenue; Highland avenue, from Franklin avenue to Sunset boulevard; Cahunga avenue, from Yucca street to Sunset boulevard; Sunset boulevard, from Wilcox avenue to Morningside court; Western avenue, from Hollywood boulevard to Santa Monica boulevard. The outer lines of the district are fixed at 150 feet on each side of the streets mentioned.

Will You Profit by their Experience?

THE AMERICAN RAILWAY EXPRESS COMPANY is now using over 1100 Dictaphones in its various offices throughout the United States. In a month's test made recently covering 18 operators it was found that the average daily output was 1,591 letters per day, at a cost for transcribing of a little less than 3½c per letter.

Whether your office is large or small, we are ready to give you a working demonstration of The Dictaphone on a definite basis of the increased output that means less cost per letter.

MONEY DIVIDES HOME OF LOVE.

Husband Quit Work When She Got Cash, Says Heiress.

Tells Court She was "Crazy" About Mate Many Years.

But Secures Divorce on Eve of Big New Inheritance.

Declaring that for fifteen years of their married life she had been "crazy" over her husband, Alexander K. Sedgwick, a Chicago lawyer, and had stood between him and her wealthy family, Mrs. Kate N. Sedgwick, seeking a divorce in Judge Crail's court, testified, yesterday, that after she had inherited a fortune from her mother, Mr. Sedgwick would not work.

Mrs. Sedgwick will also inherit from her grandmother, now 87 years old, a third of a $3,000,000 estate. She received at the death of her mother, Mrs. H. H. Camp of Milwaukee, $60,000 and stated she spent most of it on Mr. Sedgwick. She gave him money to start in business, but she said he would not attend to it and ran it into the ground.

"He never asked for money but that I gave it to him," she told the court. "I could not live with him any longer; he was drinking. I had left him once before. He absolutely would not work."

Judge Crail gave her a divorce and the custody of her minor child, Alexander K. Sedgwick, Jr. A daughter is Mrs. Frances M. Argall, 21 years old.

Mrs. Sedgwick's father, H. H. Camp of Milwaukee, deceased, owned water works and electric works of Aurora, Minn.

She was represented by Attorneys Goodwin and Morgrage.

Funeral Services Today for Matron of Crittenton Home.

Girls from the Bible Institute, of whom she was especially fond, will sing today at the funeral of Mrs. Emma Van Hook, for four years matron of the Florence Crittenton Home, who died of pneumonia last Saturday. The services will be conducted by Dr. Carl S. Patton at 1:30 p.m., at the Bresee chapel. Cremation will follow.

High appreciation of Mrs. Van Hook's work at the home and of her personal qualities was expressed yesterday by the board of directors and by Mrs. H. M. Hurd, in charge of the home.

SEEKS DIVORCE AND LOST-LOVE DAMAGES.

WOMAN NAMED IN TWO ACTIONS BY WIFE WEDDED THIRTY YEARS.

After being married thirty years, Mrs. Lila C. Dinger was made unhappy by the discovery that another woman had entered the life of her husband, William F. Dinger, she says in a lost-love suit against Mrs. Helen L. Rinehart for $25,000 damages.

Mr. Dinger is said to have a responsible position with the Union Tool Company at Torrance. He lives in Los Angeles. The complaint, prepared by Attorney Douglas L. Edmonds, says that Mrs. Rinehart caused Mr. Dinger to become estranged from Mrs. Dinger by "flattery, cajolery and by displaying her affection for him."

Mrs. Dinger, in a divorce suit, names Mrs. Rinehart as co-respondent. The Dingers were married November 10, 1885. The loss of Mr. Dinger's love is alleged to have occurred about August 15, 1917.

AWAIT TRUCKS' COMING.

It was expected that the new proposed auto truck service for the handling of the mails to and from the Los Angeles postoffice, would be started yesterday, but on account of the nonarrival of the machines Assistant Postmaster Foster now gives the installation date as January 15, or possibly later. It is proposed to use forty autos in the work and but fifteen have been received.

SCIENTIFIC AUTHORITIES PROCLAIM MILK THE IDEAL FOOD

DR. E. V. McCULLUM of Johns Hopkins University, says:—

"Milk is our greatest protective food and its use must be increased rather than diminished. No family has the right to purchase any meat until each member has at least a pint of milk daily. Milk is just as necessary for the maintenance of health in the adult as in the young."

Save your pocket book and serve your digestion. Be good to your stomach that you may live long and prosper. Eat more milk, more butter, more cheese, more ice cream—they are wholesome, digestible and good for you.

RHEUMATISM CANNOT EXIST

In the human body if you will use Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout. It is ridiculous, absurd and preposterous; in fact, it is a pity and a shame to talk about Rheumatism and Gout, much less suffer with it, either inflammatory, muscular, sciatic or any other form of Rheumatism.

Trunk's Complete Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout sells for $1.75, consisting of one bottle Internal Liquid Prescription ($1.25) and one tube Trunk's Adsots Liniment (50c) either of which you can buy separately.

This Prescription does not ruin the stomach, it does not depress the heart. Eat all the meat and good food you wish while taking Trunk's Prescription. It does not contain any Mercury, Salicylate of Soda, Oil of Wintergreen or narcotics of any kind, but it absolutely and positively overcomes any kind of Rheumatism or Gout on earth. What more do you want? There is nothing just as good. It's impossible to get something better. Also excellent Liver Medicine.

For sale at the Sun Drug Co., Los Angeles, and all well stocked drug stores.—[Advertisement.

HAD NERVE.

The man who tried to sell prunes to the American navy at 38 cents a pound ought to get one of Secretary Daniels's hero medals, at any rate.

MUCH WANTED.

It is said that French scientists have extracted 14 per cent. of sugar and 60 per cent. of alcohol from a species of cactus that thrives extensively in Algeria. That's the sort of a cactus that would make a hit in Arizona and there are loud clamors for its introduction.

A REAL TIGER.

Although approaching his 80th milestone Premier Clemenceau has defied the bullets of an assassin and arisen unscathed from a motor smash-up. Now it is said that he is about to marry a widow. Here we have a man who is an absolute stranger to fear and who is alert and ready for any emergency. No wonder the French people love him. The Americans feel much the same way.

WHY NOT AN ADMIRAL?

There are booms a-booming for several military men for President—notably Gen. Leonard Wood and Gen. Pershing; and the Saturday Evening Post has printed a strong push for Herbert Hoover; but the navy apparently is neglected. Why not an admiral for a Presidential candidate? We never had one. Admiral Sims, for instance. His name immediately suggests itself. The admiral's deserts from his country are great. As a sea fighter he has proven his mettle; and his distinguished services in showing up humbugs deserve recognition. He had the keenness and the courage to tell the truth about the Sinn Fein traitors; and he had the brains and the nerve to blow out of water the political medalists of Secretary Daniels—and now bear the applause of the fighting men of the navy! The Times is glad to decorate Admiral Sims with two medals.

SEEKING SILVER.

American silver dollars are worth $1.10 in the Orient and the silver in a dollar is for the moment worth more than a dollar here at home. There is little gold or silver to be had in the routine of business. It is being used to stabilize the world's exchange. Even the jewelers and artisans are having trouble in obtaining all the silver they want in their work. Under the law they dare not melt down American coinage. There are American banks along the border who have large stores of Canadian silver. Much of this was taken at a discount, but now the American jewelers are offering a substantial premium for it and it is said that a considerable quantity of the metal has thus passed into the arts at a handsome profit to the banks. This is unethical from a banking standpoint, but an American may do as he likes with a Canadian dollar, even if he may not mar or mangle one of his own.

TEXAS SEEING LIGHT.

Chairman Hays of the National Republican Committee wears rosy spectacles long enough to announce his expectation that the Republicans will carry Texas in the big election next fall. In spite of the dominance that Texas has had over the Cabinet and the White House the Democracy of the State is so rent by feuds and factions that numbers of leaders have neither the time nor inclination to speak to one another. There is so much of jealousy that any faction would vastly prefer Republican success to the triumph of a rival clique within the party. Therefore they are all pretty well prepared to contribute to that end. The rank and file of Democracy feel that the future welfare and unity of the party can best be advanced through a period of probation and defeat. They are indicating a gladness to help the Republican campaign along. Especially they want a new hand on the Mexican situation.

THE TRAILERS.

The government is going to run a sort of school of instruction for the officials and sleuths who are charged with the enforcement of the prohibition law. It is possible that some of this training may be imparted by mail. The detectives will be told how to remove the clothespins from their noses and have their beaks sharpened for the discovery of unholy scents. They will be instructed in the use of the frumentimeter, which on being placed against the tongue of a suspect will infallibly register all percentages above 2.75. They will be shown how to use the searcho-seizeograph, the delicate mechanism of which, when placed against the bleak wall of any of the six best cellars, will correctly record the contents of the same. A special strain of bloodhounds will be developed to trail the footsteps of bootleggers and a class in practical astronomy will take up the study of moonshine. There will be a system of espionage over retired bartenders and a blacklist will be made of all persons who buy hair tonic or coffin varnish. The Sherlock Holmes medal will be awarded to honor graduates in the School of Discovery and a prize will also go to the inventor of the best trap for blind pigs. Any man who thinks he can still dally with rum after the government experts go into action is doomed to a rude awakening.

BISMARCK AND THE KAISER.

Over a carpet of dead leaves beneath the scraggly trees that form the scant woods about Amerongen there wanders a corpulent Hun with pasty complexion, unsteady gait and a withered arm. Guards scout the forest, clearing the paths and beating every bush. Though attended from a distance, he walks alone; only memory and remorse keep him company. The future is as dark as the lowering clouds that obscure the winter sun; and there is little in the past to offer either solace for the present or hope for tomorrow.

Napoleon knew as he fretted on the rock of St. Helena that history would accord to him an even higher place than to his conquerors. But what consolation can that past offer to the Hohenzollern? The path of his ambition leads only across tombs. He has wasted a heritage that a stronger and wiser man might have preserved and glorified. After many years his follies have found him out.

Had Bismarck never lived there would have been no German Empire, no Kaiser and, perhaps, no world war. But does it, then, follow that Bismarck is responsible for the present wreck of German hopes? Doubtless the Hohenzollern would be glad to have it so. But memory, like a Nemesis, must bring back to him the scene of that last interview when he told the Iron Chancellor that he was amply able to direct the destinies of the German Empire without him. Bismarck had builded a military power that dominated Europe; but even Bismarck did not believe that it could endure unless the German people as a whole were given a directing part in its government.

Bismarck advised that the German people could be led, but not driven. He sought to give them greater privileges both in exercising the elective franchise and in legislation. He advised that the "divine right" of the Emperor should be exercised only with the approval of the Reichstag. The then young Emperor held that, while Bismarck was a good architect, he was a poor administrator. So he cast over the pilot early in his reign, took the helm himself, headed the vessel into stormy and uncharted seas, turned buccaneer and, when confronted by determined enemies, slipped ashore leaving the vessel and crew to their fate.

As he paces those solitary paths through the woods of Amerongen the Hohenzollern has ample time to muse upon the incidents of his eventful life. It would be interesting to know what opinion he now holds about the advice given to him by the veteran Bismarck. How ardently he must wish that the pendulum might swing back thirty years, that the hour when he held his last conference with the Iron Chancellor might again strike! But the moving finger has written. The map of Europe has been remade without German collaboration. The wealthy colonies that were once exploited and pillaged by the government of the Hohenzollern have all achieved their independence. The German eagles are sans teeth and sans claws. The throne that Bismarck builded has crumbled; and the last of the German emperors has become as sorry and contemptible a figure as the world has ever known.

Had Wilhelm II followed the counsels of the Iron Chancellor could he have evaded his present fate? Would it have been possible, even under Bismarck himself, for the German Empire to have endured? For the rest of the world those questions now have only abstract applications. But it would be interesting to know what the Hohenzollern himself thinks about them.

NEED OF TARIFF PROTECTION.

There has not been a Democratic administration since the Civil War that could be trusted to mend the roof while the sun was shining. The only questions which the present government will tackle are those of the immediate moment; and it has adopted a shiftless habit of buying off those who start to make trouble, with the public money. The immediate problems of the war have served to distract attention from one issue with which in times of peace the labor and industry of the country are intimately concerned; that is the question of the tariff.

Mention tariff to a Democratic politician and he will say it is no longer an issue, that it passed into desuetude in 1914. He will point out that the peoples of Europe have not sufficient raw materials to provide for their own necessities, much less to flood our markets with European products. If you tell him that imports for one month of 1919 reached the $500,000,000 mark, the highest in the history of the country, he will either question the verity of your figures or say that it was only the common exception that proves the rule. Democratic politicians have never had brains for finance. The reason is not far to seek; if they were astute enough to master the intricacies of finance they would not be Democrats.

But there is a menace in the present Democratic tariff that, if unheeded now, will become a serious handicap to labor and industry in the near future. The high wages now paid in this country compel high prices for American products. The American shoe manufacturer cannot pay $10 a day to his skilled workmen and compete on equal terms with a foreign manufacturer who pays not more than $2.50 a day. That fact is self-evident; and it is the crux of the tariff issue. The high prices now ruling in American markets are certain to stimulate competition from the outside. It has already begun and it will grow steadily as conditions in other countries approach normal; and if the American manufacturer is not protected by a tariff equal to the difference in the wage schedules, American shops, mills and factories will be compelled to close. The hard times of the Cleveland administrations will return in a magnified form and the problem of unemployment will become more serious than at any other time in the nation's history. To deny that conclusion is to deny the existence of the law of supply and demand.

Storehouses in Southern California are now filled with beans that cannot be moved because the American markets are flooded with beans from Manchuria, which are now selling for less than the cost of growing beans in the California fields. The wage scale in the Manchurian bean fields is less than one-fourth that of California. What is the answer? A stiff tariff must be imposed on beans or wages here must be reduced at least one-half or else the growing of beans in California must be abandoned. What are the free-traders going to do about it? Perhaps they will suggest a nationalization of the bean industry. But the experience of nationalization in other fields proves that it would still further increase the price of beans. The problem is so simple that confusion is impossible.

As the industry of Japan was not affected injuriously by the war it is but natural that the first underselling should come from that source. The same conditions prevails in the silk industry. The silk manufacturers of this country are now being undersold by Japanese competitors. Unless they get relief our silk mills will go under. The disparity in wages is too great to be overcome in free competition.

Underselling on the part of Japanese merchants will be repeated by those of European countries just as soon as industrial conditions in Europe are stabilized. The prosperity of American industry is based on a protective tariff. Such a tariff insures steady employment for American workmen at living wages. Low wages and low tariffs produce a low industrial vitality. One has but to turn through the pages of American history to find that every great industrial depression was preceded by a lowering of the tariff. It benefits the American workman little to have clothing selling for $15 a suit when he cannot earn enough to buy the armhole of a vest.

While stabilization is taking place in other countries our own should be repairing the tariff fences which protect our workmen from ruinous foreign competition. That work will never be performed by a Democratic administration; for the Democrats are still wedded to their free-trade idols. Adequate tariffs have been the products of Republican administrations in the past; and it is to the Republican party that the American workmen must look for future protection. A Republican victory in November will mean a Republican tariff in the following May; not a robber tariff, as the Democratic politicians assert, but a revenue tariff which will at the same time relieve the country of many of its present tax burdens and equalize the difference in wage schedules paid by American and foreign manufacturers. That is the American way. It is the only security for the full dinner pail.

LENINE'S APE.

That Mexico's ship of state is loaded to the gunwale with injustice is not to be wondered at, so long as Carranza is kept at the helm. Each pseudo-patriotic message from his hand is funnier than the last in the light of the facts concerning his power. He represents "the people of Mexico" about as much as a jaguar represents the victim of its fang and claw. He was never elected by the people and keeps an army of banditti between them and himself. He rose to the political surface of Mexico on a corrupt flood of disorderly revolution and our own government is unfortunately open to the charge of giving him moral aid and comfort on his way. How he has requited that recognition is now history, made and in the making.

During the early days of the great war, and before the United States had yet entered it, all the influence of the Carranzistas was directed against us and in favor of the imperial German government. This self-styled apostle of popular freedom responded to the first overtures of Germany as a fragment of stray iron leaps to a magnet. The demagogue answered the call of the autocrat, as demagogues always do, admiringly and slavishly—just as Lenine went down into Germany to get his orders from the same imperial master. Lenine and Carranza are in the same category, so far as moral obliquity is concerned. Both have promised freedom to the people. Both have played Judas. But Lenine, contemptible as he is, is the larger figure, and Carranza is his ape.

The Carranza regime is no whit better than that of Lenine and Trotsky in perfidy to the people and cynical disregard of national honor. That our Washington administration has contributed to this man's rise to power is a matter for regret; but if Carranza were acquainted with the first principles of gratitude he would not have repaid favor with treachery to a friendly and peaceful neighbor. For the poverty-stricken, unlettered and ignorant mass of the Mexican people we cannot but have pity, if not sympathy. Their government has been as false to them as to us. But we are not impotent, as they seem to be. We can and must inaugurate a strong national policy in dealing with the Mexican government and extort that respect for America and Americans that misplaced mildness has failed to win. A lesson has been coming to Mexico for a long time. A policy of watchful waiting cannot be pursued forever in the face of repeated insults and blows. Patience is very different from weakness, and a time arrives when patience ceases to be a virtue.

There is little of honesty to be expected from the Carranza crowd. They have given a paper constitution to the people and protestations of friendship toward foreign powers instead of the genuine articles. Not an effort has been made to raise up the poor, ignorant, vice-ridden element of the Mexican people—steeped in degradation and vicious from envy and hunger. Commerce and industry both suffer from the mulcting of the banks, through so-called receiverships, and the foreign-owned railroads face ruin. "After us the deluge," seems to be the motto of the Carranzistas, as it is that of the Leninos and Trotskys of looted, dishonored Russia.

Mexico, like Russia, has been given over to violence and lawlessness, while its ruler prates of the rights of man and the beauties of self-government. The rich are at the mercy of a rapacious and dishonorable government and the poor are starving. Carranza rode into power on his pledges to remedy these conditions, and his regime has only made them worse. Farcical elections cannot result otherwise than in new proclamations and new iniquities, as in the past. Looting and lying, rape and oppression must go on in Mexico if the present Carranza machine is to persist. There is no alternative. Like Macbeth, he has gone in too deeply to turn back. The better Mexicans have had the heart taken out of them and would welcome any intervention that could give them security for life and property.

STEPPED ON THE LADY.

Mrs. Stickle received serious injury on Thursday at the farm of Mr. E. W. Bancroft. While attempting to get a cow into the stable, and in the act of untying a rope, the animal stepped on the lady. The laborer in charge of the work was temporarily absent and Mrs. Stickle was not used to the work undertaken, and was probably overbalanced by the restlessness of the animal while in a stooping posture.—[British Canadian.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THINKING OF SPRING.

I do not mind the winter weather, when I am seated by the fire, with some chaste volume bound in leather, or with my dulcimer or lyre.
But when the auto must be started, and I must crank her half a day, the winter finds me broken-hearted and yearning for the bloom of May. In spring I merely press the starter, and pistons whiz to beat the band,
but now, a pale and frozen martyr,
I turn a rusty crank by hand. Last night, alas, I failed to drain her, and now the water's frozen hard, and it has cracked the steel container; I hand out language by the yard. I call aloud for springtime zephyrs, for azure skies and babbling rills, for pastures with their grazing heifers, and sunshine gilding verdant hills.
I cry, "Send back the scent of roses,
O Mother Nature, send it back; pray, can these winds that freeze our noses, and put our motors out of whack." I like to hear the north wind howling through long dark nights, to wake the dead; I like to hear the frost king growling when I am safely tucked in bed. But when I try to crank the auto, upon a bleak and bitter morn, I yearn for sylvan nook and grotto, and warm winds blowing through the corn.

WALT MASON.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

My Cousin Anne says that the men
Who board at her house and work
On the "Rep" track used to have
A ten-hour day, and then under Government Control of the rail-
Roads it was cut down to an eight-
Hour one, and she thought How Lovely! and that now they could Exemplify the good system pre-
Ched by Ben Franklin, wasn't it.
Of eight hours for labor, eight
Hours for improvement and recre-
Ation and eight hours for sleep—
And she says, sure enough it Worked out something like that.
For after two years of the eight Hour schedule, one of the men has Improved himself until he is One of the best crap-shooters in Town, one of them has made him-
Self the best all-around bottle-
Pool shark in this part of the State, and one of them who used
To be too bashful even to order
A meal from a Harvey-house girl
Now has the grass-widows of the Town 'phoning him at all hours
Of the day and night.

THREL FALL.

Could Fill the Bill.

Mrs. Clymer was giving a little dinner and her housemaid left without notice during the morning.

In despair the good lady tackled her new work.

"Jane," she asked, fearfully, "what shall I do? Can't you wait at table?"

"Not in the dining-room," was cook's firm response. "But I've had some canteen experiences, so if you'll line up your guests and send them out here with their plates I'll see that they get all that's comin' to them!"—[Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Another reason why Franklin K. Lane is going to get out of the Cabinet is possibly that the Cabinet is too small a place for a man of Lane's mental caliber to move around in. But for the fact that he was born in Canada Lane would today be a candidate for the Presidential nomination.

AS WOMAN THINKETH.

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

Why can a man never understand a woman?

When it's SO easy!

For instance——

She always wants to be the last woman in a man's life—and yet she wants him to make love to her exactly as though she were the first.

She wants him to regard her love as a priceless treasure—and yet to be eager to pay her bills and ready to come across with the alimony.

She wants him to kiss her with all the artistic tenderness of a practiced Lothario—and with all the enthusiasm of an amateur. She wants him to coddle her and treat her like a spoiled baby—and at the same time to permit her to "mother" him, chaperon him and act as his food censor.

She wants him to pat her on the head—and at the same time to kneel down and kiss the hem of her garments, with reverence.

She wants to tell him everything the minute it happens—and at the same time she yearns to be regarded as a deep, dark, fascinating mystery.

She wants him to pay for her "permanent wave" and to buy her idiotic little hats at insane prices—and yet to believe that underneath these she has brains, ideas and sound political opinions.

She wants him to dress like a tailor's advertisement, wear his hair like a poet's, make love like a moving-picture idol, dance like an angel—and at the same time to make a living for her.

She wants him to be strong enough to have made his own career in the past—and yet weak enough to let her map out his future for him.

She wants to be able to make a hero of him with one hand—and a fool of him with the other.

She wants to be the "angel" who appeals to his higher nature and at the same time, to murder all the women who appeal to the other nine-tenths of him.

She wants him to tell her nothing but the honest truth—and, at the same time, to swear that she is the only woman he ever enjoyed kissing.

She wants him to trust her absolutely—and, at the same time, always to be a little jealous—never to be quite SURE of her.

She wants him to caress her with one hand—and to win battles, write checks and make himself a "power" in the world with the other.

She wants him to be frugal, economical and provident—and, at the same time, to tip the hall boys and waiters with princely prodigality.

She wants him to be the sun, moon and stars of her existence—and, at the same time to serve as an umbrella on a rainy day.

She wants him to "understand" her—and, at the same time, to think her the only absolutely perfect woman in the world!

That is positively all a woman wants!

THINGS HUSBAND DON'T DO.

"You did something this morning that you have never done before," said a wife to her husband yesterday. "Twenty tries and you won't guess what it is."

This husband thought of his failings and ventured: "Rinsed the bath after I used it?"

"No," replied the wife, "you will never do that."

"Shut my tie and collar drawer?"

"No."

"Said good morning?"

"No."

"Smiled at breakfast time?"

"No."

"Passed the toast to you?"

"No."

"I give it up," said the husband.

"You folded your pajamas."

Here are other things that, according to wives, husbands never do:

They never leave their slippers twice in the same corner.

Never hang a towel tidily.

Never put coal on the fire until it is nearly out.

Never use an ash tray when there is an empty fireplace.

Never use a hat peg when there is a chair in the hall.

Never ask their wives how they spent the day.—[London Mail.

Behind Time, After All.

There is a road in a Western State which seems unable to form anything like an intimate relationship between its trains and the advertised schedule. These trains are so proverbially late that there is a mild celebration every time one reaches its destination on time.

Once the word was passed through one little town that No. 3 would get in on time and a big crowd gathered at the station. Some generous citizen provided quantities of red fire and set it off along the track.

"What's the trouble?" the conductor asked when he jumped off the train.

"Train's actually in on time," explained the crowd.

"Put out your fires, you idiots," the conductor snorted. "Don't you knew that we're just twent-four hours late?"—[Harper's Magazine.

English Woman With Wit.

One of the best-known women in London's newspaper world, returning from Birmingham by train and endeavoring to make shorthand notes en route, was hopelessly interrupted by a man on the opposite seat who persisted in shouting his political opinions to an acquaintance in the farthest corner, says a writer in the London Evening News. At last he used a phrase containing the word "damn" and turned to apologize to the lady for using such a word.

"Don't mention it," she replied, sweetly. "I have been mentally using the word for the past hour."

And the newspapers of the other passengers rustled through the laughter of their owners.

CALL NEW SANE.
The rebuttal witnesses called by District Attorney late yesterday were H. E. Baring, H. Michael, H. C. Shaback and James C. Beckley, who were acquainted with New when he worked on a ranch at Santa Monica, and who stated that he appeared sane to them while he was there; Lillian Besson and her brother-in-law, E. W. Beason, who told of New's working as advance agent for Beason Bros. show for four months in 1916; Mrs. Ida Seibert, who knew Lillie M. Burger's mother when New was a child of 4 years, and who saw him again when he was 8 years old, and Mrs. Clyde Minnis, Freda Lesser's cousin, who saw New on the occasions when he called at the Lesser home to visit Freda. All of the witnesses declared that, judged by his appearance when they saw him, New was sane and rational.
Dr. E. O. Sawyer, former County Health Officer, finished his testimony yesterday as a defense alienist, stating under cross-examination by Asst. Atty. Woolwine, when asked to consider New's unbroken courtroom demeanor:
"I think New is the least interested person in this courtroom. His manner here is one acquired after many years of brooding."
"NOT FEIGNING."
Q. (by Mr. Woolwine.:) You do not know that he is not feigning?
A. I know that he is not. No person could sit in the courtroom every day as he has done."
Dr. Sawyer was the first alienist to examine New, and he testified that he had reported to Attorney John L. Richardson of the defense that New was insane, and that he (the witness) knew that at that time the defense's line of defense had not been suggested upon by the attorneys.
Dr. Sawyer's testimony concerning a second conversation with New was the most dramatic of the session yesterday, for the expert told what he said New had told him of the murder in Topanga Canyon which led to the tragedy.
"Then," Dr. Sawyer testified, "said he wanted to marry Freda and she said she would not."
"He got awful mad," the witness said New as saying. "She had a gun. She cried and screamed. She called for her father. I took her in my arms and tried to quiet her."
WHO SHOT HER?
Dr. Sawyer then testified that he asked New: "Did you shoot Miss [illegible]?" and that New replied, "I don't know. Maybe I did." Then, the witness said, he asked New, "Did you shoot herself?" and New replied, "I don't know. Maybe she did."
"It looks like a case of fifty-fifty," Dr. Sawyer said he told New, and the latter replied, "What does that mean?" The doctor said he told New, and that New said, "Well, I guess it does."
Raymond Sands, a practicing physician of Ocean Park, told of seeing New there in the spring of 1918, at the request of New's brother, Mrs. Burger, and testified that while he did not believe New insane then, he thought he was "peculiar" and had some mental trouble." Dr. Sands gave his opinion that New was insane when he saw Freda Lesser, and did not realize the consequences of his act.

Appears to be a well-developed plan of "benevolent assimilation" in the new English programme for India.

The French Cabinet will resign as a body January 17. We have it in such good luck in these United States.

Gen. Leonard Wood has started early to clean up the field by getting a soap maker to conduct his campaign for the Republican nomination.

There is such a thing as being too "classy" in this world. The "classiest" waltzer we ever saw never managed to win a single prize in a dancing contest.

There is a banker in this city who looks as pleased when you draw money as when you put it in. At least, so is the report, but we fancy it is much exaggerated.

There seem to be more colored stockings worn this winter than for a long time. Has the corset at last come into her own? It looks very much that way.

Sixty cents is now the price of hair-cuts in Fresno and druggists are overrun with orders for the little machines that are warranted to make hair-cutting easy.

Quite a number of aspiring statesmen have thrown their hats into the ring, but we miss the "mention" of the name of the Hon. Billy Kunkel. He is possibly too busy writing testimonials for patent medicine.

The next thing before the voters' featherheads will be to make Tom Sam cut of another increase in salaries before the lines are passed over to their owners the first of March. Watch the performance.

One of the chief handicaps in expanding our export trade is the fact that men fitted to go abroad are not at the orders. Why should we not public schools be utilized to prepare our youths for commercial service.

We have always had an idea that a man could get a hot breakfast without being compelled to go out to get it and had the satisfaction of his wife's companionship at the morning meal there would be fewer divorces.

Sir Thomas Lipton will have a new yacht of Shamrock IV. the America's cup contender, shortened by 10 feet to increase her speed in a light wind. What the Shamrock V. will need more in the coming will be some accident to the America's cup defender.

President Wilson has ordered the Shipping Board to turn over to the War Department all seven of the former German liners, the disposition of which has been subject to considerable dispute recently. Thus it will be seen that John Bull is overlooking a few of the cards on the international table.

One of the fair price committees back East petitioned the manufacturers to cease making luxurious women's wear. The only way to secure reform along that line is for the ladies not to buy any of the things they can easily do without which is all very well to say but quite impracticable.

The offer of President Wilson to the striking miners that if they would go back to work for sixty days he would appoint a commission to further adjust their claims, means that there will be further advance in the price of coal that will have to be paid by the consumers. It is no wonder that Garfield resigned. No self-respecting man could have done otherwise.

The New York Health Commissioner says that city women ruin their silk stockings and gowns five times faster than their sisters on the farm. It is just possible that the latter imagine they live better. In any event the city girls will get just what they want, including the wrecked clothes, slippers and silks, whether it is to be a long or a short one.

The fortune of many a boy is made up in whisky. He cannot offer to give it less than a month from now, and may not expect it. Many a fortune stands to lose everything by the deal. A fair deal? Whisky will be under the eyes of the government and the money arising from the sale of the stuff out of bond is going into the U. S. Treasury.

President Wilson must be getting better. It is announced that he has no thought of himself as a candidate for re-election, but is concerned to see that the right man is chosen to succeed him as leader of his party. In a word he is about ready to reassume the duties of the Czar and compel the proud and distinguished Democracy to dance to his music. It promises to be a warm summer.

WILD ASTER.

Gay summer, rich and full of pride,
Sends forth your spend and flaunting

The haughty beauty of the dead.

... D. Williams, one of ... alienists in the West, ... of the waifs of the Matteawan ... Manhattan asylums in New York, was the last alienist called by the defense. He declared his belief that New was insane when he killed Freda Lesser, that he did not realize the consequences of his act, and that he is insane now. The witness said he believed New's insanity to be of the dementia praecox type.

"INSANE POSE."

During the cross-examination of Dr. Williams, the District Attorney devoted a great deal of attention to New's courtroom attitude, which has remained the same throughout the thirteen days of the trial. Dr. Williams declared that New's attitude of nonattention is not a feigned pose, but is what the expert called an "insane pose or mannerism." The witness said he had made a special study of prisoners who had feigned insanity, and he testified, "I think we always caught the feigners. I do not believe that New is feigning. I think that he is feeble-minded and insane. No sane man, not even a professional artists' model accustomed to holding a pose, could sit for hours in the courtroom as New sits here. He may be under some strain or stress. He doubtless knows that he is on trial for his life. He may sorrow some, but not as a normal man would."

Dr. Williams, in reconstructing New's mental processes before he killed Freda Lesser, testified: "I believe that New, who is a mental deficient, who had felt that the world had always turned him down because of his birth, at last met a girl who liked him and he liked her, and wanted to marry her. Her refusal threw him into a frenzy, making him think that once more he was turned down, and so he killed the girl. His insanity did not begin then. I do not think he realized what he was doing when he shot or when he surrendered."

Dr. Williams said that while he was at Matteawan he made a diagnosis of Harry K. Thaw, and found that he was insane. He said that he believed that Thaw was now in an insane asylum.

Describing New, Dr. Williams said: "His insanity is of a paraphrenic type in which he shows emotional dullness, insane poses and a vacant stare, and at times his mind runs as if on four cylinders instead of six. He is growing more and more demented."

COURT UPHOLDS JAZZ IN DANCE HALL SUIT.

"HAVE TO BEAR WITH IT," SAYS JUDGE, REFUSING TO CLOSE PASADENA ACADEMY.

Judge Works, in the trial of a case yesterday against Mark Hall, owner of a dancing academy on Summit avenue, Pasadena, had to pass on jazz music. Neighbors complained that the mechanical piano played jazz music which disturbed their sleep, and the attempt was made to have the academy declared a nuisance under a Pasadena ordinance.

"Jazz music is with us," said the court in giving judgment in favor of Mr. Hall, "and we have to bear with it whether we like it or not."

OUR CRIMINALS ARE NEW ONES.

National Crime Wave Due to Them, Says Pinkerton.

New Methods, Lack of Police Records Their Best Aid.

Head of Agency Here to Look Over Branch Offices.

America has developed a new set of criminals in the last five years and crime has greatly increased in that period, according to William A. Pinkerton, veteran head of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, who arrived here yesterday on a tour of his branch offices. He is at the Angelus.

One reason crime has greatly increased, Mr. Pinkerton says, is because the new criminals are unknown to the police by feature, fingerprint or Bertillon record. Further, he said, their methods are new and hard to understand. Mr. Pinkerton has been engaged in detective work since he was 15 years old, when he was with his father in the secret service in the Civil War.

The Pinkerton company was organized in 1850. It has been in the hands of three generations since that time, Mr. Pinkerton being a member of the second. Allen Pinkerton, a nephew of the visitor, is at present on a ranch near Riverside where he is resting. The control of the company rests in these two men, Allen Pinkerton being the junior member.

The report that William Pinkerton is to retire was denied by him yesterday. He said that the company was so organized that should any member withdraw, there would be no halt in its work. Mr. Pinkerton expects to die in the harness. The company now protects between 12,000 and 15,000 banks, besides the Jewelers Security Alliance and the Jewelers Protective Union.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS IS ISSUE IN SUIT.

JUDGE HEARS GOVERNMENT'S CASE AGAINST STANDARD AND OTHER COMPANIES.

Taking of testimony in behalf of the government in the suit brought by the United States against the Standard Oil Company and other corporations and individuals, was begun before Federal Judge Robert S. Bean, yesterday. The prosecution is in the hands of Henry F. May and Charles D. Hammel, special assistants to the Attorney-General. It is expected that the testimony, so far as the government is concerned, in its action to recover possession of a quarter section of rich oil land in Kern county, will be concluded by this evening, when an adjournment will be taken to San Francisco, where the Standard Oil Company will put on its defense.

The land sought to be recovered by the government is technically known as the northwest quarter of Section 28, Township 32 South, Range 24 East, containing 160 acres, and asserted by the government in its bill to be worth more than $500,000.

The basis of the suit of the government is the proclamation of President Taft, September 27, 1909, withdrawing certain lands from all forms of public entry, including the land in controversy, and it is declared that up to the date of the Executive order no discovery of oil had been made on the land

PRAISE FOR AUDITOR.

Supervisor Dodge Shows Large Sum Collected by Office.

Chairman Dodge announced yesterday that the annual report of the Board of Supervisors, just completed, shows that the Auditor's office, conducted by Auditor Payne, has collected, from delinquent taxes, penalties and interest, during the year ending June 30, 1919, over $700,000, of which amount $134,000 was interest and penalties. This more than pays the entire running expenses of the office.

Since July 1 the delinquent-tax collections have shown an increase of 20 per cent. over a like period of last year, indicating that owners of property are better prepared to redeem delinquent property this year than last.

WAR HELPED FRANCE, SAYS VISITING ABBE.

SCHOLAR TELLS OF AWAKENED PUBLIC SPIRIT AND OF GREAT REBUILDING.

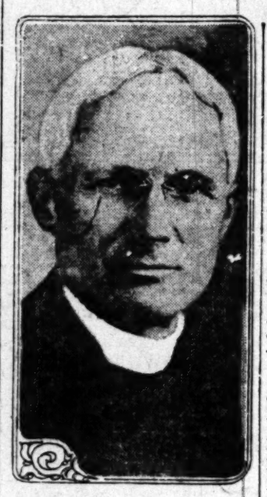
The devastated sections of France, which for four years were occupied by the Germans, are rapidly being rehabilitated, and another year will find Northern France a region of thriving, bustling communities, Rev. Fr. Ernest Dimnet, abbe of Lille, declared yesterday afternoon. Abbe Dimnet is at the California Club, where he expects to remain several weeks, during which time he will deliver a series of lectures about France and the war.

Except for the devastation in the occupied area, France is better off as a result of the war, he says. He declares that the first real election France had in forty years was the latest one, and he explains this by saying that a new France voted: that for the first time in many years the people of the middle class have taken an interest in an election, with the result that the Chamber of Deputies is now composed of men with a real mission.

Abbe Dimnet has taken a degree in English and has taught English literature, first at Lille University and, since 1902, at the College Stanislas, Paris. He is the Parisian representative of Yale University.

In October and November of last year the abbe gave a course of lectures at Harvard University. He has several engagements to speak here. First, he is to lecture before the local French Society; he will address the Friday Morning Club soon, and then will lecture at the various universities in California.

One of the particular reasons for his visit to America is to secure



Rev. Ernest Dimnet.

$100,000 for the hospital at Lille. There are thousands of workers at Lille, he says, "who are out of work at present, and are compelled to pay for medical attention because of injuries and sickness incidental to the war. These workers are the men of Lillie who made the lisle goods so common in America."

FIRE DESTROYS HOME.

An electric iron early yesterday morning started a fire in the home of J. Ratzer, 4574 Finley place, that drove the entire family to the street in night clothing and destroyed the dwelling. The loss amounts to $2000.

Best Treatment for Catarrh S. S. S. Removes the Cause

For the Blood.

Once you get your blood free from impurities — cleansed of the catarrhal poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils; and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy, S. S. S., discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long standing case, be sure to write for free expert medical advice. We will tell you how this purely vegetable blood remedy cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. We will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from Catarrh, after consistent treatment with S. S. S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features. Don't delay the treatment. ASPIRIN—A Talk

Take Aspirin only as told by "Bayer"

The name "Bayer" identifies the true, world-famous Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years. The name "Bayer" means genuine Aspirin proved safe by millions of people.

In each unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" you are told how to safely take this genuine Aspirin for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis and for Pain.

Always say "Bayer" when buying Aspirin. Then look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on the package and on the tablets.

Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages.

Aspirin is trade mark of Bayer Manufacture Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

Quick, Harmless Way to Remove Wrinkles

This season brings wrinkles to many sensitive skins that are much exposed to winds and changing temperatures. To make an effective wrinkle remover, mix an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is affected. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties. Use it once a day for a while and see how it will improve your facial contour.

This simple lotion cannot harm the most delicate skin. The treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance. But be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite.—[Advertisement.

New Hair Remover Works "Like Magic"

(Positively Removes Roots and All)

No discovery of greater benefit to hair-disfigured womankind has been made in recent years than the marvelous phelactine method. It is entirely unlike and much superior to electrical, depilatory or other methods, because it actually removes the hair entire, roots and all—before your very eyes—easily, quickly, harmlessly! Get a stick of phelactine from your druggist, follow the simple directions, and you will be astonished and delighted with the result. It is odorless, non-irritating, and so harmless a child could safely eat it. It leaves the skin so soft, smooth, hairless, that not the least sign of your former trouble remains.—[Advertisement.

COUNCIL HIT TWICE BY INCREASED COST.

The City Council yesterday encountered two examples of the increase in the cost of living. It renewed the contract for leasing the premises at 616 West Ninth street, used by the Board of Public Utilities as a gas-testing station, and found that it has to pay $50 a month instead of the former rental of $30 a month therefor.

It also received notification from the Board of Public Works that in the new contract with Ezra T. Stimson for light, heat and power for the City Hall and annexes, the price for the ensuing year will be raised from $400 to $450 per month, "due to the greatly increased cost of labor and fuel required in connection with the operation of the plant."

Tulare Exchange Connects up Homes with Pulpit.

Father Causes Arrest of Son on Assault Charge.

Notes of General Interest from Tulare County.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE—Members of the First Methodist Church, who, because of illness or other reasons were unable to attend services of that congregation Sunday, had the unique opportunity of hearing over the telephone the addresses of the day delivered by the Rev. C. R. Montague.

Electricians of the local telephone company installed the transmitting apparatus on the speaker's desk in the church, and the sermon was thus carried over an open-wire system at the central exchange.

The first test of the system, which is said to be the first of the kind attempted on the Pacific Coast, was entirely successful.

WHIPPED HIS "PA."

TULARE—John Ravisconi, a vineyard owner of the Waukena district, caused the arrest of his 17-year-old son, Richard, on a charge of assault and battery. The complainant exhibited a bruised and battered countenance in support of his affadavit.

When the boy was arrested at his ranch home he was armed with a revolver.

He was dismissed on probation by Judge Rush, after the administration of a severe lecture.

STOP FRUIT SHIPMENT.

EXETER—Two carloads of oranges, which are said to have been secretly packed for shipment at a local packing-house, were seized by S. A. Sexton, the Deputy Horticultural Commissioner for this district, and will doubtless be destroyed.

The fruit was mostly of culls and undersized oranges, which, the commissioner ruled, are not fit for general sale, under the terms of the new standardization laws of California.

OFFICER FINDS RUNAWAYS.

VISALIA—Fred Funston, aged 17, and Glen Barber, 16, youths, convicted of crimes in this county, who were being taken to the State Industrial School at Ione, escaped from a Southern Pacific train and were captured a short time later in the grounds of the State Hospital for the Insane at Stockton, according to a report from Officers Cannon and O'Dair, who had the boys in charge.

When the two lads were found in the tankhouse of the asylum grounds they had just finished filing off their handcuffs.

BUYS NEWSPAPER.

PORTERVILLE—John R. Bell, formerly of Storm Lake Iowa, where he was a successful publisher, has purchased from Leslie McAuliff and W. B. Knapp the controlling stock in the Recorder Publishing Company, publishers of the daily Porterville Recorder. Mr. McAuliff, who has been editor of the publication for the past eight years, will retire from the newspaper business to give his attention to his ranch interests.

FAVOR TORRENS LAW.

VISALIA—Plans are to be put into effect at once by the various locals affiliated with Pomona Grange, the county organization, to induce members generally to record the title to their farm property under the terms of the Torrens Act.

It is said here that, while this system is in general use in Southern California, few ranchers of this portion of the State have taken advantage of it. Thus far, five special petitions under the terms of the land law have been filed with the County Clerk.

PROSPEROUS POMONA.

Building Permits Show Substantial Growth of City.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Jan. 5.—Building permits in Pomona during the last six months of the year, which has just closed represent an outlay of $151,000, according to an announcement of Building Inspector L. W. Cowles. During the fiscal year which closed last June, the permits amounted to only $56,000. In other words the value of the permits issued by the first half of the present fiscal year are nearly three times greater than they were during the entire preceding like period of time.

The remaining six months of the present fiscal year are sure to show a greater percentage of gain, for during that time permits for the new Y.M.C.A. building will be taken out.

City Asks for Water Stored at Devil's Gate.

Recall Election Date Tentatively Set for Feb. 11.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Jan. 5.—Formal action was taken today by the city of Pasadena to acquire for municipal use some of the water which will be stored by the Devil's Gate flood control dam in the Arroyo Seco here.

The municipal water department has filed with the State Water Commission notice of intention to claim the water impounded by the dam. It is expected the State commission will hear the application this month.

Pasadena is the first applicant for the water.

AUTO HITS POLE.

Two men were seriously injured early this morning when the auto in which they were driving at considerable speed struck a telephone pole at Lincoln avenue and La Canada road. The injured men are Marino Espinosa, 517 Hammond street, and M. Flores, 552 Westgate street. Both were removed to the County Hospital.

STADIUM IS PROPOSED.

Suggestion that Pasadena sell the present Tournament Park and, with the proceeds, build a great stadium in the Arroyo Seco, in which to hold the Tournament of Roses football game and other public events, was made here today by J. J. Mitchell, vice-president of the tournament association. There is much talk here of an amphitheater of larger seating capacity than Tournament Park for the New Year's football game.

ELECTION IN FEBRUARY.

February 11 has been tentatively set as the date for the special city election on the recall of City Commissioners John J. Hamilton and M. H. Salisbury. This will be within the legal time prescribed by the charter, being not less than thirty days nor more than forty days after the certification of the legality of the recall petitions by the City Clerk.

GARDENS CLOSE AGAIN.

Busch gardens have been closed to the public again, Mrs. Lily Busch, the owner, opened them especially for New Year's and the three days following. The gardens had been closed to the public since June. It is estimated that 150,000 persons visited the gardens during the four days. Mrs. Busch is carrying on negotiations for the sale of the gardens.

INSURANCE COMPANY MUST PAY, SAYS COURT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Jan. 5.—Friends of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Everett of this city have been informed that the First District Appellate Court has decided that the Standard Accident Insurance Company must pay her $7500.

After the death of Francis J. Everett, it was learned that he lived in the East as James F. Cowie, and when he left there he left a wife. Without getting a divorce he married Mrs. Everett and lived here with her for twenty years. The insurance was made payable to her, but the insurance company claimed that she was not his legal widow, as Cowie left a wife in the East. The court decided she was. The defense claimed that the burden of proof rested on the insurance company to show that Cowie had not obtained a divorce somewhere in the United States.

HOME TREATM FOR BAD C

A Method Which Proves Relief in a Single N

Colds probably cause more sickness than any other single cause, and also probably lead to more serious forms of disease than any other common complaint to which human beings are subject.

The secret to overcoming a cold, getting at it in its early stages, and home treatment is generally successful, it is allowed to develop into pneumonia, bronchial trouble or grippe, is that it is advisable to employ a laxative.

For home treatment of colds and grippe there is no remedy like Laxative Grip Fix for which the formula is said to be a compound of Quinine, Cascara, Ferrous Citrate, Capsicum and other ingredients. This treatment is said to be universally advised by physicians as not only relieving the cold but also leaving no ill after effects.

The action is said to be prompt. It checks the fever, relieves the aching muscles, opens up the bowels and clears up every organ of the body.

If Grip Fix is taken according to directions—two tablets every two hours for 6 hours and one dose every hour for the sufferer goes to bed—a severe case of bad cold in a few hours, or the kind usually suffered from, is said to be overcome by buying it be sure to get Laxative Grip Fix with the name on the box, as there is no other genuine. Or ask the druggist who approaches it. On sale at all drug stores. 30c box at all druggists.

NEW HOPE MAY DEFEND COAST.

California, Stanford in Line for Chance at Title.

All Western Football Teams Fighting for Position.

Conference Ruling Looks Like Small Town Stuff.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

An entirely new entry may be in the Coast in the East vs. football classic next season.

Southern fans have become so accustomed to looking to Oregon and Washington as the defenders of their football fortunes that it is with difficulty they will disassociate their ideas with the annual event.

Oregon, aspires, and laudably so, to enter the lists again at Pasadena next year. But Coach Shy Huntington would seem to have before him almost insurmountable difficulties. Bill Anderson, Ken Bartlett, Basil Williams, Brother Hollis and Keith Williams have played their last game for the Lemon-Yellow. All of them will be lost to Oregon, either through graduation or other means. Thus goes the last vestige of the marvelous machine which defeated Pennsylvania in 1917, and leaves only a shadow of the team which defeated Harvard to fight for its life. Coach Huntington must supply the substance. True, he has a hardy nucleus around which to build, but the remodeling of a team once it disintegrates, sometimes seems as great as the building of a coral reef. If Huntington succeeds he will indeed be the miracle man of the year.

The component parts of the Washington eleven, which defeated Oregon, long since melted into the general mass, and are now exercising their splendid energies in other directions.

Just how it looks like an open season with no favorites. Possibly, a team from California or Stanford has attained the gridiron greatness which will entitle one of them to the highest honor in football. But a Southern California entry will not bound the range of possibilities.

Conservationally, every team worthy of note in the West will have this year as its goal in view when the football season opens next fall. No one can cherish a more worthy ambition.

Several have written asking if the New Year's crowd in Pasadena was entitled a record for the Coast. We have no definite data on the subject, there is every reason to believe that it was a new mark. The next largest crowd that I recall having witnessed an athletic event on the Coast was several years ago in San Francisco, when California and Stanford played on the old Folsom-street grounds to an estimated gathering of 30,000. This immediate section established another record last fall, when the Big Blue and Tigers wound up the season before the most massive crowd in the history of minor league football. Miss Los Angeles and her neighboring sisters sure are becoming sporty. For every person who witnessed the Oregon-Harvard game one was turned away, which means that 35,000 would have been present in the cold. And it been a warm day. The slight deficiency in seating capacity should be remedied next season. Inadequate facilities alone prevented the possibility of establishing a new conventional mark for attendance.

YANKEES GET MIGHTY RUTH.

Greatest Baseball Slugger Sold to the New Yorks.

Prexy Ruppert Refuses to Tell Purchase Price.

"Babe" had Hunch that the Deal Would be Made.

Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning. Late last night he announced that he had met Babe Ruth on the Griffith Park golf links yesterday afternoon and had signed articles with him, completing his purchase from the Boston Americans.

Huggins refused to mention the figures involved in the purchase, but stated that all arrangements were highly satisfactory. He said that it was the biggest deal ever pulled off in baseball. He would not state the salary involved.

The deal, according to Huggins, was completed at 5 o'clock. At 6:30 Babe Ruth said he had heard Huggins was in town, but had not seen him. It looks as though a certain ball player, one of the greatest hitters of all time, and now engaged in the movies, has a darn poor memory.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The purchase of Babe Ruth of the Boston Americans by the New York American club was announced tonight by Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York club. Col. Ruppert refused to state the price paid.

Ruth has a three-year contract with the Boston club, made last season, calling for a salary of $10,000 a year. He is reported, however, to have declared recently that unless this sum was boosted to $20,000 he would not return to Boston.

The famous home-run hitter demanded this increase on the strength of his last season's batting record, when he broke all previous major league records by hitting twenty-nine home runs.

A BIG OFFER.

In refusing to name the price paid for Ruth, Ruppert admitted that he understood an offer of $100,000 for the player was refused last summer by Harry Frazee of the Boston club.

Ruth, who is 26 years old, joined the Red Sox in 1915 as a pitcher. Last season he was transferred to outfield duty, where he batted .322, as well as establishing a new major league home-run record. He made 12 three-base hits, 34 two-base hits and received 101 bases on balls from pitchers who preferred to pass him. Ruth pitched in seventeen games and yielded an average of 2.97 runs. As an outfielder he erred only twice in 258 chances.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—President Harry Frazee of the Boston Americans said tonight he had sold Babe Ruth to the New York Americans because he thought it was an "injustice" to keep him with the Red Sox, who "were fast becoming a one-man team." He did not disclose the purchase price.

Ruth, who is the world champion home-run hitter, recently returned his three-year contract, which called for a payment of $10,000 a year, without his signature, demanding a much larger salary. Mr. Frazee said he would use the money obtained from the New York club for purchase of other players, and would try to develop the Red Sox into a winning team.

ANCIENT HISTORY OF MODERN GOLF.

BY EUGENE W. NIXON.

Golf is a funny game. I know my friend, the English Prof., will think that I am using the wrong word. He will think that I mean the game is amusing, or fascinating, or remarkable, or unusual, or asinine, or something else. Well, I do, all that and then some. And the only word I know that will properly characterize this so-called game is "funny"—and in fact I feel that we may even safely say that it is doggoned funny.

FUNNY BEGINNING.

Golf had a funny beginning. The driver was originally a shepherd's crook used to hook temperamental young rams who were bound for other pastures green; and all the fifty-seven varieties of clubs that young Algernon Percival has his hump-backed caddy nurse so tenderly are descendants of that original crook.

One day several centuries ago a sheep-herding ancestor of a Douglas Grant or a William Watson was wandering aimlessly over the beautiful hills of Scotland when he came upon a small stone lying near a rat hole. The shepherd, without any purpose in mind, gave the stone a wallop with his crooked stick that a shepherd always wears and the stone rolled into the rat hole and another blight had come upon this vale of tears and sorrows.

ANOTHER BLIGHT.

Now, mark you, if the stone had missed the hole nothing serious would have resulted from this incident, but as it happened, the stone went into the hole, and the next day the shepherd and his friend were shooting at rat holes at a penny a hole, and today, after 400 years, a million golf-crazed men are charging up and down the course at Midwick and Altadena and San Gabriel, muttering gibberish about "birdies" and "bogies" and "a ball on the first nine and a ball on the second nine and two on the game" and a "snort at the nineteenth," while a million lonely and sorrowing ladies are living examples of the "wife in name only," and millions of children know their father as the man who carries a bunch of funny sticks instead of a pair of ice tongs.

WORSE THAN THAT.

The professor would say that the game is fascinating, but I say it is worse than that. If a man ever plays once he never gets over it. It's worse than tobacco or liquor or morphine as a habit. It's funny how it gets you.

When I was a kid I took a chew off the hired hand's plug of Horseshoe and I have always had a feeling since that I could get along without tobacco. And once I ate a Welsh rabbit and drank a couple of glasses of cider, or something, and the doctor had to come in the night and give me a shot in the arm, but neither the rabbit nor the shot in the arm, nor whatever it was I drank ever became a habit with me. But the first time I stood on a tee and took a wallop at that little old pill and watched it sail down the course, I knew at once I should never get over it, and I hope I never do—I don't want to get well.

EXPENSIVE.

It's funny how hard golf is to learn, and to what trouble and expense men will go to learn it. We have a man at our club who has been at it about a year. He has learned to play a pretty good game, but it has cost him just $10,000,000. He is one of Andrew Carnegie's crop of steel barons, and the millions is what it cost him to desert his business.

WRANGLE ON GRID DATES.

Manager Henry Bruce of U.S.C., is experiencing difficulty in lining up an attractive football schedule for next fall.

California and Stanford had both been counted on to fill dates on the Trojan calendar—the games to be played at Bovard Field. California, however, refuses to play the week before the "Big Game" with Stanford, and the Cardinals have scratched the Thanksgiving Day date because it follows so closely the contests with the Bears. Consequently Bruce is stumped.

It is possible that games with two of the Northwestern universities will fill the vacancies caused by the California and Stanford withdrawal. Bruce has a tentative contest lined with the Oregon Aggies for November 6, and Manager McClain of Oregon has promised to bring Harvard's late opponents here on Thanksgiving.

TRIS TO MANAGE AGAIN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, arrived in Chicago yesterday direct from his farm in Texas, and after he had talked for an hour with Jim Dunn, president of the Cleveland club, one would gather that the two had formed a conspiracy to win the American League pennant next year.

Tris met Jim Dunn, boss of the Indians, here yesterday, and made it known that he was hooked up as manager of the Indians for life or good behavior. At least, one might judge that much, for Tris and Dunn acted like a couple of pals instead of a club owner and manager.

"When I went with this fellow," said Speaker, "he showed me enough that now I am willing to stick with him forever. The Cleveland club next year is sure to be in the fight for the pennant. If we have the pitching I think we will be in the fight at the finish.

"I am going to Detroit from here for a day of personal business regarding automobiles, and then I am going to Cleveland to arrange some matters preparatory to the spring training trip."

SPEED CLASSIC SUNDAY.

Starting off the 1920 speed year with a world's record for 100 miles, Ascot Speedway next Sunday will have even a more sensational programme of the go-fast stuff. With all of the stars now here competing there will be held the twenty-five-mile national championship, and a fifty-mile Ascot championship.

The twenty-five mile event was awarded to Ascot by the national board controlling motorcycle racing, and corresponds to the championship award in motor cars. It is the most important twenty-five-mile race of the entire year, and therefore is eagerly sought by not only the riders, but the factories.

In addition to the twenty-five-mile championship there are one, two, three, five, ten, fifty and 100-mile titular events, but these probably will be held at Sheepshead Bay or some other eastern speedway. That Ascot received one of the races was in recignition of the course's importance in the speed world.

TO THE FAR EAST.

Charles W. Carter and wife, Clemmie P. Carter, and their daughters, Jessie M. Carter and Edna L. Carter, living at 424 North Madison avenue, Pasadena, yesterday filed their applications for passports allowing them to go to China, Japan and Hongkong. They expect to sail from San Francisco March 6.

BASKETBALL MEN TO MEET TONIGHT.

A meeting of the officials of the Southern California Basketball Association will be held at 7:30 at the Y.M.C.A. tonight. The purpose of the gathering is to make final arrangements regarding schedules and rules.

Each of the city high schools will put three teams in the field—120-pound, 145-pound and unlimited classes. It is interesting to note that in case of a tie such as existed between Hollywood and Manual during the football season the winner will be decided by the work of its lightweight team. This is the decision of the vice-principals.

Approximately fifty officials belong to the association, but twenty more are wanted. The list of the members follows:

G. C. Whittle, president, L. A. High; R. E. Musser, vice-president, Hollywood High; R. E. Squire, secretary, Huntington High; M. J. Evans, Hollywood High; H. Kellet, The Times; E. F. Harward, Edwards & Wilder Co.; C. N. Green, Harvard School; V. B. Moon, Covina High; R. J. Call, Throop College; F. Foley, Hollywood High; C. Solomon, Hollywood High; L. F. Servis, Burbank High; T. S. C. Hollywood High; F. M. Johnson, Hollywood High; W. A. Stillwell, Y.M.C.A.; R. Hanawalt, Y.C.A.; R. W. Shiver, Compton High; R. W. Haag, Y.M.C.A.; A. R. Yeomans, J. C. Burke, City High; H. W. Moore, Chaffey High; R. DeLapp, Chaffey High; W. A. Hall, Chaffey High; Rod Weiman, L. A. High; W. B. Bergman, L. A. High.

CROMWELL MAY HANDLE TRACKWORK AT U.S.C.

Though nothing definite had been announced it is expected that Dean Cromwell, former track trainer of U.S.C., will take charge of the Westerly cinder-pathers this spring.

Manager Bruce intimates that negotiations are now under way to secure Cromwell's services.

NORMAN ROSS COPS AUSTRALIAN FURLONG.

[CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MELBOURNE (Australia) Sunday, Jan. 4.—Norman Ross, the American swimmer, won the 220-yard championship sprint in an athletic meet here today. Spencer and Gallister, Americans, won the tandem bicycle race with a purse of £20. Fourteen teams competed.

...NACK TO TANGLE ...WITH FREEDMAN

...Speed Merchants to Clash in Main Event at Doyle's.

...Brown and Kramer Scheduled for Hair-Raising Go.

...Little Danny Edwards Picks Out a Long Opponent.

TONIGHT'S CARD.

Allie Nack vs. Sailor Freedman, 135 pounds.

Young Brown vs. Danny Kramer, 128 pounds.

Danny Edwards vs. Sammy Gordon, 116 pounds.

Louie Rees vs. Carl Martin, 125 pounds.

Frankie Monroe vs. Young Cumpston, 125 pounds.

Joe Miller vs. Benny Allen, 118 pounds.

Allie Nack and Sailor Freedman, 135-pounders, will box the main event at Doyle's Vernon arena tonight. The two boxed a draw at San Diego a few weeks ago and each believes that he will be able to cop the verdict when they clash tonight. Tom Jones, the man who handled three worlds champions, put in the boost for Freedman that landed him the match. Jones insists that Freedman is the goods and Matchmaker Wadhams is taking his word for it.

Danny Kramer, the southpaw grapper, will give away a bit of weight and go up against the toughest bout he has had at Vernon when he meets Young Brown in the semi-windup. Brown is always aggressive and Kramer has a habit of holding back and slamming in a long left hand that is a real trouble maker. The bout promises to be filled with action.

Little Danny Edwards is matched with Sammy Gordon, the lanky youngster from Portland. They will be a funny appearing pair in the ring, but each has plenty of class, and they could put up a good scrap from start to finish.

The preliminary bouts look good. Louie Rees and Carl Martin, 125-pounders, are matched, and Frankie Monroe will take on Young Cumpston. Joe Miller and Benny Allen will box the curtain-raiser.

INAUGURAL 1920 POLO SET FOR NEXT SUNDAY.

FASHIONABLE CORONADO COUNTRY CLUB IS READY FOR THE BIG EVENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 5.—The inaugural match of the 1920 polo season of the Coronado Country Club will be played Sunday afternoon, it was announced today by Maj. Colingros, club secretary.

It was announced today that Reggie Weiss, a member of the Midwick Country Club of Pasadena, and rated at four goals, will arrive about Friday, and will be given a place on the American team.

Weiss shipped his horses here several weeks ago, and they have been put through considerable practice. T. B. Jenkinson, a member of the Calgary polo four, arrived at Coronado this afternoon and probably will be given a position on the Canadian team, as he is a valuable player. Jenkinson brought with him a string of twelve experienced polo horses, and they were given a workout this afternoon on the field. Practice games will be held at the Country Club Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. Saturday and Sunday afternoons will be reserved for match games.

TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD AT L.A. HIGH.

Track prospects look bright at Los Angeles High School. With practically all of last year's team on hand, the Pioneers are figuring on cleaning up this spring. Last year the Blue and White won the city meet, placed second in the Southern California and third in the State meets.

In the 440 L. A. has Thurmond Clark and Ernie Rothe. High jumping are Capt. Frank Becker, Lester Hughes and Noyes. Johnnie Boyd and Lewis Chandler are the milers, and Howard Wilson, Terrill Stevens and Kenneth Holland will run the half.

Chet Sherman will hurdle and broad jump; Dennis and Parke will pole vault, and George Schaeffer, a new man, is expected to show up well in the sprints.

MILITARY PLANES AS TRAIL BLAZERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Two De Havilland-four military planes left Chicago at 8:53 this morning for Omaha, Neb., to blaze the trail for regular service west.

The planes will stop at Iowa City about 10:30 for gasoline and oil. They are due in Omaha shortly after noon. Pilots Nuter and Smith are in charge.

Regular mail service from Chicago to Omaha will be inaugurated January 8. No mail is being carried on the trial trip this morning.

HARVARD TEAM HITS CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The Harvard University football team, which defeated Oregon at Pasadena, New Year's Day, 7 to 6, in one of the greatest intersection contests in history, passed through Chicago today on its homeward journey.

"The game was a great thing for intercollegiate athletics," said Manager Fred W. Moore. "Although we were severely criticised for making the trip at the start, I think we have cemented an athletic friendship between the seaboard institutions that will last a long time."

TIGERS HAVE A FULL BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Manager Harold Dryden of Occidental College yesterday announced the Tiger basketball schedule for the coming season as follows.

Tuesday, January 13—Whittier at Whittier.

Saturday, January 17—S.B.U.C., at Glendale High School gymnasium.

Wednesday, January 21—Throop at Throop.

Saturday, January 24.—Pomona, at Pomona.

Wednesday, January 28—Redlands at Pasadena Y.M.C.A.

Friday, January 30—Whittier at Pasadena Y.M.C.A.

Saturday, February 7—Throop at Pasadena Y.M.C.A.

Tuesday, February 10—Pomona at Pasadena Y.M.C.A.

Saturday, February 14.—Redlands at Redlands.

Tuesday, February 17—S.B.U.C., at U. C.

Friday, February 20—U.S.C., at L.A.A.C.

TROJANS START CASABA PRACTICE IN EARNEST.

With the resumption of classroom work after the holiday session, basketball practice has started in earnest at the University of Southern California. Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson yesterday put in an appearance for the first time in two weeks and expects to give his large crew of candidates real work from now on.

Beginning next week the Trojan basketers will work out on the L. A. A.C. courts three nights a week. Manager Henry Bruce made the announcement yesterday.

SCOVEL BROTHERS OF MANUAL LOOK GOOD.

Manual Arts has a couple of crack distance runners in the Scovel brothers. These birds should give the other prep runners in Southern California plenty of competition this season. The pair finished one-two in the cross-country held at L. A. High shortly before the holidays.

DATES ARE SET FOR PREP CINDER MEETS.

The dates for the city and Southern California prep track meets have been announced by the committee of vice-principals as follows: March 27, city meet; April 3, Southern California meet; April 10, State meet. The latter meet will be held in the north this year.

LOYND IS CAPTAIN.

Maylond Loynd has been elected captain of the 1920 Manual Arts football team. He played guard on the 1919 eleven.

JOCKEY NOLAN HAS A PUNCH.

Clever Eastern Pilot Shines as Slugger at Ascot.

Wins Two Events and an Impromptu Scrap.

Washday Races are Only of Mediocre Kind.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Master T. Nolan, a jockey from the effete East with a pair of nifty hands, cut considerable of a swath at Ascot Park yesterday in more ways than one. Not being content to show our own pilots a rifle or two in the riding line, he took it upon himself to demonstrate that his clever hands were made for more than one purpose. The exhibition took place in the jockey room after the fifth race, and Nolan instantly qualified for a bout at Jack Doyle's rustic pavilion.

While changing clothes he had a rumpus with Jockey Guy, who, he claimed, had cut him off on Frosty Morn. Nolan had the mount on Rutland Arms and he thought the interference had cost his mount the race. Instead of airing his grievances to the judges, Nolan took matters into his own hands and gave Guy a lickings. This gave the crack eastern pilot three verdicts in one day, for he had ridden two winners, and, for a spell in the final sixteenth of the fifth race, it looked very much as if he were going to make it three straight. Both jockeys will be up before the stewards this afternoon for a hearing.

AN OFF DAY.

Monday being an off day in the racing line, the card was rather of mediocre quality. The best field of the afternoon's sport faced the barrier in the fourth race, a dash of five furlongs. The winner turned up in Crispin, cleverly ridden by Jockey Nolan. First, Cal Curn and then Clear Lake set the pace to the stretch, where Juanita Frederick took up the running. Along here Crispin, always in forward contention, soon moved up and disposed of Frederick's pretensions, and then assumed an easy command to the end, winning by two lengths from Mineral Jim, who finished with a rush, and nipped Clear Lake a nose on the post for the place. Time 1:01 2-5.

The day's opener, a five and a half furlongs spin, went to El Sable, a rather consistent performer. He forced a terrific pace throughout and stood gamely to his guns under punishment in the last sixteenth, winning by a scant length from Von Dillon, who beat Dot H. about the same distance for the place. Time 1:08 2-5.

SOME CLASS EH?

Some class to King Dick, and he comes rightly by his regal cognomen. Living true to his title he would not condescend to go to the post unless he was chaperoned—this to divide the attention of the motley throng with his equerry. It looked pretty flooey for the King in the early stages of the dash, but on the bend for home he moved up and challenged the pacemaker, Judge Ellsworth, as soon as he did, the Judge closed court and abdicated. Then the King frolicked on about his business, winning as his rider elected by three lengths with Ellsworth four in front of the exhausted Santiago White, which by the way took kindly to the barrier, and actually broke with his field. Time 1.01 1-5.

Borel under the guidance of Nolan's nifty hands proved much the best in the third race, at five furlongs. Lady St. Patrick spinning along on high for the first half flicked a defiant pair of heels to

LEAGUE FROWNS DOWN BETTING.

Baseball Moguls to Stop Gambling on Games.

Directors to Make up Playing Schedule Today.

Managers Get Busy and Sign Few New Men.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Although the magnates of the Coast League gathered at the St. Francis Hotel today to adopt a playing schedule, one of the first things done was the adoption of a resolution declaring war on the baseball gamblers. President McCarthy is given power to refuse admission to any park in the league to anyone caught gambling. Betting on ball games was very brisk last year, especially in San Francisco and Los Angeles and a determined effort will be made this year to stamp out the evil. The magnates will likely be at work all day tomorrow, for schedule making is about as delicate work as building a Swiss watch. Then after it is adopted, no one is satisfied.

Lou and Charley Moering were on deck to represent Sacramento; Bill Essick sat in for Eddie Maier of the Vernon club; Judge McCredie of Portland, Jack Cook of Salt Lake, W. H. Klepper of Seattle, Cal Ewing of Oakland, Johnny Powers of Los Angeles and Charley Graham of San Francisco, with Dr. Strub and Secretary Putnam as staff officers, comprised the gathering.

CLYDE BUSY.

While club owners were upstairs talking business Clyde Wares of Seattle, and Ernie Johnson of Salt Lake, two brand new managers, were busy hiring ball players downstairs.

Ernie Johnson left a fanning bee long enough to step around the corner and buy an outfielder by wire from the Indianapolis club. The player's name is Alex Reilly, a left-hand hitter, who is expected to do better work than Mulvey did last year.

Not to be outdone, Wares walked right up to Rod Murphy and signed him—just like that. Rod will play either third base or first base for Seattle and Ray Bates will be expected to play at either first or third. Either of them can play both bags, but neither of them can play both bags at the same time, thereby making it necessary for Wares to get two men for the two positions.

TO LOSE SPENCER.

Manager Johnson of Salt Lake says that Catcher E. Spencer will not be with that club next year. He is willing to listen to a trade. Seattle needs a catcher, but has nothing to trade. Johnson will also trade Ralph Stroud, a pitcher who won nine straight and then jumped the club last season, but he will not trade him in this league. He says Stroud is too good a pitcher to give to any other club in this league.

Los Angeles wanted Krug of Salt Lake, and Johnson said he was willing to take Curly Brown, Doc Crandall or Johnny Hassler in exchange, so there will be nothing doing.

Clark Griffith of the Washington club has offered to trade Sam Agnew, a catcher, for Bill Rumler, the hard hitter of the Salt Lake club, but Johnson would not listen to such an offer. Several other big league clubs would like Rumler, though they all passed him up when he came to Salt Lake.

VERNON EASY.

Bill Essick of Vernon says the champions need little fixing. Bobby Meusel is the only player he loses, so if he gets an infielder and an outfielder he will be ready. He will look a long time before he finds a youth who can bat in as many runs as did Meusel last season, however.

The Los Angeles club needs a lot of players, and Red Killefer is going East pretty soon to try his luck.

The Oaks are about filled up; the Seals will close a deal probably this week for the players they need; Judge McCredie expects help from Detroit and Seattle hopes to land a first-string catcher and a high-class shortstop before the end of the month, and then the boys will be getting ready to go to training camps.

COACH TURNS JOB OVER TO ASSISTANT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

URBANA (Ill.) Jan. 5.—George Huff, for twenty-three years coach of baseball at the University of Illinois, has turned that department over to one of his pupils, "Potsy" Clark. Huff remains as director of athletics at the university, but said today he had reached an age when coaches should bench themselves.

In Huff's years with baseball, Illinois won eleven championships and tied for the honor once. Huff became nationally famous in 1902 when he took his team East and vanquished Yale, Princeton, West Point and Pennsylvania, but fell before Harvard, 2 to 1. Among stars turned out of Huff's squads were Jake Stahl, Carl Lundgren, Fred Beebe, Ed Pfeffer, Cy Falkenberg and Ray Bennett.

her companions, but after she had straightened for the run in, she suddenly suffered from a defective valve and quickly subsided. It was here that Nolan clucked Borel into an easy lead and simply breezed home three lengths before Louise Mac, which beat Doveridge the same distance for the position. Time 1.01 3-5.

BELLOWS TO MEND.

Frosty Morn, jitting along as if pursued by the fairies and the gnomes, attempted to make a runaway race of the fifth, a six and a half furlongs dash, but had bellows to mend entering the final argument and soon fell into a retrograde movement. A sixteenth out Little Abe under stress of the whip, bulled his way to the front and won going away by two lengths from Medford Boy, which finished about the same distance in front of Frosty Morn. Time 1.22.

Emelda, a fast mare from the stable of Al Monroe, won the final race, thanks to a splendid piece of riding by McBride, who nursed her cleverly along for six furlongs; made his run at the right time and held Gomul safe all through the last 100 yards. Emelda won by a length, while Gomul finished two in front of Dehra for third money. The race was at one mile. Time 1.44 2-5.

The entries for today's races follow:

First race, five furlongs:

that the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference is planning to kidnap Pasadena's football classic. Such a move, if made, could have back of it only a petty jealousy hardly worthy of the representatives of great universities. Frequently, it is regretfully true that college undergraduates take themselves rather too seriously, and display a tendency to assume an unwarranted dignity over things which are in reality mere trifles in the whirl of worlds and transformation of matter. Sudden and violent assumption of authority is one of the easiest things an undergraduate does when placed in a position of imaginary responsibility. These symptoms are not confined to college youngsters. They are to be noted elsewhere at a certain age. The growing, masculine intellect must pass through it, just as the body must run the gauntlet of colic, mumps and measles. It is as inevitable as a change of voice. Twenty-one is the unterrified time of life. World problems which would stump a Clemenceau, a George or a Wilson are tapioca for the rising young citizen standing on the threshold of his first ballot box. All of us passed through that painless period. Then came the mental moulting period in which we were forced to discard the feathers of fantasy. The mind at twenty-one is just cutting its teeth, preparatory to masticating some real problems. A college boy, like any other boy, makes a useful citizen only after he has been kicked around in the school of experience for a few years. The Tournament committee is composed of mature, competent gentlemen, and thus far they have registered no mistakes of judgment in making their selections for the annual game. Incidentally, this is a matter effecting the happiness and peace of mind of the general public—the public which by its tax paying and giving makes possible the colleges and universities with their incomes and endowments, and without which nobody would have a chance to grow into a gridiron hero.

According to the dispatches, Everett team has been suspended two years by the Washington State High School Athletic Association for engaging in a post-season game with Scott. Splendid token of appreciation for a team which so splendidly upheld the prep prestige of the West. Of course, rules are rules. But why such a rule? In a pinch, a fool rule might even be overlooked. Either somebody was suffering from an ingrowing desire to assert his authority, or the committee is composed of squeaky old gentlemen with the ruddy complexion of chalk dust and foreheads which stick up like retaining walls.

BEGINNINGS OF MODERN GOLF.

ness, and the five thousand is the estimated cost of his shoe leather and the brassies he busted getting out of bunkers. But this gent doesn't care. He has learned to keep both feet on the ground when he takes a stroke, and the other day he won a ball in a tournament and he figures he is even with the game—and I believe he is.

Golf is a funny game because you can get such a variety of sensations out of it. If a beautiful young lady promised one day to marry you and then changed her mind the next you would be disappointed, but no as much as if you had a twenty-foot put started straight for the hole and it hit something and bounded out of line. If you were all even on the eighteenth tee and your second landed on the green, dead for a three, you would be more elated than if you were suddenly to inherit a million dollars; but if your opponent's second shot landed on the green and trickled up to the cup and dropped in, you would feel worse than if your wife had run away with the chauffeur or the government had decided to retain control of the railroads.

GOOD IN GOLF.

But it's funny, too, how much good there is in golf. It keeps men young and strong and healthy, and a man who has just shot a game of golf can sit down at his desk and do more work in two hours than he could in a day with his belly full of cob webs and his digestive system all clogged up. And it helps men to develop that imperturbable sang froid and that superiority to the accidents of this uncertain existence which is so much to be desired.

And if the golfer's wife doesn't see him as much as she might, she at least loves him more for that springy step and that ruddy glow of the cheeks and that cheerful smile. And while the children may possibly mistake father for a burglar, the chances are that they respond all the better to that hearty voice and strong right arm. Golf sure is a funny game.

BOWLING NOTES.

Interest is at fever heat in the Merchants' and Manufacturers' League. The first standings got out by the secretary show the race to be unusually close with the Wetherby-Kayser Shoe Company leading by a small margin.

Ruben George of the Chesterfield cigarette aggregation got off to a good start and lead the individual with the excellent average of 19; Charley Johnson of the B. H. Dyas Company, holds the high game record with 226.

BASEBALL NOTES.

It would not be surprising to see the Angels do the bulk of their training at the Vernon park. As yet they have failed to make satisfactory arrangements for an out-of-town camp. However, Killefer would rather take the club to some resort, preferably one with a spring spouting hot water. The spring would come in handy for boiling out purposes, while he could keep better tab on the athletes by having them all under one roof.

There is a report in baseball circles that President Powers may endeavor to secure Rowdy Elliott for the Los Angeles club. Rowdy balks at reporting to Brooklyn, to which he was sold recently. He says he intends to remain on the Coast, and has expressed a preference for the San Francisco club. However, a berth with the Angels doubtless would be acceptable to him.

With Boles apparently making good on his retirement, the staff now consists of Johnny Bassler and Pete Lapan. Bassler is a finished backstop, but to do the bulk of the work through a lengthened season would be a severe ordeal on him, and probably dull his effectiveness. Lapan is a bear for work, and a good hitter, but his limitations are know to baseball men. He is not a catcher who would get the maximum results out of a young pitcher, and lacks finesse in breaking up an opposing attack.

Because of the pressure of private interests, President Maier was unable to attend the annual meeting in San Francisco. He simply outlined his policies to Bill Essick and sent the latter north with his proxy.

In order to add zip to the spring games between the Chicago Cubs with the local clubs, Owner Wrigley of the Cubs may hang up a silver cup for the winner. The plan is favored by William Vieck, president of the Cubs, who is here arranging the training schedule for the Cubs. Fred Mitchell and his players are due to arrive in Pasadena on March 2. The campaign will start with a game at Tournament Park, subsequent games with the Angels and Tigers at Washington Park on March 6, 7, 13 and 14. In addition to this the Cubs may play games with either the Tigers or Angels in other California cities.

Buck Weaver and Bill James, of the White Sox, Toots Schultz and Gene Doyle will engage in a foursome on the Griffith Park links this afternoon. The baseball athletes are going in for golf pretty strong. Their only kick is that they are not permitted to wear spiked shoes on the greens.

Seems that at least two of the world series performers will be missing when the roll is called. Chick Gandil is planning to quit baseball and go into the automobile accessory business. Hod Eller of the Reds has struck a coal mine or something of the sort, and thinks he sees more money in it than is to be taken out of baseball.

ANOTHER MESSAGE TO MANUFACTURERS

TEN days ago we printed in the leading newspapers of the country an announcement of our work.

We ask those who are with us in our efforts to establish the re-use of good used power, industrial and process machinery, for their assistance in the location of such machinery.

In some cases entire plant sites can be adapted to other uses. If you have an idle plant or idle machinery of any kind you can help ease the production shortage of the country by letting someone else pay a fair price for your idle machinery.

During the war there was an over production in many lines, in others, production was curtailed. The industrial unrest that followed has sadly depleted production in many lines. Deliveries are long and prices are high. Plans for new and added manufacturing facilities are held up. You may have buildings, machinery, tanks and apparatus, none the worse for a few years' wear, in your plant. This does not mean worn-out, obsolete equipment ready for the junkman, but good useable equipment. It you don't need it you are entitled to a fair price for it, and someone else does need it. Look over your plant equipment and let us know your surplus.

Our engineers will inspect and if desirable we will buy. We buy and sell complete plants suitable for manufacture of the essential needs of the country. A distillery is now used for manufacture of syrups and sugar substitutes. A brewery is now used for manufacture of an essential oil, another is turned into a successful canning factory. A munition plant is turned over to the production of a fertilizer.

Our staff includes some of the ablest engineers and chemists of the country. These are at your disposal. We tell you what can be done with your idle plants or idle machinery. We will interest other manufacturers to go to your city or town and establish an active industry there.

Write us fully what in this "readjustment period" you have to dispose of and what you need.

Our staff is made up of the best and most practical men we could secure for our work. Keep in mind that we neither buy nor sell anything that has not been carefully inspected by a trained man.

The business executive who reads this announcement will understand why in a business of this kind we could not afford to have anything but the best talent that money can buy. We maintain a large staff of men to supervise careful dismantling, packing and shipping. Our service department follows shipments to destination with a clear knowledge of all transportation facilities.

The Character of Our Service is Best Expressed in This Letter That Came to Us Unsolicited

Personnel of our Organization

At the head of our power department is a man who was previously associated with one of the large central station holding companies.

At the head of our inspection and dismantling department is a man who was chosen by the government during the war to supervise a $17,000,000 project.

At the head of our special apparatus department is a man who was previously general manager of one of the largest munition plants and has designed and built special apparatus for evaporating and drying for the last 20 years.

At the head of our chemical research department is a man who has been well known and active in chemical and explosive work for over 15 years. We offer the service of these men and their departments to solve your "reconstruction problem," to modify or remodel your idle plants so someone else can use them and to apply your idle power and process machinery to an essential industry.

Att'n of Mr. R. D. Kehoe

My dear Mr. Kehoe:-

I have just been advised that the man you sent to Warren Hook to see personally to the delivery of the Pulley to replace the broken one on the fusion kettle we bought from you recently made delivery of this equipment to our Bayway Plant at 9 P.M. yesterday.

This completes so far as I can see at the moment, all that we need to operate the unit we have set up at Bayway, and I take this opportunity of saying to you that the untiring effort at your office, especially that of Mr. Grosso, which has given us the opportunity of assembling this plant in the very short time we have, is more than appreciated. In fact, without the co-operation you have given us, we could not have accomplished what we have and as our large operation on this product is going to stand or fall on the result of the Bayway unit, you can readily see how important the early starting of the operation is to us.

It is needless for me to say that there will not be an item which there is any chance of your handling that we shall require for the plant we have under consideration that you will not have every opportunity to figure on for us.

With best wishes, we remain,

Yours very truly,

RALPH L. FULLER & CO. INC.

P.S.-Mr.

Complete Lists of Machinery on Hand

In our house-organ "The Economist" we print complete lists of all plants and machinery available for immediate delivery. We shall be glad to place on our mailing list the names of all manufacturers who would be interested in receiving the information contained in this publication. Our service is quick, it aims to please, it puts everything aside to make a satisfied customer, a friendly client, and a booster.

Plants and Machinery Now Being Re-Distributed By Us

Our stock includes all the ice and refrigerating machinery used by E. I. Du Pont DeNemours, and Hercules Powder Company during the war, which is being bought and used in this country, in foreign countries, including India, South Africa and Japan, by manufacturers of ice, cold-storage plants, candy and chocolate manufacturers, packing houses, glue manufacturers, dairies and creameries, chemical and dye-stuff manufacturers. The value of this equipment alone was over $1,000,000.

From the Trenton, Canada, plant, of the Imperial Munitions Board, we are selling hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of power, process and industrial equipment, including everything from small air compressors up to large hydraulic presses, cars, tanks, boilers, special dying apparatus.

From another large munition plant used during the war by the Aetna Explosives Company, we are selling large stocks of machinery and equipment, suitable for oil refinery or chemical or dye-stuff plants.

We are offering a complete distillery plant with grain warehouse, power plant, cooking and rectifying units, evaporators, etc., suitable for use in manufacturing special food products, table syrups, or for production of 10,000 gallons of alcohol per day.

We have bought and are selling all the filter presses, nitrators, sulphonators, and evaporators of one of the largest dye manufacturers in the United States.

We own or control the sale of over $10,000,000 in plant or machinery value.

SUGGESTS SUBWAY COMFORT STATIONS.

BUSINESS ROOMS ARE IN TOO MUCH DEMAND TO BE AVAILABLE, BACKUS REPORTS.

From various sources the City Council, from time to time, has been urged to make provision for more comfort stations in the downtown district, and today the Board of Public Works will send to the Council a report from Chief Inspector of Buildings Backus, and ask for instructions on the subject.

Mr. Backus states in his report that he has made an exhaustive investigation of the possibility of installing comfort stations in privately owned buildings, and finds that it is impossible to obtain any rooms or buildings of a suitable character at a reasonable rental at this time.

"Such locations might have been obtained immediately after the closing of the saloons a year or more ago," says Mr. Backus, "but since that time the demand for store-rooms of a like character has increased so much that there are none now available. The necessity for public comfort stations is becoming more and more pressing, and I am of the opinion that something should be done toward installing the same, and as an alternative I would suggest that such comfort stations be located partly under the street and partly under the sidewalk, at such locations as may be designated by your honorable body."

You Wouldn't Want to Wear False Teeth, Would You?

Sound, beautiful teeth in themselves are no guarantee that the need of false teeth won't come later in life, unless "Acid-Mouth" is checked.

Mouth acids are comparatively mild, yet they are very persistent. In time they weaken the hardest enamel, and force cavities through which germs enter and destroy the soft interior pulp.

95 in every 100 persons are said to have "Acid-Mouth," and all of us should be on our guard against it.

Brush your teeth twice a day with Pebeco and have your teeth examined twice a year by your dentist.

ALL IS LOVELY AFTER FRACAS.

Burge Won't Resign, Neither will Home nor Heath.

"All are Working for the Same End," Says Mayor.

Lively Time is had by All at Meeting, is Rumor.

Ruffled feelings were smoothed out yesterday, and the dove of peace found a more or less permanent resting place at a two hours' conference in the Mayor's office between those involved in the little tilt at Ascot Park Sunday between Police Commissioner Burge and the police, under the command of Capt. Heath.

As a result of it all, it was announced last evening that Commissioner Burge will not resign; and that the same can be said for Chief of Police Home and Capt. Heath. The Mayor stated he had no condemnation to offer to Commissioner Burge, although his raid orders at Ascot Sunday did somewhat gum up the previously well-laid plan of himself and Chief Home and Capt. Heath.

"All of us are working for the same end," said the Mayor last evening. "We may have different conceptions as to the proper move to make at a certain time, but we all want to work for the best interests of the city as a whole, and to suppress race-track gambling, the evils of which it is not necessary to discuss.

"I had a full understanding with the police department as to the plans they had laid. We determined to gather such indisputable evidence as would be certain to win a verdict from any reasonable jury, and it was expected, had these plans been allowed to fully mature, that today application would be made to the District Attorney for felony warrants for men participating in gambling at the race track.

"Mr. Burge was not informed of these plans. We had no idea of his undertaking to visit the race track, and had he been aware of the plans, I feel certain he would have cooperated in carrying them out. The result was that he was much stirred up when he did visit the race track and saw conditions there, and it is only natural that he should, in the situation, have demanded immediate action.

"In our conference today we discussed the matter in all its phases, and there was a full and complete understanding when we separated. The disagreements of Sunday are a closed incident. We will not consider them any further, but will look to the future, and will do our utmost to suppress book making and other gambling."

While the long conference between the police officers, Commissioner Burge and the Maylor was in progress, rumors about the City Hall were that both Commissioner Burge and Chief of Police Home had threatened to resign; but Mayor Snyder declared last evening that there were no direct statements to that effect, and that he had pointed out to the men present in the conference that "Men do not resign, but stay on the job and straighten out their differences."

SEVEN PAINTINGS IN NEW HARRISON GIFT.

VALUABLE WORKS GIVEN TO MUSEUM TO PLACE IN AMERICAN ARTIST COLLECTION.

Mr. and Mrs. William Preston Harrison of 2837 Sunset place, who have made many gifts of paintings to the Museum of History, Science and Art, yesterday presented the museum with seven paintings by contemporary American artists. The prize painting of the new group is a large canvas entitled "An Interlude," by Walter Macewen. This painting was exhibited in Paris and was one of the honor paintings at the Panama-Pacific Exhibition. Five of the new paintings replaced five previously given, but are superior.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, in May, 1918, presented a valuable collection of twenty-eight paintings by American artists to the museum, so that a new gallery had to be provided for their proper exhibition. Extensions will be made to the gallery to accommodate the paintings in the new gift.

Mr. Harrison stated it would continue to be the ambition of himself and wife to improve the collection of paintings whenever opportunity presents itself. He was accompanied to the Board of Supervisors by W. M. Bowen, president of the museum board, and Howard Robertson, secretary.

The paintings donated yesterday were a New Year's gift to the county.

PERFECT BABY IS LOOKING FOR HOME.

Does any one want to adopt a 100 per cent. baby? Out Hollywood way lives a little beauty, aged 11 months, who has been pronounced by physicians to be physically and mentally perfect. Moreover, both Georgia and her parents are perfectly respectable, and the only reason Georgia is willing to be adopted is because her father and mother are too poor to care for her, having two other children to feed and clothe. Besides, Georgia's mother is an invalid, having fallen ill five months ago and never having left her bed since. Any one desirous of inquiring further concerning Georgia is requested to call telephone 577667.

CELEBRATE FOUNDING.

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Klauber-Wangenheim Cigar Company was celebrated Saturday night with a banquet at the Union League Club, salesmen of the concern being guests of the officers of the company. The speakers were E. E. Klauber, Anthony Schwamm and I. E. Weber of the firm.

KILLING CASE DELAYED.

Hearing of Frank Jovanitti, who gave himself up to the police and admitted he shot and killed Modesto Cerrutti on January 21, 1917, was continued yesterday by Justice Palmer, until the 19th inst. The continuance was taken upon request of the defense, so that a brother in San Francisco may appear to testify. His attorney says Jovanitti has delusions that his brother is dead and has left him a large fortune.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY LADY JANE.

Ebell Club.

At the annual business meeting of the Ebell Club yesterday afternoon reports of committees were features. Mrs. Mathew S. Robertson, president, reviewed, briefly, the achievements and possibilities of the various departments of the club, and in speaking of matters to be taken account of, said, "Women are now held responsible for the high cost of living, as they have been held responsible for many unfortunate things ever since that first episode in the Garden of Eden. So I am happy to announce that we shall immediately begin an attack upon the exorbitant prices of necessities."

Mrs. Ilot Johnson, chairman of scholarships, of which Ebell is carrying eight in Los Angeles city high schools, read her report, stating that $1053 has been contributed for scholarships this season. Mrs. Frank Flint of the Rest Cottage executive board also read a report, quoting from an article published in The Times to the effect that the women of the city owe as much help to the mothers of the married poor as to the unmarried mothers of the community.

Mrs. Chester C. Ashley of the executive board gave a report of the Finance Committee, and submitted a suggestion as to the best way of carrying the debt of $50,000 incurred by the recent purchase of the lot at Figueroa and Seventeenth streets. Announcement was made during the afternoon by members of the club that they will loan $2000 for three years to the building fund, without interest.

A short musical programme was presented after the business meeting by Miss Frieda Peycke, who is the composer of many charming pianologues, and who was delightfully gracious in her manner of playing and recitation. Her choices were from legends and poems, for which she has made settings which evidence a delicate taste and discrimination, and she is gifted with a soft and well-modulated voice which adds beauty to her performance.

Mrs. Jay Millard, chairman of the programme committee, announced Capt. Richard P. Hobson, hero of the Merrimac, as the next speaker, his subject being, "American and World Reconstruction."

Women's City Club.

A tea and reception was given by the Women's City Club yesterday afternoon at the new quarters in Lincoln Hall, Walker Auditorium, the board of directors and officers acting as hostesses. Mrs. Willoughby Rodman was an honor guest. She made a short speech of greeting, and introduced Capt. Muratus Krunich, who made an appeal for Serbia. There were several hundred guests present, and the hall was admirably decorated in acacia and bamboo.

Friday Morning Club.

The officers of the Friday Morning Club will entertain Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, recently elected Superintendent of Schools, at a reception Friday from 2 to 5 p.m.

SUES AFTER ASSAULT.

In a suit for $5038 damages, filed yesterday against William J. Notthoff and Victor Collaver, Charles E. Monroe alleges that he was attacked, beaten, thrown on the ground and kicked. During the melee, he says, his eyeglasses were broken. The assault, he says, was committed at 530 Mott street, September 5, 1919.

INJURY STOPS ALIMONY.

An injured hand, which, he said, prevented him from working in a moving-picture studio, was exhibited to Judge Taft by Fred Siegert, who was cited yesterday to show cause for failure to pay alimony. He was instructed to pay half his earnings as soon as he is able to go to work; he was also instructed not to leave the county without permission of the court.

FOR FIREBOAT SLIP.

An appropriation of $10,500 for reconstructing a portion of the wharf at the foot of First street, San Pedro, cutting a slip for the use of the fireboat and erecting a building for the fireboat crews, was asked by the Fire Commission. The request was sent to the Finance Committee of the City Council.

BAIL FORFEITED.

When the case of James Randolph, accused of stealing an automobile, was called yesterday in Justice Palmer's court, the defendant did not appear. Upon request of Deputy District Attorney Hill, the cash bail of $1500 was forfeited, the case was taken off calendar for the present and a bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Randolph. The stolen car belonged to P. J. Thompson, 1179½ Loma drive.

BATES NAMED DEPUTY REALTY COMMISSIONER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—R. L. Riley, State real estate commissioner, today announced appointment of John M. Dean of San Francisco and E. C. Bates, Los Angeles, as his deputies in San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively. The salary of deputy is $2400 a year.

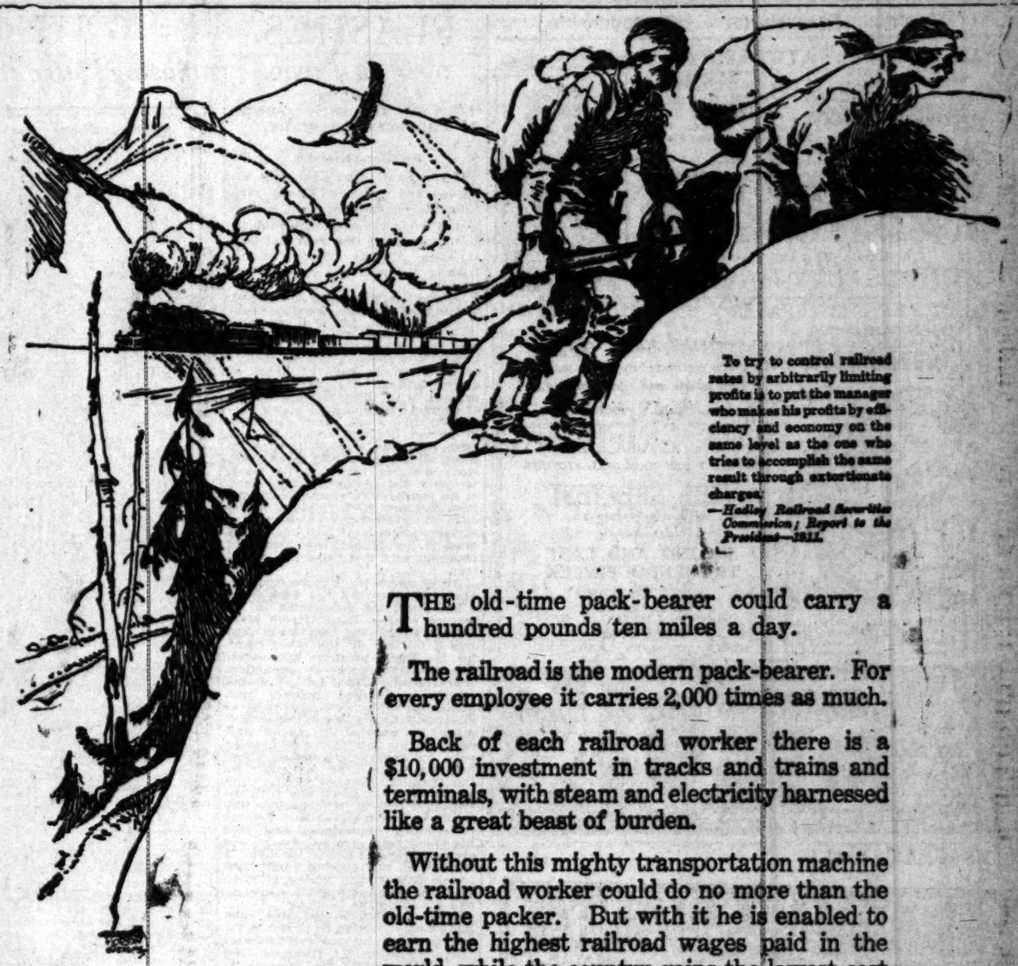
The Los Angeles office of the State Real Estate Commission is at rooms 306 and 308 Wilcox Building, 206 South Spring street. Edward C. Bates, the deputy commissioner in charge, was installed last week by Commissioner Ray L. Riley. Miss Beatrice Jebb is the official stenographer. The office began its work of licensing local brokers on January 2.

FOR STREET WORK.

The City Engineer was instructed by the City Council yesterday to prepare the ordinance of intention for the improvement of Cazador street, from San Fernando road to the northerly terminus. The Council approved the assessment district map for sewers in Meridian street, between Milwaukee avenue and Alabama street, and for the improvement of Lexington avenue and New Hampshire avenue improvement district.

FOR BUSINESS DISTRICT.

The City Attorney was instructed by the City Council yesterday to prepare an ordinance providing for the placing within the industrial district sixty feet of frontage on Seventh street, a portion of the former Foy property on which Harold L. Arnold is erecting a large building. At present all of the property except this sixty feet is in the industrial district.



To try to control railroad rates by arbitrarily limiting profits is to put the manager who makes his profits by efficiency and economy on the same level as the one who tries to accomplish the same result through extortionate charges.
—Hadley Railroad Securities Commission; Report to the President—1911.

THE old-time pack-bearer could carry a hundred pounds ten miles a day.

The railroad is the modern pack-bearer. For every employee it carries 2,000 times as much.

Back of each railroad worker there is a $10,000 investment in tracks and trains and terminals, with steam and electricity harnessed like a great beast of burden.

Without this mighty transportation machine the railroad worker could do no more than the old-time packer. But with it he is enabled to earn the highest railroad wages paid in the world, while the country gains the lowest-cost transportation in the world.

The modern railroad does as much work for half a cent as the pack-bearer could do for a full day's pay.

The investment of capital in transportation and other industries increases production, spreads prosperity and advances civilization.

To enlarge our railroads so that they may keep pace with the Nation's increasing production, to improve them so that freight may be hauled with less and less human effort—a constant stream of new capital needs to be attracted.

Under wise public regulation the growth of railroads will be stimulated, the country will be adequately and economically served, labor will receive its full share of the fruits of good management, and investors will be fairly rewarded.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives.

Those desiring information concerning the railroad situation may obtain literature by writing to The Association of Railway Executives, 61 Broadway, New York

AGREE ON ALIMONY.

Intemperance and Cruelty Charged in Wife's Divorce Suit.

By a stipulation yesterday, Leroy Armstrong will pay his wife, Anna Breckenridge Armstrong, $75 a week, pending the trial of her suit for divorce. Intemperance and cruelty are charged in Mrs. Armstrong's complaint, as well as the alleged affection of Mr. Armstrong for another woman.

Mr. Armstrong is a wealthy resident of Altadena. He was married in Orange, N. J., May 18, 1909.

MATERNITY COTTAGE FUND STILL GROWING.

Late donations, as follows, to the building fund of the Maternity Cottage and Homeopathic Hospital, were reported yesterday by the treasurer, R. Morgan Galbreth: A well-wisher, $1000; Elizabeth G. and William Baurhyte, $250; Mrs. R. J. Bush, $25; Mrs. M. P. Worthington, $1; J. F. Kent, $100; Miss Elizabeth Westgate, $5; J. H. Braly, $25; Miss A. R. Griffith, $5; Mrs. G. H. Mosel, $5; Mrs. Thomas, $5; Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, $5; Dr. Charles Davidson, $5; Mrs. C. E. Mooney, $5; Mrs. J. L. Wilder, $25; Lillian B. Nicklin, $5; Mrs. J. M. Neeland, $5; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. S. Hammond, $25; Miss Alice M. Sherman, $3; Mrs. F. L. Morgan, $1; Mrs. G. A. Melsing, $10; Mrs. N. L. Hussey, $5; Dr. A. E. Gibson, $2; Iota Beta Phi, $20; Alpha Omega, $20; H. J. Kister, $5; Mrs. W. H. Chamberlain, $10; Mrs. Bertraud Hillary, $5; A. N. Davidson, $100; S. W. Garretson, $15; Mrs. S. W. "LUCK OF THE IRISH" SHOWS PRODUCER'S MASTERY.

By Grace Kingsley.

If you want to be completely intrigued and charmed away even from the remembrance of the high cost of living and such sordid things, go to Grauman's this week and look at Allan Dwan's "Luck of the Irish." You're lucky to have the chance.

Inspiration is a very fine thing, and maybe anybody who does creative work gets a jolt of it now and then. But most often, they tell us, who should know, the dinner-paid-and-whistle greasy grind are factors even in the making of works of genius, and so the best pictures dramas, with their brilliant flashes of characterization, their suave continuity, their vivid, colorful touches of human life and action, we find were made under the direction of those who, through all these years since pictures began to be taken seriously, have been sweating blood in an endeavor to realize their topmost dreams. Out of years of the mire of despondency and failure springs sometimes, but one sweet blossom to delight the hearts of men, but with that the artist is content.

All of which leads up to what we are pleased to call the genius of Allan Dwan, as represented in his feature picture, from Harold MacGrath's story. Not that Dwan ever was a failure; on the other hand, he has been uniquely successful; but that smoothness of production, characterizing "The Luck of the Irish," the hundred touches that make for naturalness and most of all that intimate something which makes the walls of the theater melt away, leaving us in the world peopled only by Dwan's characters, these are the things that can only be the fruit of years of effort. And Mr. Dwan may rest content with the reflection that in "The Luck of the Irish" he has achieved such heights of seeming naturalness, and that his characters are so vital, one seems always peeping through a window at real scenes and real people rather than gazing at mere shadows. The subtitles are sparkling and round up the laughs.

The only pity is that with such wealth of perfection in regard to detail, such vitality and vividness of characterization, Mr. Dwan, has not some tremendously big human subject. "The Luck of the Irish" is intriguing and picturesque romance, but it is merely romance. We look to see him do the great thing.

The story of the picture has to do with a husky young plumber, who does his "plumbing" in a basement and who falls in love with a pair of neat ankles which pass his window each day. Of course, he meets the owner and becomes her gallant knight in the MacGrathish troubles besetting her on a trip around the world. To tell this is nothing—to see the picture is to be entirely charmed.

The outstanding characterizations are those of James Kirkwood, as a marvelously lifelike William Grogan, and Anna Q. Nilsson as Ruth Warren; but all the people, including those cute kids, Ernest Butterwood and Gertie Messenger, seem so natural one could shake hands with them, while Harry Northrup and Ward Crane were effective three-ply villains.

Entirely refreshing, vital and natural—an oasis in the desert amid the dry bones of film failures—is "The Luck of the Irish."

The remainder of the programme, made up for the most part of pleasing musical numbers, chimes in after the harmonious Grauman fashion with the feature of the bill.

"THE BEAUTY MARKET" SHOWS MUCH BEAUTY.

Katherine MacDonald is in a class alone. By sheer attractiveness of personality, a carriage and manner which are the certificates of breeding, and a beauty which quite overshadows that of every other screen charmer and yet without marked acting ability, she is of sufficient drawing power to pack Tally's Broadway at any time any picture play of hers is shown there.

Miss MacDonald is there this week in a picture called "The Beauty Market," adapted from Margery Land May's story, "The Bleeders." It is a tale of society life, with a girl about to sacrifice herself in marriage to an old man for the sake of obtaining those luxuries to which she is accustomed.

The theme is hackneyed enough, but is treated effectively by Miss MacDonald and her very excellent company, as excellently directed by Colin Campbell. Intricacy of plot results from the determination of a catty lady to take the rich old gentleman away from the heroine, and by the love of a husky young soldier for the heroine. A fresh twist is given the story in the last reel, when the hero, played exceedingly well by Roy Stewart, tells the heroine he has merely married her that he may make her pay for lying and deceiving him. He weakens a bit, however, but the heroine leaves him, saying she is going to win back her self-respect by going to work and will pay him the money she owes him. This she does in an surprisingly short time, considering that the amount was $1500 and she really didn't seem to know how to do one thing to earn her living, but, anyway, there's a nice happy ending.

Miss MacDonald is a shade too conscious of her own beauty, to be at all times as expressive as she might be, but on the other hand, she, at least, does not overact. Her principal fault, at present, is that she does not play up sufficiently to anyone else appearing in a scene with her. Kathleen Kirkham portrayed the villainess in convincing fashion, and Wedgwood Nowell did a bit effectively. One of the best characterizations was that of Winter Hall, as the ancient lover, a characterization finely drawn, likeable and dignified.

Anita Stewart, Song Writer.

The song, "In Old Kentucky," is the musical feature at Tally's Kinema this week, where it is rendered by Prince Lei Lani, billed as the Hawaiian John McCormack. The words and music of the song were written by Anita Stewart, who comes to the Kinema next week as the star of "In Old Kentucky," from the scenario by Charles T. Dazey.

Ralph Ince to Star.

Ralph Ince, Selznick director, who directed Eugene O'Brien in "The Perfect Lover," "Sealed Hearts" and "His Wife's Money," and Olive Thomas in "Out Yonder," has been signed by President Myron Selznick of the Selznick Pictures Corporation to be featured in a series of special Ralph Ince productions, which will be directed by the new star himself.

According to present plans, the first picture in which Ince will appear as a screen star will be "The Law Bringers," an adaptation of C. B. Lancaster's novel. It is a story of the Northwest.

The announcement that Mr. Ince is to be starred in a series of big specials is one of unusual importance. Although his work for the Selznick organization up to now has been confined to directing, Ince is well known as an actor. He has been in a number of successful stage and screen productions. At one time he played in "The College Widow" and was also a member of the Richard Mansfield company. One of his outstanding achievements on the screen was his appearance as Lincoln in the Lincoln series.

Owen Moore's New One.

"Love Among the Chickens," the P. G. Wodehouse story, has been purchased by Myron Selznick for an early production, starring Owen Moore. Mr. Moore will come West when the poppies pop on the hillsides.

Antrim Short Flies.

Antrim Short has taken up the alluring pastime of aviating. The youthful player, who enacts John the gardener, in the Screen Classics production of "Old Lady 31," has been studying the art of flying for two months. Last Sunday he made an air trip to San Francisco with Lieut. Thompson, of Mercury, in three hours and eighteen minutes. Antrim is shortly going to buy his own plane, he says.

Rawlinson Here Soon.

Herbert Rawlinson announces the termination of his contract with Oliver Films Corporation, for which he has recently completed the filming of the Chief Flynn secret service stories that are to be distributed through Republic. Rawlinson expects to come West in a month or two.

Jack Dempsey Insured.

Robert Brunton, in connection with the Pathe Picture Corporation of New York, has taken out temporary insurance with a Los Angeles firm to the amount of $50,000 for Jack Dempsey, champion heavyweight prize fighter of the world. The policy takes effect January 15, and will hold good for the duration of Dempsey's motion-picture contract at the Brunton studios.

The Yellow Typhoon a Film.

Anita Stewart, First National star in Louis B. Mayer productions, is taking a rest following the completion of "The Fighting Shepherdess," by Caroline Lockhart. She will commence work on Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," with Edward Jose directing, within a fortnight.

Prisoner Gets Prize.

A prisoner in Sing Sing prison will be the happier early in February because of his artistic ability. Clara Kimball Young recently offered a prize for the nonprofessional who could best draw the likeness of her eyes, and the drawing submitted by the prisoner has been awarded second prize. He stated that he had never sketched a human face before, and that he drew most of the picture while sitting in the prison theater watching the film showing of "The Eyes of Youth," in which Miss Young is the star.

DRAMA.

"BIRD OF PARADISE."

TULLY PLAY WELL PRESENTED AT THE MASON.

By Edwin Schallert.

The drowsy spell of sensuous melody, the fragrance of a tropical land suggested in scenery, word and action, the mighty clash of a fantasy of superstition with the reality of progress—how often has this glamorous pattern been woven before audiences at Richard Walton Tully's "The Bird of Paradise." There have been many Luanas—good, poor, and indifferent, and there have been many changes in the portrayers of Dr. Wilson, the beach comber, and the woman of enlightenment, but the permeating charm of the romance of Hawaii, and its princess, and its people hardly seems to vary, or lose aught of its reality, even though this is the ninth season of the play, now being given at the Mason.

There are so many motifs to Tully's theme that whoever you are or whatever your viewpoint, you are certain to feel the fascination or the scourging intensity of the ideas for which the characters stand, or the conflict resulting from the opposite viewpoints of the West and the East. First of all, there is the big motif of the division of the people into the two types, here personified in the two physicians—who are striving toward the light, and those who are stumbling toward the dark. Then there is the oncoming civilization represented by the sugar planter, and the primitive inhabitants whom he would drive as if with the lash. There is the American woman's vanishing coldness beneath the tropic sun; there is the Kanaka's faithful devotion to his princess.

But chiefly it is the subduing cadences of the music, and Luana's tragedy that are most real. They intrigue the deepest sentiment, because they come from that same source where feeling is like a spring flood unguarded by a civilizing barrier.

Florence Rockwell is the Luana of the present company. She is not an unfamiliar figure on the local stage, because she was with the stock company here at the then-Morosco's Burbank a few seasons ago, and she lends a very pronounced depth to her characterization of the princess. Miss Rockwell was never an actress, but she can feel a part and make it real, if she is in sympathy with the role, and in the case of Luana she is. Robert Brister, as the young doctor, gives an exception clear and well contrasted presentation; Miss Spring Byington lacks the coldness associated with Diana in the earlier scenes, and fits into the picture better toward the close. Brandon Evans also shows a lack of finesse in his earlier scenes as the beach comber while sustaining the impression of the man who succeeded in coming back to his place in the world. The characterization of the priest by John Sumner, Mahummahu by Rose Watson, and those of T. C. McDonough and Carrie Weller as the missionary and his wife, Harold Skinner and others all added to the vividness of the picture. The music was as usual penetrating in its charm.

MARY MAC LAREN STAR AT VICTORY.

It sounds like the wrath of a nation descending upon an innocent example of girlhood—doesn't it? You know what "it" is—"The Pointing Finger," Mary MacLaren's current production, now being shown at the Victory.

But it isn't.

"The Pointing Finger" is merely the enjoyable tale of a little orphan asylum slavey who runs away with the matron's new dress and seeks employment in the great city. She finds it after dozens of attempts, as first and only assistant to Prof. Saxton, biologist (or bug chaser.)

Incidentally, Mary left the asylum the same night the crook of the story made away with $10,000 from the matron's safe. Mary was naturally suspected of the theft. But you and I know the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. We are well aware that the real thief is no one other than the head of the asylum himself, and our pleasure is great when the "bug chaser" unveils the real character of this supposedly honest man at the end.

Dave Butler is the handsome hero. We don't admire him one bit, near the end, for he actually believed that Mary had stolen the money. However, she finally forgave him, and it is probably best that we should do the same.

Neal Hart and his gang of wild and woolly westerners in "Sands of the Desert," and Lyons and Moran comedy are also on the bill.

OVERSEAS REVUE HAS REAL ZIPPY FLAVOR.

Any act that comes along with the stamp of approval of the American Expeditionary Forces has about five chances out of six of going big with the vaudeville public. Because the hardest audience to play to in the world is an assemblage of soldiers. With all this in its favor, it was hardly to be expected that Elizabeth Brice's "Overseas Revue," with clever Will Morrissey furnishing the laugh jazz, would prove a flivver. And it wasn't. Quite the contrary, it was brimful of entertainment.

They have everything in the show from a hard-boiled M.P. down to "Ashes to Ashes." The revue is the most characteristic I have seen. It has the real atmosphere of the life abroad, just pleasantly exaggerated. Everything to make the soldier glad, from the line about a fine sight being a boatload of sergeants sinking, to the troubles of ordering a meal in a parle vous restaurant.

Elizabeth Brice is just the kind of an entertainer you would have liked to have heard across the water, with a pleasant and sympathetic personality, plus genuine cheeriness and sparkle. Morrissey stops the show with his songs and imitations, and keeps the audience mirthful all the time he is on the stage. Other people who fill the piece with life are Jeannette Tourneur, Ernest P. Young, Harold Whalen, Blanche Latell. It's a big act, and don't get discouraged because it seems to start at a slow tempo, because it livens up as soon as Morrissey appears.

Al and Fanny Stedman have a novel act that may hail from Brazil and may be from Hoboken, but it is there! They're both of the best.

James H. Cullen is just as suave as ever, and just as generous with his humor and parodies, one of the best and most timely of which is "Java." You can guess the tune and also that the new version is on prohibition.

Charles and Henry Rigoletto have a whole show of their own, with the Swanson sisters supplying yodeling and song and dance numbers. The "Italian Street Musicians" episode reveals one of the brothers as a whole orchestra by himself.

Charles Cartmell and Laura Harris patter sing and dance very pleasingly in "Golfing with Cupid." Ernest Ball and Maud Lambert are the big hit of the bill, while "Georgia" Price is keeping them amused with a "little of everything."

ISLAND ROMANCE AT THE ALHAMBRA.

All the fascinations of Kipling's stories of English army life in India and Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island" are bound together, and a few more from other sources are added, to make "The Wings of the Morning," William Farnum's latest photoplay, one of the best in which he has appeared. "The Wings of the Morning" are fluttering this week at the Alhambra.

A shipwreck leaving hero and heroine on a desert island; attacks by pirates—head hunters, the discovery of fabulous wealth in the form of an embryo gold mine; human skeletons, an octopus, sharpshooting, rescues, fights—these are only a few of the many incidents that keep the arms of your seat hot with the grip of your hands while seeing the film version of Louis Tracy's novel.

And then the man and the girl went back to Rainbow Island to spend their honeymoon. We don't blame them; in fact (and here's a secret) after seeing "The Wings of the Morning" and Martin Johnson's Hulu-Hulu picture, which, somehow, seems a very appropriate addition to the bill, 50 per cent of us would like to try life on a desert island ourselves. Didn't you feel that way after reading "Treasure Island," or any other pirate tales of your youth?

The story concerns a man "cashiered" from the army in India because he had refused to "pass the buck" to where the blame rightfully belonged, and who thereafter obtains employment as a sailor and attempts to forget his disgrace. On the trip from India to England the boat runs into a storm, and is wrecked. William Farnum is the man, and Louise Lovely is the woman in the case—that is, the only one who counts, for the main part of the picture deals with the pair's adventures on a desert island, they being the sole survivors of the wreck.

GIRARD MUSICAL SHOW AT PANTAGES.

Harry Girard, who is well known in the local theatrical world, is putting on a clever tabloid musical comedy, "The Luck of the Totem," this week at Pantages Theater. The audience yesterday manifested its appreciation of his show, which has a neat plotlet, and melodious musical selections. Agnes Cain Brown is appearing with Mr. Girard, and a number of capable people make up the supporting company.

Joe Whitehead sings, dances, tells funny stories, and cuts up all manner of monkeyshines. His act is of the nut variety, and keeps 'em laughing all the time. Charles Mack and company add more comedy with their sketch, called a "Friendly Call." Cardo and Noll sing grand opera selections pleasingly. Bernivici brothers have a musical turn in a "Night in Raymond Wilbert is a and juggling expert.

Tony Moreno is featured in the first episode of a graph serial, and there are films of interest.

"Air Robbery" Continues.

"The Great Air Robbery" features the daring aviator, Locklear, continues to crowds, in its second week at Superba. The film contains usual and thrilling series of ventures, one of the most which is where Locklear from one plane to another in clouds. The supporting cast is ed by Francella Billington.

Polock and Nelson, are singing "Smile, Dear," in pleasing way, and the Al comedy, "Seeing Things," with Burns and Josephine Hill, ing.

PLANS POPULAR OPERA.

Unique Scheme is Broached by Gotham Musical Man.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Grand opera, minus the tinsel and expensive nonessentials is to be produced in New York at motion picture prices. Moreover, it is hoped to make the works of the greatest composers as sung by gifted singers as common as the movies. Such is the plan of Josiah Zure, former conductor of the Manhattan Opera Company, and Julius Hopp, a musical devotee, as announced yesterday.

The project includes the presentation of well-known operas in public schools with musical students in the important roles. It is hoped first to give an opportunity to young men and women to appear in opera before they have reached the heights of fame and success demanded by the great opera companies. Also it is expected to make opera popular among those who seldom have an opportunity to attend the regular performances of the high-priced companies.

It is expected to charge a nominal admission to cover a part of the expenses, the deficit to be met by Mr. Zure.

MRS. RINDGE PROTESTS.

Mrs. May K. Rindge, through her representative, protested to the Board of Supervisors yesterday against the proposed road into Pacoima Canyon, running over any portion of the road she owns there. The importance of the road being shown by Purchasing Agent Plummer and the further fact that only a small portion of the Rindge holdings will be taken by the road, the Supervisors denied the protest.

The drills of over a dozen Companies in TEXAS, are getting closer to the oil sands, about 5 miles from our leases, and everyone expects they will BRING IN a gusher.
When this happens, or any of the nearby producers, JOHNSON COUNTY will jump from $100 an acre and upwards. You can buy now for $50 an acre. Owing to tremendous activity and the great "jump" in prices of leases we are offering at present price at close of business, Thursday, January 8th, at a price in blocks of 5, 10 and 40 acres, after which price we consider JOHNSON COUNTY the best bet in oil today.
Buy today at $20 and your holdings will almost double over night.

RAIL CHANGES COMING SOON.

Return of Lines to Private Ownership is Reason.

Santa Fe Promotes Local Men to Vacated Posts.

New Appointments on Salt Lake are in Offing.

Sweeping changes in the management of the three steam railroads having terminals here are contemplated with the return of the lines to private ownership by the government, March 1. The earliest changes have been announced by the Santa Fe, due to the retirement of E. P. Ripley as president.

W. B. Storey of Chicago has been made president of the company, and A. G. Wells, long general manager of the coast lines, and a conspicuous figure in railroad circles here for twenty-two years, has been made vice-president in charge of operation, with offices in Chicago. He expects to go there within a week to assume his new duties.

In the local offices, I. L. Hibbard, who has been assistant general manager, will succeed Mr. Wells as general manager, and J. R. Hitchcock, superintendent of the San Bernardino division, will step into Mr. Hibbard's former position as assistant general manager. R. H. Tuttle, superintendent of the Albuquerque division, with headquarters at Winslow, Ariz., will become superintendent of the San Bernardino division. William Mathie, former trainmaster at San Bernardino, has been made superintendent at Winslow. J. D. McCully, former trainmaster at Bakersfield, becomes trainmaster at San Bernardino, in place of Mr. Mathie, and A. R. Woods comes from Winslow, Ariz., to take the position formerly occupied by Mr. McCully.

Second Vice-President J. Ross Clark stated yesterday that the Salt Lake Route has a number of executives to replace as soon as the road is turned back to the company, but that the appointments may not be announced for a month or six weeks, since the men have not yet been chosen.

ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

It was recently announced that William Sproule, who resigned from the presidency of the Southern Pacific two years ago to become regional director of the Railroad Administration, has resigned from that position to resume his former position with the Southern Pacific. Paul Shoup, now vice-president of the Southern Pacific and president of all its electric lines and other subsidiaries, is expected to remain with the company in a high offical capacity and close to Mr. Sproule, the probability being that he will be in charge of his present work, even if his official title should be changed.

H. B. Titcomb, vice-president of the Pacific Electric, stated yesterday that he knew of no proposed changes in the official family of his company as a result of peace-time organization by the Southern Pacific, the owning company.

Another change of great interest to local railroad men is the announcement that Gerritt Fort, for many years passenger traffic manager of the Union Pacific system, has resigned from that position to become vice-president of the Boston and Maine Railway. He has already assumed his new duties. Mr. Fort is one of the best and ablest railroad men of the West.

IS A WESTERNER.

The rise of A. G. Wells to the position of vice-president of the great Santa Fe system is another triumph for western initiative. Mr. Wells was born in Canada in 1861. He did his first railroad work as a machinist's apprentice, in the shops of the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs Railroad at St. Joseph, Mo., in 1876. Four years later he was a clerk in the mechanical department, and shortly afterward became clerk to the purchasing agent of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad. In June, 1882, he was made chief clerk to the superintendent of the Atlantic and Pacific, at Albuquerque. Later he served for a time as trainmaster of the road.

In October, 1886, he became assistant general manager of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, and in January, 1890, he made another change, becoming general superintendent of the Ohio, Indiana and Western Railroad.

Mr. Wells became connected with the Santa Fe in 1893 as assistant to the vice-president of the road. In the course of a few years he was chosen as general superintendent of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway. Then he became general superintendent of the Southern California Railway, and the San Joaquin and San Francisco Railway. All of these lines were branches of the Santa Fe. Since 1901 he has been general manager of these lines, with headquarters in this city. He is a member of the Pacific Union Club of San Francisco, the Cuyamaca Club of San Diego, and has been president of the California Club of this city.

MOTHER FRIGHTENS BILLIE'S BEDFELLOW

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

VENICE, Jan. 5.—Believing that he was bringing his kitten indoors out of the frosty night, Billie Anderson of East Venice skipped from his bed last night and picked up something soft and furry that had been scratching at the front door. He then climbed back in bed with his companion that nestled and went to sleep in a most pussy-like manner. The two spent the long night hours peacefully wandering in the land of dreams. When morning came and Billie's mother, Mrs. C. A. Anderson, came to call her young son, a brown and grey squirrel leaped from the bed and out through the open window.

PIONEER SOCIETY TO DISCUSS MISSIONS.

The restoration of California missions will be the chief topic for discussion at the meeting of the Pioneer society tomorrow night at 321 South Main street.

The speakers will be Dr. William Wenzlick, president of the society; Col. John L. Slaughter, first vice-president; Mrs. Emma S. Gillette, second vice-president; Judge Hewitt, third vice-president; William A. Spaulding, treasurer; August Wackerbarth, recording secretary, and Joseph Mesmer, financial secretary. Other speakers include Maj. S. H. M. Byers, Miss Virginia Calhoun, Miss Laura C. Cooley, of the Public Library; Miss Paula E. Dunningan, chairman of the Los Angeles District of the California History and Landmark Society, and Dr. Francis M. Parker.

HIT BY AUTO, MAY DIE.

"Didn't See Him," Declares Driver of Machine.

Possibly fatal injuries were sustained by Fred Brugge, a blacksmith, 36 years of age, living at 897 East Fifty-second place, when he was knocked from his bicycle to the asphalt by an automobile driven by L. A. Forsythe at Fifty-second place and Central avenue last night. At the Receiving Hospital he was found to have sustained a broken collar bone, possible internal injuries and numerous lacerations.

Mr. Forsythe, who has a tailor shop at Long Beach, but lives at 1415 East Fifty-seventh street, this city, said he failed to see Mr. Brugge in time to avert the accident. He was questioned by Detective Sergeants Bean and Smith, but was later released pending the outcome of Mr. Brugge's injuries. Mr. Brugge was later taken to the Angelus Hospital.

DISTRIBUTES PROFITS.

Bakery Company Ready to Share Earnings with Workers.

Under its profit-sharing plan the Holsum Bakery on January 15 will divide the 1919 earnings of the company with its employees. Three years ago a plan was instituted whereby every employee for one year or more shares in the annual profits of the company on a basis of both term of service and salary for one year.

NEW PRESIDING JUDGE.

Chambers Takes Richardson's Place in Police Court Work.

Police Judge Chambers was yesterday elected presiding judge of the police courts for the year of 1920 at the annual meeting of the five police judges. The position of presiding judge was held during 1919 by Police Judge Richardson, who retires in favor of Judge Chambers.

Following the election of a presiding judge, the matter of reopening the police court at University Police Station was brought up by Police Judge Crawford and laid over for one week.

HAS TO CHANGE PLAN.

In the process of widening Fries avenue, between Anaheim street and the Inner Bay Exception Line, the City Engineer reported to the City Council yesterday, it is found that a three-story concrete warehouse of heavy construction, located at the southwest corner of C street and Fries avenue, will have to lose a portion of a foot if the original plan is followed. He recommended a narrowing of the street so as to leave the building intact. The Council consented to this arrangement, ordering the engineer to prepare the necessary ordinance.

READY TO FACE CHARGE.

Jo Williams, who is wanted in Olympia, Wash., on the charge of conspiring, with James J. Read, to extort money in prosecutions for violations of the war-time prohibition law, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday and ordered sent north for trial. Read some time ago pleaded guilty and was given a term in the Federal penitentiary at McNeill's Island. Williams said he was anxious to get back, and would institute no proceedings to bar the way.

JAIL TO KEEP HIM IN STATE.

Behind on Alimony, Says He may Travel, but Judge Decides He Won't.

On the ground that he is ill and unable to work, Albert L. Schneider sought in Judge Crail's court yesterday to have an order for alimony set aside. Mrs. Margaret M. Schneider, who recently won a divorce and alimony, testified that Mr. Schneider was preparing to leave the State. When asked if this was so, Mr. Schneider replied:

"I don't know; I guess I might or I might not."

"Well, you might not," returned the court, as he sentenced him to jail for five days for contempt.

FIX THREE BAILS IN CAR SHOOTING CASE.

MAN WHO WOUNDED WIFE AND TWO OTHERS APPEARS IN COURT THRICE.

Raymond C. Potter, who wounded his wife, Mrs. Wilda E. Potter, Miss Barbara Williams and O. Fitzpatrick when he fired a revolver on a Venice car near Culver City, December 28, was arraigned in the court of Justice McDonald in Venice last night on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

He was not asked to plead and a preliminary hearing was set for January 17. Bond was fixed in the sum of $2500 which had not been furnished up to a late hour last night, although it was said fellow-employees with whom he worked on the Pacific Electric Railway were making an effort to raise the amount.

Potter was taken into court on a warrant based on an affidavit signed by his wife, who is still in a dangerous condition in St. Catherine's Hospital, Santa Monica. Miss Williams is said to be rapidly improving and so is Mr. Fitzpatrick, who is at his home in San Pedro.

Three different bails were set in the case of Potter. In a habeas corpus proceeding, Judge Craig fixed bail at $2500. Justice Palmer placed it at $10,000 when Potter was arraigned before him for assault with intent to murder, and Justice McDonald fixed it at $2500. It is presumed that the Superior Court ruling will apply.

TWO ARE CONFIRMED.

Treat Appointment Is Held Up; Mother of Chairman is Ill.

By unanimous vote, the City Council yesterday confirmed the Mayor's reappointments of George I. Cochran and William Lacy to the Municipal Efficiency Commission. No other confirmations of appointments were acted upon, although several are awaiting such action.

The full term of Owen McAleer as member of the Board of Public Works expired at noon yesterday but he will continue to serve until his successor is qualified by confirmation by the Council. Although the Mayor has appointed Charles H. Treat, chief deputy City Auditor, to the post on the Board of Public Works, the Council referred the matter to its Public Works Committee, and that committee has not yet reported back to the Council.

Members of the committee yesterday stated that it had taken no action, because of the absence of its chairman, Councilman Wheeler, who has been detained at home for several days because of the serious illness of his mother.

PLAN FOOT BRIDGE TO SAFEGUARD CHILDREN.

Councilman Farmer yesterday called the especial attention of the Council to the urgent demand of residents of Harmon for the construction of a foot bridge in connection with the automobile bridge across the Arroyo Seco at Avenue 60. The vehicle passage is narrow, but school children have to use this as a means of reaching the public schools, and it is declared their lives are endangered by the vehicle traffic at this point. The City Engineer estimates that the footbridge would cost not to exceed $1300, and the matter was sent to the Public Works Committee to start the proper action to provide for its construction.

IMPERSONATED OFFICER?

W. J. Dorsey was held in $1000 bond before U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday, on the charge of impersonating an officer of the internal revenue service. It is asserted that Dorsey was found prowling around in the halls of the Hayward Hotel, and when taken into custody said he was a Federal officer, looking for certain evidence.

WANT A LION? HERE'S CHANCE.

Official Hunt Arranged in Santa Barbara, Ventura; Renew Coyote Pay.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 5.—A lion hunt under official auspices is to be held in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties at an early date. Jay C. Bruce of Berkeley, State lion hunter, is due here next week to organize it. This afternoon the Supervisors, answering the appeal of cattlemen who are meeting serious loss by coyotes and lions, restored the coyote bounty enactment. Lions and coyotes are said to be increasing in numbers in the farming and mountain sections, and for this reason the official hunt is planned.

PHELAN FLAYS THE JAPANESE.

government of Hawaii by a commission of five men appointed in Washington, to control the Japanese situation there. He also said he hopes the Japanese do spread rapidly to other States, as only in that way, he thinks, can people east of the Rockies be awakened to the danger which confronts the nation. "The proposition is too big for California to handle alone," he said, "but it can be handled by the American people if Congress can be impressed with the seriousness of the situation."

In a petition filed with the Board of Education the Gardena Valley Chamber of Commerce urges that the Japanese and American school children in the Gardena Valley be sent to different schools. The petition is signed by J. Overman, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The commercial body declares that there are so many Japanese children in the schools that persons living in the valley are planning to leave because their children have to attend the public schools there. It is also charged that the presence of so many Jap children in the schools is keeping prospective settlers from the valley. The constant increase in Japanese residents is declared to be menacing the schools there.

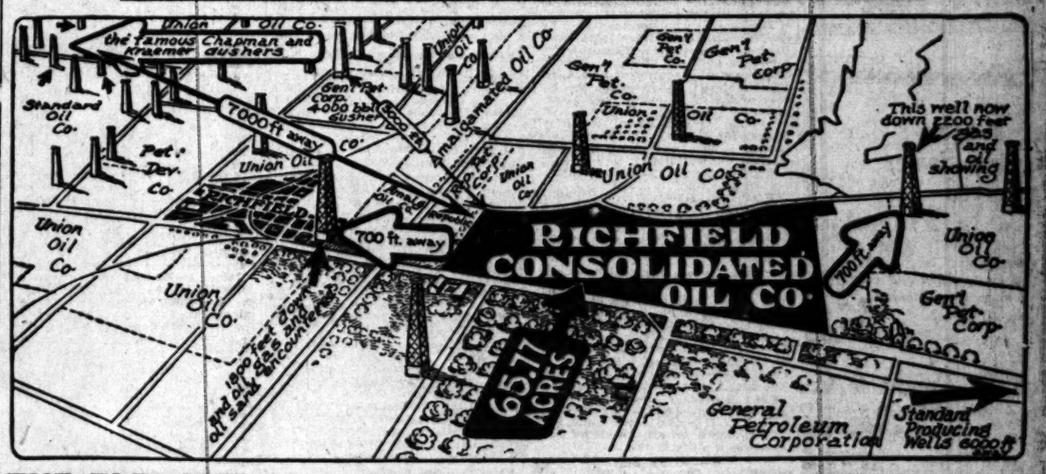
What Do You Consider a GOOD Oil Investment?

1—Is it an Opportunity to Realize BIG RETURNS upon a SMALL Investment?

2—Is it a Maximum of SAFETY for the Money you Invest?

If these are the conditions which you seek, then "RICHFIELD CONSOLIDATED," with its finely located lease in the midst of a great gusher district, the unquestionable high business caliber of its officers and directors and its unusual prospects for splendid success is worthy of your serious consideration.

STUDY THIS MAP—THEN ANALYZE THE FACTS



THE ELEMENT OF SAFETY:

(a)—The Richfield Consolidated Oil Company is a California corporation, owning a lease on California oil lands and operating under California's rigorous and exacting corporation laws.

(b)—The Richfield Consolidated lease of 65.77 acres is less than a quarter of a mile from the town of Richfield and in the midst of the new and wonderful Richfield gusher district, where FIVE wells are producing approximately a HALF MILLION barrels of oil a month.

(c)—Practically every foot of land in the entire Richfield district is controlled by old, established oil companies—the "big" companies that base their operations upon years of experience. The Richfield Consolidated lease is the BIGGEST "independent" company lease in the entire field. This lease is surrounded on ALL FOUR SIDES by such old established companies as the Union, the General Petroleum, the Amalgamated and the Republic Petroleum Corporation.

(d)—In THREE directions from the Richfield Consolidated lease and ONLY SHORT DISTANCES AWAY are big, producing GUSHER wells. A little over a mile away is the famous Chapman gusher—a 5000-barrel well, which since its discovery last March has produced a MILLION AND A HALF DOLLARS' worth of oil. Approximately 3000 feet away is the new General Petroleum 4000-barrel gusher.

(e)—The personnel of the Richfield Consolidated officers and directors is one of its best recommendations as a field for investment. In every instance these officers are highly successful and representative business men—NOT SPECULATORS or PROMOTERS—but men who BELIEVE IMPLICITLY in the future of the company.

THE OPPORTUNITY FOR FORTUNE:

(f)—The Richfield Consolidated is now offering a limited amount of its Capital Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, par value. All stock is equally profit-sharing and there is no "preferred stock."

(g)—More than 75,000 shares of stock of the Richfield Consolidated already has been taken by people living in Orange County, California, where the company's lease is located—by people who live in the vicinity of the great Richfield gusher district and who KNOW the wonderful possibilities of the Richfield Consolidated Company's lease.

(h)—Eminent geologists believe that the entire Richfield district is underlaid by a vast subterranean "sea of oil." These same geologists and many oil men of long experience also express the belief that the really BIG oil pool in the Richfield district has not yet been tapped.

(i)—Wells are now being PUT IN on ALL FOUR SIDES of the Richfield Consolidated lease.

(j)—One of these wells, LESS than 300 yards away, already has encountered gas, oil and oil sand in reaching a 1500-foot depth. On our eastern boundary—approximately 700 feet away—the Union Oil Company's well has encountered both oil and gas up to a 2200-foot depth.

(k)—Should either of these wells prove up to expectations and turn out to be gushers, Richfield Consolidated stock undoubtedly would jump from $1 to $10 a share overnight.

(l)—The Richfield Consolidated Company is now receiving COMPETITIVE bids for derricks and well drilling machinery and WILL COMMENCE ACTUAL DRILLING AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE MOMENT.

(m)—Officers and directors of the Richfield Consolidated Company do not receive any SALARIES or remuneration of any kind for their services.

(n)—EVERY DOLLAR paid in for stock of the Richfield Consolidated Company will be used for ACTUAL development work and the benefit of stockholders.

Advance In Price

The drills of over a dozen Companies in JOHNSON COUNTY, TEXAS, are getting closer to the oil sands every day. One company is but 5 miles from our leases, is down over 2300 feet and confidently expects they will BRING IN A GUSHER at 3000 to 3200 feet.

When this happens, or any of the other drilling Companies get production, JOHNSON COUNTY LEASES will be cheap at $50 per acre and upwards. You can buy these leases TODAY for $20 per acre. Owing to tremendous activity in the field and consequent "boom" in prices of leases we are withdrawing our $20 an acre offer at close of business, Thursday, January 8th. On Friday next prices will be $30 per acre in blocks of 5, 10 and 40 acres. After that we consider JOHNSON COUNTY acreage the safest investment we can offer you at any price.

Your order at $20 and your holdings will increase 50% in value almost over night.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Budget System Urged; Year in Stocks; Cheaper Government Flour.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Economists everywhere are preaching the merits of the budget system. The arguments are inclusive from a complete governmental adaptation of the plan of disbursement right down to the $100-a-month clerk.

In a large way the buget system has received a great impetus through the loose method or lack of method in handling war funds. These were administered through so many different departments that the treasurer of the United States was frequently compelled to wait comparatively long periods before it was possible for him to strike a balance. In State and municipal financing the budget has long been recognized as the efficient and proper manner to handle public expenditures.

Individually we have been careless. The personal or even household expense account of the average Los Angeles head of a family resembles the famous entry of the bride on the first page of the ledger her new husband had purchased for her to keep track of her domestic commercial transactions. "January 1," the entry read; "Jack gave me $50." And on the next line, "January 2. Spent it all."

In 1919 when money was cheap, easily earned and recklessly spent the habit of account keeping has receded still further into the background, and many a family council has been necessary to consider ways and means of stopping the leaks which have wasted the reserves.

The National War Work Council of the Y.M.C.A.; is urging that the resolution to make and adhere to a budget should be the first and foremost New Year resolution, and in order to help keep the resolution an intensive economic educational programme will be launched throughout the country January 17 to continue for one week.

This move is in conjunction with the Treasury Department, American Bankers' Association, National Association of Real Estate Boards, Chambers of Commerce, and other organizations linked with the big movements of industry and commerce.

What is considered an ideal budget for a family of three whose income is $150 per month has been worked out as follows:

Rent	$25
Heat and light	15
Food	49
Clothing	14
Education and recreation	10
Gifts, charity, etc.	5
Nonessentials	2
Savings	30
Total	$150

There is no doubt that this budget is open to attack at several points, for living conditions vary so extensively in different parts of the country that it would be impossible to lay down hard and fast rules of expenditure. Indeed it would be difficult to do this even for Los Angeles because of local differences, and any family which is consistently able to live comfortably and save $20 a month on an income of $150 deserves a place in the hall of fame.

The main point, however, is to bring about the establishment of the budget system in every family, and by setting down each day a strict tabulation of money expended the average family can discover for itself where it is making unnecessary expenditures and stop the leaks.

Record of Achievement.

The annual report of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange printed in The Times on Sunday was much more than a mass of figures, for wrapped up in that tabulation was a story of remarkable development, and record-breaking advance. It is only necessary to compare the total volume of business transacted on the floor of the exchange during 1919 with the corresponding total in 1918 to realize the wonderful strides Los Angeles has been taking toward the top rung of the business and financial ladder.

In shares the year's transactions amounted to 22,782,021, having a valuation of $42,137,884.57 as against 7,892,128 shares in 1918 with a total valuation of $14,415,112.05 or three times the number of shares and practically the same relative increase in monetary value. It is probable that had not the November slump occurred which put a damper on the market for several weeks the total would have been close to $50,000,000. This record places the local exchange well up among the leaders, only exceeded by a very few of the largest eastern financial centers almost under the shadow of Wall street.

It is interesting to note that trading in oil stocks far exceeded that of any other department; exceeded indeed all other departments put together, the total value of the year's business amounting to $26,079,411.17 for 9,785,648 shares. More shares of mining stock changed hands (12,268,739,) but because of the several low priced stocks listed, which, at various times during the year were very active, the valuation only reached $3,183,257.98.

In value, bonds were a poor second, $8,407,229.15 changing hands, mostly for war issues. In industrial offerings $8,874,811.27 were involved while bank stocks were last at $393,175. The reason for this lies in the fact that Los Angeles bank securities are inherently so good that they are rarely permitted to reach the auction block.

The greatest turnover in any one stock in dollars and cents was in Union Oil, the trade in which totaled $12,749,016.91, with a price range between $112.50 and $196.

The heaviest year's business prior to 1919 was in 1917, when the value volume was $15,914,125.84, although the largest number of shares traded in before the record-breaking period was in 1916, when 19,419,956½ were bartered and sold.

The exchange was organized in 1906, and the outlook for 1920 is decidedly the most optimistic in its history. It is the hope of the board of governors that before another annual report is filed the institution will be in the fine new home which is to be built for the exchange this year.

Few Failures.

According to Dun's Review, there were fewer commercial failures in 1919 than in any year since 1881.

Retailers to Meet.

A retailers' conference under the organization of the Dry Goods Reporter is to be held in Chicago,

LATEST NEWS OF FOOD PRICES.

That the housewife is eager to avail herself of any opportunity to reduce living cost has been shown by the ready demand for the California soft wheat flour, which was put on the market early in December by the U. S. Grain Corporation, according to a statement made yesterday by George H. Martin, its local representative. The flour is said to be giving entire satisfaction, and purchasers who bought initial small packages have placed larger orders.

W. A. Starr, vice-president of the U. S. Grain Corporation, has announced that no change will be made in the price of the soft wheat flour during the month of January, despite the fact that prices of the hard wheat patent flours are on the upward trend. December prices of 65 cents for the ten-pound sacks, $1.55 for sacks containing one-eighth of a barrel and $3 for sacks containing one-quarter of a barrel will rule during the present month. The Grain Corporation has placed a maximum price of 69 cents, $1.69 and $3.15 for the respective sizes at which the retailer can sell to the consumer, but in all probability the flour will continue to retail at the lower prices of December.

JULY COTTON GOES TO FORTY POINTS HIGHER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Stimulated by a strong Liverpool market, the cotton market opened firm and from 30 to 59 points higher today. At the end of the first fifteen minutes the list was strong, at a net advance of about sixty points. October was relatively firm on the forenoon advance selling up to 31.09 or 10 points net higher. After the close, Liverpool demand was less active, and there were reactions of 30 to 50 points, under realizing, further southern hedge selling and scattered local pressure.

The midday reaction carried March off to 30.50 or 20 points net lower, while July lost all but eight points of its early advance selling to 32.37, but prices firmed up later on, the continued heavy export buying and covering. March rallied to 30.80, making a net advance of ten points, while July sold to 33.60, or 40 points net higher.

Exports for the day were over 70,000 bales and the movement for the season to date shows more than a 1,000,000 bales excess over last year.

How to Judge the Safety of Securities

"To judge from the literature of the financial world, it would seem quite an easy proposition to buy securities of new promotions and amass a great fortune through the profits often made by those who 'get in first.' The risk involved in buying the securities of a new enterprise is on general principles, so great that they should only be taken by men who are trained in the particular business in which the corporations intend to engage. Don't invest in new enterprises except on these conditions."

Magazine of Wall Street, Nov. 29, 1919.

ONE of the fundamental rules on which we conduct our business is that we will not recommend to our clients that they invest their funds in any enterprise which is in the promotion stage.

Our recommendation of a security among other things always means that we have investigated the assets and earning power and have decided on the basis of the past history and present value that the company is fully able to meet all payments when they come due.

Write, call or telephone for our latest list of investment securities, yielding from 4½% to 7%.

$570,000
Victoria Island Reclamation District
No. 2040

6% Serial Bonds
Located in San Joaquin County, California.

Dated July 1, 1919. Maturities from July 1, 1929, to 1939, inclusive. Principal and interest payable January 1 and July 1 at the office of the Treasurer of San Joaquin County, Stockton, California. Coupon Bonds. Denomination $1,000.

Free from Federal Income Tax as well as State, City and County Taxes in California

These bonds have not been declared legal investments for California Savings Banks, but our application to have them so certified is now being investigated by the State Banking Department.

Reclamation District No. 2040, embracing Victoria Island, consists of 7313 acres of fertile land located about 60 miles from San Francisco and 15 miles from Stockton, California, in the delta of the San Joaquin River. The entire bonded debt of the district consists of this issue of $570,000, making a debt per acre of about $78. Victoria Island has been successfully farmed for many years by the Victoria Farms Company.

The Reclamation District was organized and these bonds issued for the purpose of purchasing from the Company the levees, canals and other improvements constructed for the reclamation and irrigation of the district.

WE RECOMMEND THESE BONDS FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

Debt will be reduced by annual payments without reduction of security. They are free from taxation.

The average annual tax per acre necessary to retire these bonds is moderate. For the first 9 years it will be $4.68 and in 1929, when the first and heaviest principal payment occurs, it is $12.90. In 1930 it will be $11.58 and will be reduced every year thereafter until last bonds are paid in 1939.

High Land Value. The value of this land, $250 per acre, is due not only to the fertility of the soil, but to its location, which affords water transportation facilities to large centers of population near by.

The District has been wholly reclaimed and is completely under cultivation.

California Reclamation District Laws fully protect bondholders. The California Legislature in 1917 passed Reclamation District Laws re-drafted by Mr. T. T. C. Gregory and Messrs. Goodfellow, Eells, Moore & Orrick. Since that time these laws have, in the opinion of our attorneys and ourselves, afforded full protection to the holders of Reclamation District Bonds.

These bonds combine the security of a land mortgage and the certainty of a tax collection payment.

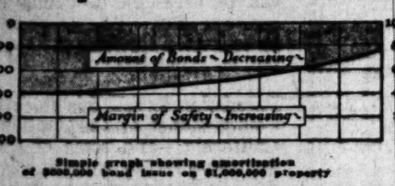
WHY no investor has ever lost a dollar of principal or interest on any security bought of S. W. Straus & Co.

The Graphic Curve of Safety



Simple graph showing amortization of $600,000 bond issue on $1,000,000 property

EVERY first mortgage bond issue which we purchase and offer under the Straus Plan must be protected by an ample margin of safety between the amount of the loan and a conservative appraisal of the mortgaged property. But this alone is not enough. Every bond issue also is scientifically amortized—that is, a certain portion of the bonds come due and are paid off each year so that the margin of safety is constantly growing. For example—

In the typical issue shown by the above graph the original loan of $600,000 on a property valued at $1,000,000 is reduced by 5% after the first year, by 10% after the second year, etc., thus continually increasing the equity and much more than providing against depreciation.

This House was a pioneer in this country in adopting the principle and perfecting the practice of amortization. This is now generally recognized as a vitally necessary safeguard in real estate loans. Campaigns for its widespread adoption are being waged by the United States Department of Labor and by the savings bank section of the American Bankers' Association.

Our booklet, "Questionnaire for Investors," explains in simple language how proper amortization protects investments. Write today for it, together with our January Investment Offering, describing a variety of amortized first mortgage 6% serial bonds. Ask for

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 5. — The low ratio of reserves reported by the Federal Reserve Bank, another Supreme Court decision sustaining war-time prohibition, progress of the railroad bill in the Senate and ease of demand loans constituted the main factors of today's irregular stock market.

Of these conflicting influences the only encouragement was provided by the money market. On the large cash inflow from interior points, call loans opened at 10 per cent., the lowest initial rate in weeks, falling to 9 per cent. in the final hour.

Steels, oils and motors were singled out for bear pressure, with equipments, tobaccos, shippings and several of the high-priced specialties which featured last week's rally, notably American Woolen, International Paper, American International and Baldwin Locomotive.

Several of the independent steels, secondary oils and motor accessories ran counter to the reactionary trend, although canceling much of their advantage in the free offerings at the close. Sales amounted to 1,300,000 shares.

Unusual activity in foreign issues, with an advance of a point in United Kingdoms of 1937, was the chief feature of the dull but diversified bond market, the Liberty group displaying moderate irregularity. Total sales (par value) were $13,750,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper, 6. Sterling, demand, $3.79; cables, $3.80. Time loans, strong, 60 days, 90 days and 6 months, 7 bid.

Call money, strong; high, 10; low, 6; ruling rate, 10; closing bid, 6; offered at 7; last loan, 6.

Bar silver, $1.31. Mexican dollars, $1.00 1-4.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Bar silver, 74 5-8d per ounce. Money, 3½ per cent.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW.

January 23, at which time dealers from all parts of the country will meet to discuss their problems. The session this year will be of unusual importance, because of the many interesting phases which have developed during the past year. Experts in various lines will address the conference.

The Stock Market.

The market yesterday was without outstanding feature, although the trading in many of the listings was brisk and covered a wide range. The oil stocks were steady to higher, and Union sold up to $181.50; Republic Petroleum to 96 cents; General Petroleum to $164.75; United to 90¾ cents, and Associated to $118.50. United Eastern advanced to $4.15 and other industrials were in good shape. The bond market was rather weak.

Timely Tax Information.

An interesting and timely booklet, dealing with the personal property tax, and the effect of the Federal income tax on taxable bonds, is now in process of preparation by Blyth, Witter & Co. The aim of this booklet is to make clear in the mind of the investor just what securities he shall include in his income tax statement, and to give him a basis upon which to proceed. The pamphlets will be ready for distribution in about ten days.

This firm is also offering bonds of the recent $7,500,000 issue of the Canadian Northern Railway. These notes, which bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent., are payable in blocks of $375,000 each every six months, beginning June 1, 1920. Maturities up to and including December, 1921, will be offered on a 6 1-4 per cent. basis, while all other maturities will be sold on a 6½ per cent. basis. Arrangements have been completed whereby the bonds are payable in gold in the United States, so that the matter of exchange need not be a consideration. The bonds are secured by $10,000,000 worth of new equipment to be purchased by the Canadian Northern Railway, and will have a priority of payment over all other mortgage bonds, since the equipment to be purchased will be held in trust by the Girard Trust Company of Philadelphia, and title will not be delivered until full payment of the bonds has been made. The Security Mortgage Company is participating with Blyth, Witter & Co. in the issue.

The growing business of Blyth, Witter & Co. has made necessary further expansion of the local offices. Two new rooms have been acquired, adjoining the present quarters in the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Building. With these new offices, the floor space of the company will be increased by about 35 per cent.

Canadian Offerings.

E. H. Rollins and Sons are offering today a new series of bonds issued on the Victoria Island Reclamation District No. 2040, in the Stockton River district. William R. Staats & Co. are also participating in this issue. The bonds are arranged in serial maturities, to fall due: $60,000, July 1, 1920; $54,000, July 1, 1930 and 1938, and $24,000, July 1, 1939. The bonds will be sold on a basis to yield 5.40 per cent net to the investor.

E. H. Rollins and Sons are also participating in the $4,000,000 issue of Province of Manitoba bonds, which are being sold at $97.89, to yield 6½ per cent. Reports from Boston and New York indicate that the sale of these bonds in the eastern cities is proceeding rapidly. The interest and principal, when due, are payable in gold in New York. An interesting feature of this issue is that the province by which they are secured has the smallest per capita bonded debt of any Canadian province.

Return to Thrift.

From January 1, 1919, to December 1, 1919, the United States government sold more than $124,000,000 worth of Thrift and War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, according to a report made by the Treasury Department to the war loan organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, Oregon, one of the States of the Twelfth District, not only led in the district, but was fifth among all States and territories of the Union in the amount of securities purchased per capita. Sales for November throughout the country amounted to more than $8,000,000.

C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the war loan organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, declared that final reports for the 1919 sales of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, including Thrift Stamps will show a heavy increase in all States of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District for December, and especially in California, owing to the Christmas demand and the work of Masonic lodges, the State Elks' Association and other fraternal orders which undertook to boost the sales of government securities. The Treasury Department's report showing sales up to December 1 ranked Northern California twenty-sixth among the rest of the States of the Union and Southern California twenty-seventh. Ohio was first, with a per capita investment of $3.20, and a total investment of $16,988,766.

TRADING MORE ACTIVE ON PRODUCE MARKET.

CAULIFLOWER AND LETTUCE DECLINE; ONIONS AND POTATOES HIGHER.

The local produce market has recovered to some extent from the dull tone which has prevailed since New Year's Day, and yesterday's session was brisk, with retailers and peddlers out in force. Arrivals by rail and from the country were only moderate in quantity, and as a result prices held firm at Saturday's level for most products. Cauliflower, however weakened on account of the continued oversupply. The slump amounted to 15 cents per dozen heads, while the field crates fell 25 cents each, with a similar decline in evidence for the fancy shipping stock. Lettuce also moved to lower prices, owing to the poor quality of the majority of the offerings. The best stock sold at prices ranging from $1.25 to $1.40 per crate, with poorer stock selling as low as $1 per field crate. Peppers, supplies of which are growing very scarce, were higher yesterday. Bell peppers advanced to 17 and 18 cents per pound, while Chilis brought 14 cents per pound. Onions and potatoes continued their advance to higher prices. White Globe onions were selling yesterday for $5.50 per hundred, while the yellow and brown varieties were commanding $6 per hundredweight, an increase of 50 cents per hundred pounds for all varieties. Wholesalers advanced their prices for potatoes, following the upward movement of prices in the carlot market. Fancy Burbanks went up to $5.10 and $5.40 per hundred, according to quality and condition, with russets quoted at $5 and $5.15. The carlot market remained unchanged at Saturday's quotations. Sweet potatoes also advanced sharply, showing an increase averaging 25 cents per hundred.

MILO SALES ARE HEAVY; BARLEY REMAINS DULL.

Milo was again the outstanding feature of the local grain exchange, with sales totalling 2000 tons transacted during the session. Heavy receipts had a tendency to weaken the tone of the market at the opening of the session, but the bearish sentiment declined; trading became more active, and prices moved up under pressure of active buying support. Immediate shipment milo was from 25 to 30 cents per ton higher, with cars selling early in the session at $2.92½ and $2.92¾. Cars for 20 days delivery brought $2.98¾. The bid price for the track article at the close was $2.95, with the ask price holding firm at $2.98¾. Futures opened low at the beginning of the session, but closed high, January delivery reaching a point 50 cents per ton above Saturday's quotations. All January delivery brought $2.91½, and $2.95 all February $2.05¾, and $3.07½ and second half of March $3.16¼. Barley was practically unchanged, although the futures were slightly higher. Little interest was shown in barley, however, and there were no sales.

MAY OATS ADVANCE SHARP AT CHICAGO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Disappointing arrivals of corn and the fact that most of the local traders were short over Sunday, ended in an absence of selling pressure and active covering by the sellers of Saturday. Higher cash prices were also an important influence. Closing trades were at about the highest of the day with net gains of 2¼@2¾ on corn, 1-8@1 on oats and 3c on barley.

Sentiment in corn was bearish early while the news was in favor of higher prices, but at no time were prices lower than Saturday's finish. Forecast was for rain or snow over a good part of the corn belt. Local receipts and some of the commission houses who sold early took the buying side later and while there was selling against offers, it failed to check the upturn. There was some talk of export business.

May oats advanced sharply after a small decline early and at the top showed within 5-8c of the best price on the crop. Reports of 1,000,000 bushels being sold at the seaboard Saturday was the bull influence, coupled with the strength in corn.

Are You One of Them?

STANDARD OIL CO. OF CALIFORNIA is California's largest single oil company.

In 1918 it produced a total of over 22,000,000 barrels, or about 61,000 barrels daily. In 1919, it is estimated to have produced over 25,000,000 barrels, or 69,000 barrels daily.

Standard Oil operates 40 to 45 wells on the Baldwin and Temple "leases" in "Montebello Field." These wells produce about 27,000 barrels daily for that company, or better than 9,000,000 barrels annually.

These figures indicate unofficially that "Montebello wells," which "average" about 500 barrels daily, are producing more than one-third of Standard Oil's 1918 output and just about one-third its present—or 1919—output, larger though it was.

Standard 22,000,000 barrels for Standard Oil's 1919 output, all the wells in "Montebello Field," producing about 15,000,000 barrels, or one-seventh of Standard Oil's entire output in this State.

Our "Montebello Crude No. 1" well gives every healthy reason for us to expect better than "an average Montebello well," of 500 barrels daily. It is now over 6000 feet in depth. Oil sand depths are not far apart. Our 11 acres permits of at least 12 "average Montebello wells."

Can you judge any why an investment in "Montebello Crude," under your very eyes, is safer than one in Los Angeles—where you can visit and inspect it in person, rather than investment, with larger and more tangible possibilities than your original dollars, than anything a thousand miles away, about which you cannot "prove up" on and which you must take on "blind faith?"

OPPORTUNITY
Pre-Organization Memberships.

We have purchased a splendid factory site of eight acres just east of the new Moreland Truck factories, facing San Fernando Boulevard and running down to the S. P. R.R. track.

A modern Automobile Factory will be erected on this property for the manufacture of a very light Crawler type farm tractor, a revelation. Will also manufacture a very unique light motor truck and a high-class pleasure car. Architects are now working on plans and we expect to be in production by July. In order to effect a forceful and powerful organization we are creating a pre-organization membership of thirty members at $1000 each. The time to get into an industry is before organization; this and opportunities were never offered before. Investigate and you will become a member. We want live boosters, good salesmen. Call or address 505-507 March-Strong Building, or phone Broadway 7651.

CHURCH MAKES FINE SHOWING.

CATHOLIC CONGREGATION AT SANTA ANA IS NOW FREE OF INCUMBRANCE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Jan. 5. — Members of the local Catholic church are having a happy new year following the paying off of the church debt of $1130 by members of the congregation.

A recent bond drive cleared the indebtedness except for this amount and now the slate is wiped clean. The church has shown a steady growth the last seven years since the coming of Father Henry Eummelen. Seven years ago there were 113 persons in the congregation; now 254 permanent families are affiliated with the church.

MAYOR DEMANDS QUICK ACTION.

Will Condemn Harbor Land if Agreement Isn't Reached.

Won't Let Private Interests Halt Channel Widening.

"Government's Ready, We Must Clear the Way."

"From this time on there must be action and forward movement on the project for opening the way for the widening of the inner channel at the harbor, and the city must not be held up by any private interests in the development of its port. The city proposes to do the fair thing by any concerns that may be affected, but there can be no halt in its programme. The U. S. government is ready to proceed with the work of widening the channel, and we must clear the way for action."

This was the statement of Mayor Snyder yesterday, after a conference with representatives of the Salt Lake Railroad, Commissioner Fleming, chairman of the Harbor Commission; Commissioner Gordon, Secretary Guy Wade, City Attorney Purnell, and Deputy City Attorney Leach, for the harbor department, and representatives of the U. S. Engineer's office. The railroad was represented by Attorney Stephen Halsted, and the government by Col. Downing, U. S. Engineer.

The general plan is to secure from the Salt Lake a deed to its present holdings along the waterfront on the Terminal Island side, which are needed for the purpose of straightening the channel, and then to give the railroad a thirty-year lease on city-owned land along what will be the new waterfront, so that it may relocate its trackage and wharves.

The Salt Lake, however, has leased sites on the land proposed to be cut to the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company and the Blinn Lumber Company. These interests must be taken care of in any new arrangement, it is said.

Mayor Snyder clearly indicated that if a satisfactory agreement cannot be speedily reached he will favor the beginning of condemnation proceedings to acquire the lands.

A conference will be held this afternoon at the Mayor's office with representatives of the concerns holding the leases, for the purpose of learning their attitude.

BREAKS HER DATE.

Woman Jailed on Check Charge Has to Postpone Outing.

Mrs. Mildred Johnson, in the County Jail on a charge of passing fictitious checks, made an appointment for yesterday afternoon with a man in a local cafe, where there was music, dancing and plenty to eat. Later, however, she sent word that she would be unable to keep the appointment.

She was before Justice Hinshaw and her case was continued until Friday for introduction of testimony of handwriting experts. Mrs. Johnson says the checks were given to her by a man and that she did not know they were fictitious. She did not furnish bail of $500.

REVERSE DECISION.

Film Actress Wasn't on Lot Often, so Pay was Refused Her.

Department Two, District Court of Appeal, yesterday reversed the judgment by a jury in Judge Monroe's court of $2123.60 in favor of Lola May, a motion-picture actress, against the New York Motion Picture Corporation.

Miss May had a contract at $75 a week for one year from June 16, 1915, and an agreement that the corporation was to pay her $1300, at the rate of $25 a week, for an option on her services, at the salary of $125 a week, beginning June 16, 1916.

She, it seems, did not report at the studio, except on such days as she was in a picture, and in January, 1916, she was ordered to be there every day, whether she was working or not. She refused to follow these instructions, claiming her contract did not provide for any such attendance on her part, and when the pay was refused the suit followed

WHO PAYS FOR STOLEN SUIT?

Passenger Who Found Self in Sad Plight Sues Young Robber's Custodian.

A passenger who found himself in the sad plight of being on a Southern Pacific train with no clothes, his suit having been stolen by Thomas Aston, a ward of the Juvenile Court, yesterday filed a claim for damages against Probation Officer Timmons, the custodian of Aston. He bases his claim on the fact that Timmons removed his prisoner's clothing from his berth expecting by that means to prevent the youth from escaping. But the lad got away in the passenger's clothes. County Counsel Hill has advised Mr. Timmons that he is not liable for damages. Young Aston, who had been in the navy, was turned over to Mr. Timmons at the end of his service, to answer a charge of burglary at Long Beach. Mr. Timmons was bringing him here from San Francisco when he escaped.

WOMAN THOUGHT DEAD NOW OUT OF DANGER.

HOURS OF WORK WITH PULMOTOR AT HOSPITAL RESULTS IN SAVING HER LIFE.

Mrs. Emma Bender of 122 South Hicks street, who was resuscitated by the use of a pulmotor by Receiving Hospital surgeons after she had been given up for dead, was removed to her home from the hospital early yesterday. Although Mrs. Bender's condition was still serious, physicians stated that she was out of danger.

Mrs. Bender was carried into the hospital at 3:20 p.m. Sunday afternoon, suffering from gas poisoning and an overdose of morphine. She had been pronounced dead by several surgeons. Using a pulmotor for over nine hours, and refusing to give up hope that the woman could be revived, Assistant Police Surgeon Goodrich and nurses in the hospital fought for her life even after all trace of a pulse or heart beat had disappeared. After nine hours' work the woman began to recover. At 2:30 a.m. yesterday Dr. Goodrich announced that Mrs. Bender was out of danger and she was able to be removed to her home several hours later.

WON'T GRANT WRIT.

Court Refuses to Act on Appeal Against Medical Examiners.

The application of Dr. Thomas F. Glass for a writ of review to compel the State Board of Medical Examiners to pass on its refusal to grant him a license was denied by Judge Jackson yesterday. It was alleged that Dr. Glass, a tuberculosis specialist, used the columns of the Examiner to exploit his alleged successful treatment and this, in the eyes of the State board, "had a tendency to deceive the public," an alleged practice "injurious to morals and safety."

MARSHAL'S QUARTERLY PAYMENTS ARE HEAVY.

The quarterly statement of the expenditures of the United States Marshal for the period ending December 31, issued yesterday, shows that Marshal Walton has paid out $46,434.75, which is one of the heaviest quarterly payments within the past year and a half.

The itemized expenses are as follows: Salaries, fees and expenses, $8500.23; jurors, $5520.35; witnesses, $7642.19; keep of prisoners, $1278.50; bailiffs, $924.84; miscellaneous, $4897.63; salaries and expenses of the Attorney's office, $3168.44; regular assistants, $2525; district judges, $3750; circuit judges, $2125; salaries and expenses of clerk, $4227.34; increased compensation, $1875.33.

OPPOSE NO-PARKING PLAN.

At a meeting last night of the City Planning Association, which is devoting its time to the betterment of city conditions, the no-parking ordinance was condemned as not meeting the needs of the city. Members declared that the ordinance was a futile attempt to solve in one working the ills of the city for years.

One speaker said that the proposed law is a large bottle of medicine to be taken all at once instead of in small quantities. He stated that the cure would not prove successful and that the city would suffer.

As a solution of the problem the association advocated the opening of east and west thoroughfares. They stated that First, Second, Third, Fifth, and Eighth street should be opened to vehicle traffic and that if this is done, the congestion downtown will be relieved and parking would still be permitted.

That autos are here to stay and cannot be banished from the streets was the statement of one woman member. She declared that some solution must be found to permit them to move fast, but the proposed law was worse than the congestion. She favored single tracks on the downtown streets similar to those in the East, in which the cars move in one direction. This would save the middle of the street, she said, and would give more room. Large garages and municipal parking spaces were suggested as a solution also.

At the close of the meeting the chairman summed up the views of the association by saying that they believed something should be done but that the no-parking law was not the thing. Streets for the exclusive use of motor vehicles were advocated and strict enforcement of the present traffic laws was urged.

The association passed a resolution favoring the recent action of the Council in asking the City Attorney to draw an ordinance creating a commission on city planning.

KIRSTEN HAS GOOD ALIBI.

Disclosing what is declared by Sheriff's deputies to be an "ironclad" alibi, Paul E. Kirsten, accused of burglarizing the apartments of Mrs. E. O. Orchard of $30,200 worth of jewels, arrived here yesterday from San Francisco in custody of Deputy Sheriff Nolan. Through acquaintances here, Kirsten, formerly a salesman for a firm of wholesale rug dealers, furnished $2500 bonds in Justice Palmer's court, and was released.

When Dr. H. G. Peet, a retired physician, of 229 South Mariposa street, read of Kirsten's arrest, he and his housekeeper, Miss C. M. Reed, consulted a diary and learned that Kirsten was a guest at the Peet home from 1:30 p.m. until 10:30 September 11. The alleged robbery of Mrs. Orchard is said to have occurred at 4 p.m. Five persons at the Peet home say they saw Kirsten at the house at that hour.

"My arrest came about through delusions of my own mother," said Kirsten. "She is now and has been incompetent. I am her guardian. She took my picture to Mrs. Orchard, who looked at it and claims to have identified me as one of the men who entered her apartments. I understand that Mrs. Orchard said the men who robbed her wore masks. How could she identify me, then, from a picture, or at least, without seeing me? My mother is Mrs. Agnes Kirsten, and lives at 3629 Harvard boulevard."

SEEK HACKETT JURY.

Graft Case Up for Second Trial After Disagreement.

At adjournment of court yesterday afternoon a jury had not been selected to try William Hackett, police sergeant, indicted in connection with the municipal graft scandal last March. The jury is being drawn in Judge Houser's court. At a former trial, in which Horace Karr was the principal witness, the jury disagreed.

LOSES CHECK ACTION.

Company Can't Recover Funds Bank Paid on Changed Figures.

Judge Wood yesterday decided in favor of the Citizens' National Bank the unusual suit of the Glassell Development Company to recover from the bank about $10,000 alleged to have been paid on altered checks to an employee of the company.

The court held that other loosely drawn checks passing through without objection, and negligence on the part of the company in failing to sufficiently check bank returns and report to the bank formed sufficient reason for barring recovery.

STRUCK BY WOMAN'S AUTO, MAN MAY DIE.

Alva Schilling, 40 years old, of 1922 Santa Inez street, was probably fatally injured yesterday when he was run down by an automobile driven by Miss V. M. Hayes of 7417 North Alvarado street, near his home. At the Receiving Hospital he was treated for internal injuries and a fractured left leg and arm.

IN THE COUNTY JAIL.

Poley Roberts and Harry R. Fouks pleaded guilty to stealing goods from a freight car in interstate commerce before U. S. District Judge Trippet, yesterday, and were given nine months each in the County Jail. W. J. Temple pleaded guilty to wearing the uniform of a member of the navy without having authority to do so, and was given thirty days in the County Jail.

FOR BIGGER PENSIONS.

Osborne Notifies Martin that Bill has Passed House.

Congressman Osborne last night telegraphed Department Commander R. C. Martin of the G.A.R. that the Fuller pension bill passed the House yesterday and has gone to the Senate with bright prospects of being adopted. The telegram reads:

"Pleased to say that through efforts of friends of the Fuller pension bill and consent of Speaker Gillett, that measure was brought up this morning under suspension of rules and passed the House without amendment by a vote of 251 yes and fifty-five no. The pension bill carries $50 a month for all honorably discharged soldiers of the Civil War with service of ninety days, or less than ninety days if discharged for disability incurred in the line of duty; $30 a month for widows, and extends the limit of marriage ten years to June 27, 1915, and whether or not married more than once after death of soldier-husband; also increases the pension of minor children to $6 instead of $2 a month. Bill now goes to the Senate with good prospects of passage."

PHYSICIAN TRIES TO END LIFE WITH GAS.

"TIRED OF LIFE" HE SAYS AFTER BEING REVIVED AT THE RECEIVING HOSPITAL.

Dr. Charles Sargent, 49 years old, a graduate of the University of Edinburgh, was taken to the Receiving Hospital last night for emergency treatment following an unsuccessful attempt to end his life by inhaling illuminating gas in his room at 327 South Hope street.

After Dr. Sargent was revived he said he was "tired of life" but would not give any further reason for his act. He was known to have been despondent since last April, when his wife died.

Late yesterday afternoon, he entered his room and turned on the gas. Boris Karloff and M. Crevolin, who live in the same apartment-house broke open the door of Dr. Sargent's room, carried his downstairs and summoned the ambulance.

BURGLAR GETS JEWELS.

Loots House While Woman Reads in Room Downstairs.

A skilful "second-story man" robbed the residence of Mrs. Belle Burke, 1800 Westmoreland Place, of $1050 worth of jewelry last night without attracting the attention of Mrs. Burke, who was reading a magazine on the first floor of her home while the burglar was operating upstairs.

The thief climbed up and entered through a bedroom window on the second floor, according to Detectives Magness and Combs of University Station. Then he swiftly looted the rooms on the upper floor, knowing that Mrs. Burke was downstairs and might surprise him any minute. His job completed, the buglar silently made his exit through the same window.

Later Mrs. Burke had occasion to go upstairs. She found dresser drawers scattered about the bedrooms and her jewelry gone. Then she called the police.

REARREST MAYFIELD.

I.W.W. Suspect Taken in Case of Peddlers' Outfits.

Charged with violation of peddlers' license ordinance, Ben Mayfield was arrested by Detective Bartley on Terminal Island last night and lodged in the County Jail. He was previously booked weeks ago on suspicion of criminal syndicalism. He acknowledged membership in the I.W.W. but said he was newly-initiated. He was released upon his promise to appear in the county, according to Deputy District Attorney Kayes. He then went up in his old haunts at the docks, where he apparently occupied a "soapbox" from which he claimed he made his living. He failed to secure a peddler's license, though repeatedly warned by officers, said. The officer says that on his arrest

Children's Ailments

DISORDERS of the stomach and constipation are the most common diseases of children. To correct them you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Tablets. One tablet at bedtime will do the work and will make your child bright and cheerful the following morning. Do not physic your children by giving them castor oil. Chamberlain's Tablets are better and more pleasant to take.
